"I can look back and remember every detail of my first day as a Cadet at Camden Military Academy. I came in February of my 8th grade year and I was very nervous. When I got here, it was not long before I got into the swing of things. My new home was Delta Company with CSM Wilder. Believe it or not, he played a big role in my success here at CMA. My freshman year was the best Company Commander, Blake Holmes. Blake was one who I looked up to and he inspired me to become Captain my senior year.

LTC Heflin, my other Mentor, has also helped me more than anyone on this campus. He has always been there to lead me in the right direction and helped me reach the end of the road. As a result, I became the Battalion Major. It was not the position that I wanted or expected, but I was definitely happy with it. CMA has been the best thing for my life. When I came here, my grades were terrible and my behavior was even worse. CMA has molded me into the man I am now. Above all, the teachers at CMA help you to to improve and lead you in the right direction." Jake McGuire of Indian Land, South Carolina.
