

"Bravo Company has had its ups and downs this year. But as the year went on, more cadets were getting closer to one another and really began to buy into that concept that our TACs, 1SG Jackson and CSM Irtenkauf, were always talking about: brotherhood. We continued to work hard, persevered, and continued moving forward. We realized that the lessons we learn here at Camden are not just going to help us here at this school, but will help with whatever we choose to do in life. Battlin' Bravo will not quit."
