

My time here was a very good learning experience. At first, I didn't realize that this school would provide structure for me. Yes, as anyone would expect, the first year was hard. I was so used to going off and doing my own thing and talking back. But then in the 10th grade, I started to get it. I still had a little trouble, but I figured, hey, if I just do what I'm supposed to do, I'll be OK. Then 11th grade rolled around, and I finally had a foundation. But I was missing the structure, so I pushed and pushed and now here I am as a senior Platoon Sergeant in Delta Company. I finally have my structure, and I am happy with what I have achieved in my time here. I know my family is proud, and I have so many people to thank.
