

"We are Delta Company. Though we may not be Honor Company, we are still the best company. Under CSM Wilder and 1SG Pearson, everyday is a learning experience. The Chain of Command works hard every day, whether that being before first call or after the last call, the Chain of Command is working hard. There are a lot of moving parts to a company, and we make it work through communication from the TACs to the four members of the Chain of Command. To be the best we have to strive to be the best."
