

MILITARY

Under the direction of Capt. Waddy Thompson, P. M. S. & T., and Capt. William Scaffe, and with the assistance of cadet officers, the cadet corps has developed into a well-disciplined and well-trained military unit. As in past years, Carlisle is still under the ancient and honorable code of arms.

Each school day in the week we have the sometimes monotonous but valuable drill. On Saturday, we have a rigid inspection of barracks along with a personal inspection. Sunday afternoons are reserved for the formal dress parades in which the cadet corps displays its skill and proficiency before proud parents and friends. Besides the daily drill, inspection, and parades, the students attend classes twice a week in which they receive military training.

We feel that the training we receive will help us a great deal when we must face the many problems of life.
