

SENIOR CLASS

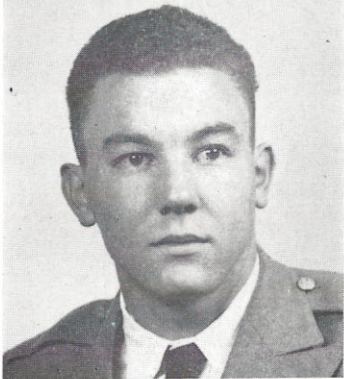

T. FRANK McCALL

Bronson, Fla.

Born and bred in the sunny south, "Womp" can always be considered a friend when the boys start a brawl. His love for sports, especially football, has proven to be a main factor in the success of the team. Although "Womp" is not a mental wizard, he has tried hard and has a well earned spot as a commissioned officer in the battalion. When "Uncle Sam" calls, "Womp" will always be in there pitching.

HARVEY H. MCGUIRE

Navy Yard, S. C.

Call it blind devotion if you like, but Harvey was always in there pitching for the things he believed in. To Mac there was just one South Carolina, just one Carlisle team, and just one O.A.O. To most of us who knew him, he was a quiet boy who had a strong sense of duty. Good luck, Mac.

LAWLESS GATEWOOD MCKENZIE

Ashland, Kentucky

From the hills of "Kentuck" came hedge-hopping, hitch-hiking, high-balling Lally—concentrated T.N.T.—with either football or basketball. Lally is not very studious, but he always manages to stay near the tip of the extra-night leave list. When the T.N.T. explodes, we know it will blow him right to the top.

GEORGE WILLIAM McMINN

Anderson, S. C.

"Lindy" came to Carlisle equipped with a quick sense of humor, a broad grin, and a desire to lead the easy-going life that he enjoyed at home. Studies were "fruit," so "Lindy" spent most of his spare hours on his bunk or in town. His invaluable companionship and his ingenuity in all fields will serve him well in the future.
