

THE PALMETTO

OLIN FELDER WOLFE
Jamison, S. C.

*"His work on Earth has just begun,
His monuments will later rise."*

First Censor and Secretary Sheridan Literary Society; Literary Editor "The Palmetto"; Vice-President Senior Class; Corporal 1920-'21.

Felder came to us in 1919 and entered the Junior Class. In this class he had a most terrible struggle with Algebra and Geometry. These were his "pet" subjects, but he was beside a Latin "shark". This son of Jamison is very loquacious around the campus but he is completely out of his element in the presence of the ladies. If close application count for anything, we predict that future years will find Felder occupying the chair of Latin in some large College or University. Beloved by everyone on the campus and many not on the campus, Felder well deserves the esteem of all. Our eyes shall follow him with keen interest as he continues his education in larger classic halls, and it is with every good wish that we bid him God-speed.
