

Cadet Trips

The annual trip to Washington, D.C., as well as regional trips to see performances, visit historical places, or go skiing and whitewater rafting, allow cadets to discover the larger world beyond Camden. These experiences "in the field" help to round out the learning and character formation that takes place here at the academy.

Ski Trip
 "The ski trips are my favorite time of the year. Not very many things are more fun than spending a weekend with your friends out on the mountain in the snow running up and down the slopes. When Austin Martin and I were snowboarding, we were asked to do a TV interview for a local news station in West Virginia! I love going out there and having a good time with all my close friends. Snowboarding is always the best time of my life!"

Trip:
 "The ski trip was pretty fun. The mountain didn't look good at first, but once I got on it I couldn't get off! I was happy that I had all of my friends there with me. When we got back to the hotel they had a pizza party for us. I'm happy that I got to go have even more fun with my friends." Luke Collins (Lexington, South Carolina)
