

SENIOR CLA

"Good day ladies and gentlemen, today we bring you the 1264th edition of the Patterson's Journal of the air, brought to you weekly over station WCMS by Rod Patterson, maker of Patterson's Cream Lotion for your hands.

"This afternoon's guest artist is Faltering Finchell, America's foremost newscaster. . . . And now Mr. Finchell."

Good evening Yankees and Southerners and all foreigners from the West. This is Faltering Finchell, your WCMS commentator, bringing you the news of the day. Today 20 years ago 69 geniuses led by Billy Faulk, now President of the Ace Hi Match Corp., graduated from Carlisle Military School.

Today we hope to bring you a brief resume of the progress or downfall of each cadet since graduation. . . .

Flash! Let's go to press. . . .

Georgia—(Special): Today the Corporation of the Lily Tulip Cup Co., managed by Will Barrett, J. B. Jackson, and Francis Smith, announced that Bill Buchanan has been dropped from the Company's payroll for failing to meet certain business requirements. However, Bill was immediately taken in as co-manager of the Henry T. Sheley Construction Company.

Washington—(Deadline release): According to a recent release by Jim McDaniels, American Federation of Labor Chief, the Farmers' Union under the guidance of Glen Cope and John Kennerly decided to raise the price of market pork to 4½ cents a pound.

Henry Cummings, chief of the C. I. O. coal workers, with the help of Congressmen Percy Porcher (Dem.-S. C.), and Eugene Ranno (Rep.-N. Y.), persuaded the President of the United States, Jack Boehme, to allow the state militia, under Col. Robert H. MacDonald, to quench the 18-year-old strike against the coal mines being waged under the leadership of Larry Burr.

New York—(Daily Bulletin): It is my personal opinion that Arthur Albrecht, Editor of the New York Times Newspaper, is covering up for the notorious gangster and underworld king, Harvey Krasner. If Albrecht doesn't like this statement and wants to sue me . . . let him join the line of "Suckers."

Washington—(Special): A release by Keith Kinard, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, states, "Late yesterday afternoon fourteen men led by Nick Detrino were sentenced to life by the court for the daring robbery of the United State's Mint. Defense council for the Treasury Department was headed by Furman Prickett, Jr., noted lawyer from South Carolina." Also in the courts today Bob Escue, former taxi driver, was found guilty of the illegal selling of narcotics and was sentenced to 30 days on the Virginia Chaingang.

To break the monotony of crime waves, I'll bring you a few "Photo Flashes" from the World of Society.

New York—(Regular): Tonight at the Metropolitan Opera House, Daniel Oakes' Productions present in person the talented Henry Spell, singing his way into your hearts, and dancing into your soul. . . . Be sure to see it.

Los Angeles—(Herald Release): According to an announcement by his publicity manager, Johnny Ulmer, the millionaire playboy Jimmy Mangum, renowned stock-car king and horse racing enthusiast, is engaged again. This is to be his 18th wife. Maybe this one will last.

Jacksonville, Fla.: Today the $50,000,000,000.00 Robert Patrick Municipal Hospital was completed, the hospital was named in honor of Dr. Robert L. Patrick, world acclaimed brain specialist. Complete plans for the enormous construction were drawn up by Walter C. Bearden, noted Asheville, N. C., architect.

Miami, Fla.—(Urgent): The world bowed their heads today at the death of John Doe, noted anthropologist. Complete funeral arrangements will be made later by the Paul Combs' Mortuary and Funeral Home. However, it has already been announced that the services will be conducted by the Right Reverend Herbert Moran, Jr. In all probability the body will be laid to rest in the million-acre Spencer Memorial Park, founded by Tillman Spencer, famous author and concert musician.

San Francisco—(Special): It has been reported that Leslie Allen, former Heavyweight Champion of the World, Merwyn Applegate, 1954 Mr. America, along with Bobby Glenn and Jimmy Holiday were all seriously injured in an explosion which took place in the Warren Reibel gambling casino in San Francisco. It is believed that the explosion was caused when a bottle of Johnson's Cough Syrup was accidentally knocked from the roulette table. The exact cause will be investigated by Charlie Layton, Earl Kersey, and Bob Malia, all of the F. B. I. If this bottle was the cause, the Grady Johnson Cough Syrup Co. can expect to handle a large suit against them. . . .
