

Wrestling is one of the most demanding sports in existence. A wrestler must have supreme strength, stamina, balance, agility, and speed. Additionally, each wrestler must make sure they "make weight" before the match.

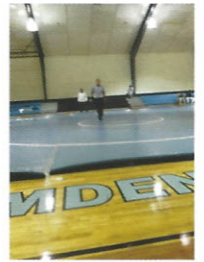

In order to meet these challenges, Coach Dority and Coach Borowski emphasize that each wrestler motivates themselves to "improve each day and finish what you start." This year, the team members were committed to this goal by diligently showing up for practice and finishing out with a strong season.

The Team Captains were Ray Gradwell, Logan Allman, Tad Misztal, and Ryan Figlow who kept their team members focused throughout the season.

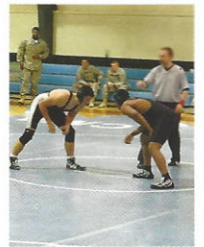

The highlight of the season was Trey Watkins and Joseph Flores placing second in the Cardinal Newman Christmas Classic

With strong persistence, Spartans, easily take the Knights to the ground.

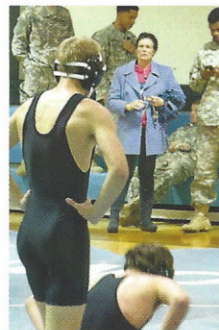

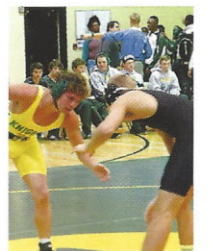

The Spartans get ready for battle, preparing to take down all enemies.

Logan Allman of Columbia, South Carolina prepares to take on the Knights.

Proudly wearing blue, Spartans work hard and finish hard to bring home the pin.

With sheer strength, Spartans overpower all adversaries.