

Cross Sabre Club

The Cross Sabre Club is the oldest student organization at Carlisle—its origin dating back to the days when military was first being incorporated into the school's system.

The membership of this club is limited to the commissioned officers. These men are chosen as officers according to their seniority in years, scholastic record, character, and capability. The success of the school depends on its cadet officers for through these men the conduct, morale and general attitude of the student body flourishes.

The members of this club convene informally, with the cadet major presiding, once a week to discuss matters pertaining to the betterment of the school. As a result of these meetings this year has been one of great improvement.

Although the activities of this group are of a serious nature, they have their lighter moments. Our Thanksgiving dance was sponsored by these officers and their annual banquet, held in January at Orangeburg, was most successful.
