

The Palmetto '23

Foreword

We, the class of '23, have looked forward for several years to the time when our issue of "The Palmetto" would be published. We have attempted, by pictures and reading matter, to depict for you life at Carlisle as we have found it.

There are a number of organizations for the promotion of the serious and sacred things of life, but there are also joys and pleasures in abundance.

The chief value of any institution lies in the influence which is brought to bear upon the lives of the students from day to day. We cannot picture that in our annual, but you will find it here when you come.

We realize that there are many imperfections and that we have fallen far short of our ideal, but we have done our best, and it is with that consciousness that we give to you the "Palmetto of '23."
