

PROPHECY

attempting to destroy the 'Axe and Sickle Club,' which housed two hundred top brass Russian leaders. They were later freed in a card game, with Albrecht's skilled fingers winning their freedom. As the allies entered Moscow, Arn was seen on the Kremlin steps taking candid shots of the national heroes, as they received the 'Chartreuse Heart.' They were Bauer for frost-bitten bunions; Jimmy Clark, wounded while selling Stalin an accident policy; Corbin, loss of cerebrum; and Driggers, married in action."

"And now for a detailed analysis of the war in Russia we hear from Maurice Bellinger."

"Here in downtown Moscow, the celebration is well underway. Captain Horrible Hubert Smith, leading his 200-piece band, is being followed by Alan Rozon and his 'Old Timers,' featuring Schenck on the mandolin. MPs for the occasion are Boatwright, Buckingham, and Cothran."

"Other news of a quieter nature. . . . A crime committee met today, and cabinet members Beam, Wallace, True, and Sires agreed on Vincimyske being sentenced 50 hours t.b.w., and also brought before the committee a case involving Nick Tucker and Cecil DuRant and the front line mail delivery. The charge was for demanding fees on letters delivered to the front lines. This case was brought before the committee by Lt. Jimmy Swindell after he received his latest 'Dear John.' The celebration season is taking heavy tolls with mob scenes resulting frequently, the most recent of which is said to have started when Pvt. Louis Grantham and Sgt. Bobby Brown were served grits in a local cabaret. Injured in the disturbance were Pvts. Coleman, DePew, and Featherston."

"MP'S Fred Knight and Rice immediately placed the men under arrest, and they will remain in Guildsky Hall indefinitely. Medic Truluck reported their conditions as rare. Captain Bill Pipkins and his fighter squadron of cracked pilots, including Stevens, Rogers, Noel, R. and Morris, have been awarded the 'Distinguished Flying Cross-Winds,' for gallantry beyond, and above their general orders."

And now back to the newsroom of WCMS!! . . . "Now for the inevitable commercial end to radio programs, and to end it all, here is Harold Johnson."

"This is Harold Johnson asking you to try 'Fleeties,' the new breakfast cereal that 'develops manly men.' Listen to these words by the outstanding sportsman of the day, Moco McCord. In a game like marbles, you must have vigor, vitality, and zest. That's why I say, eat 'Fleeties,' the cereal that 'develops manly men.'"
