

Mikael Barker of Carlsbad, California goes for the win.

This wrestling season was one to never forget. I've been in amazing programs at other schools where everyone had been wrestling since they were 5 years old, and we were all individual state champions. This year at Camden Military Academy was even better. The two coaches and I worked with kids who began the season not knowing what a half, cradle, single leg, or even a double leg was. We all worked hard and most had a winning season. I battled through a tough injury, but my team always kept my spirits high by going out there and winning. Watching them compete and win was so much better than if I would have won. I've earned two state championships in the past, so seeing people who didn't know anything about wrestling go out there and whip a lot of seasoned wrestlers was so much more meaningful. This was the best season ever!
