

We wish to take this opportunity to express our sincere appreciation to the following, without whose aid the publication of this annual would have been impossible:

Capt. D. A. Cromer, Literary Adviser, whose job it was to proof all of the copy and to help us over the rough spots in putting the annual together.

Capt. F. W. Dial, Business Adviser, who helped the business staff in financing this book.

Mr. Howard R. Jacobs, photographer, whose superb work is shown on every page of this annual.

Mr. J. H. Hardison, of the Edwards & Broughton Company, without whose technical advice and numerous suggestions, this book would not have been so successful.

Our advertisers and patrons, without whose support the large sum of money needed would have been impossible to raise.

THE STAFF.
