Coach's Words

"As has become the norm in recent years for CMA varsity basketball, we found ourselves with only two returning part-time starters, one player up from JV, and many new faces. The goal then became to mesh a team as quickly as possible to compete against the much more experienced/established teams we would be facing. One of the highlights of the season was a well-played game at home against perennial power Great Falls right before the Christmas break. After the break, the team struggled to regain their "mojo" before hitting a stretch that began with a close loss on the road at Orangeburg Prep where we actually outscored them from the field. We then had a six-point win at home against the Governor's School, followed by a 91-43 road win against Next Charter Eagle Ridge. Playing key roles for the team during the course of the season were Jackson Bell, Octaeivus Bunn (the team's leading scorer and rebounder) and Mark Jackson at guard; and, Ilan Efraimovich, Liam McNulty and Andrew Miller at forward. Strong contributors off the bench were Bryce Fleming, Michael O'Brien, JaVaughn White and Thomas Perry (who joined us very late in the season). Xiaori Liang, Aaron Pratt and Hans Vandenberg contributed with their great attitudes and effort in practice each day despite limited opportunities for playing time. Coach Darby and I would like to challenge all the underclassmen to work hard on their games in the offseason and be ready this coming fall to achieve a fulfilling season."

"We had a Dream Team this year. When we worked together, hustled, and just had fun, we were greater than we have been for the last 3 years. I was team captain and it was great playing my final year at Camden with these guys."
