We feel that we are speaking for the entire Corps of Cadets when we say that one reason for our being proud of our school is that we are proud of our teachers. The Carlisle faculty is made up of men whom we respect and admire, not only as instructors and educators, but also as companions, counsellors, and gentlemen. Although there may be times when some of us do not show it, we do appreciate them, the knowledge, training, and skill with which they handle us, and the helping hand that is always forthcoming.
