

Mrs. Alfred Mae Drakeford, Mayor of Camden, was our honored guest speaker during the ceremony.

MLK Jr. Day 2017

moment of reflection

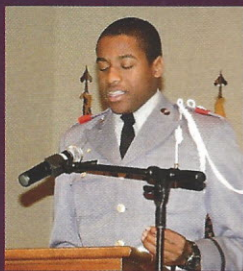

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. remains as one of the most important Americans in history, with his birthday celebrated as a day about civil rights. Speaking at Camden Military Academy's chapel was the newly-elected Mayor Drakeford, the first African-American and woman to hold that office. Chaplain Hunter and LTC Mobley also spoke to the cadets.

that

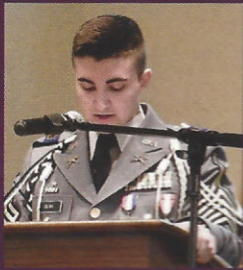

moment
when

McMillan Covington Jr. (Charleston, South Carolina) reading his favorite Bible verse to the Corps.

Nick Montgomery (Waxhaw, North Carolina) read the poem "Life's Tragedies" by Paul Laurence Dunbar

Mayor Drakeford was introduced by Battalion Commander Jake Dean (Waxhaw, North Carolina)

