CMA held its 8th annual Spartan Challenge in September when the five companies competed against one another at nearly 20 rotating event stations that test a range of skills—physical and mental, individual and team-oriented. Event stations are set up at the parade field, lacrosse field, football field, baseball field, the swimming pool, and the library area. This annual competition gives cadets the opportunity to practice leadership and cooperation “in the field”—so to speak—and to have fun doing it. Cadets display a large banner and wear t-shirts designed by and representing their particular company, both of which are judged on accumulative points at the end of the day. The championship concludes with a steak dinner and an awards ceremony announcing the winning company for each event and for the Spartan Challenge as a whole.
