

DANCE COMMITTEE

The main social activity of any school is its dances and this year ours have been a big success. Dances are a form of recreation that a school of this type needs as it helps add to the spirit and morale.

Most of you cadets remember the first time you and your date came to the first formal of the year and you had an argument because you didn't want to go down the receiving line and she did, or was it the other way around? The final outcome was that you did go down it after Colonel Risher told you to hurry up and get it over with. We all remember the very first dance because that was the dance where the first year men tried to show off by acting as if they were "God's gift to women."

The majority of our dances this year were a great success, and we hope that the dance committee next year will be as successful in the planning of their dances.
