

SENIOR CLASS

WILLIAM RANDOLPH HILL

Manning, S. C.

"The Manning Monarch" gifted us by his basketball talents and the most celebrated indoor sport of "shooting the bull." "Billy" was a little late arriving this year, but soon made up for all lost time in every respect.

Basing our facts on what we've seen and heard, he seems to run second to no one in the race with the weaker sex.

43-44. Pvt. Co. B; Pfc. Co. B; Basketball; Literary Society.

JOSEPH KLINE HOLLOWAY

Florence, S. C.

Adding, by pun or subtle remark, the spark of wit to any conversation, Joe nicely balanced his sometimes reversed self with an appreciative sense of humor. Joe's abundant knowledge of military will make him a well-informed and entertaining soldier in just a few short months. Carry on, "Soldier"!

41-41. Pvt. Co. B. 42-43. Pvt. Co. A. 43-44. Pvt. Co. A; Corp. Co. B; Literary Society.

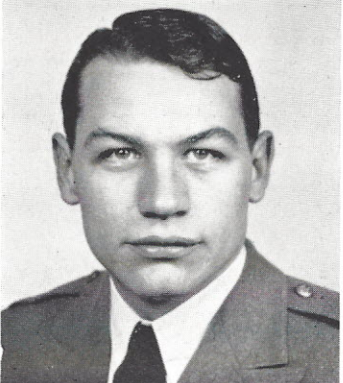

WILLIAM HERMAN HUNTER

Charlotte, N. C.

"Pluto" entered Carlisle as an ultra conservative son of North Carolina, but a great transformation took place and it soon was difficult to find him not smilingly contemplating some mischievous scheme. "Pluto" has made many real friends here, and we know he will make many more along the road of life.

42-43. Pvt. Co. A. 43-44. Pvt. Co. A; Pfc. Co. A.

RYAN TILMAN JACKSON

Swansea, S. C.

Another member of the proud Southern delegation was "Jack." His infectious smile and sincerity earned him a host of friends. His quiet confidence and uncanny ability for always doing the right thing were valuable assets. If battles are won on playing fields, count on hard-playing, quick-thinking, and level-headed Jack Jackson.
