

CLASS WILL

We, the Senior Class of 1956, having been declared as sound of mind and sane in senses, do hereby declare this as our last will and testament.

ARTICLE I

To the faculty we leave our thanks and appreciation for all that they have done toward producing the most incomparable class ever.

ARTICLE II

To the Junior Class we leave the honor of becoming Seniors.

ARTICLE III

To the poor unfortunate rats and underclassmen we leave our most-cherished possessions and traits.

ALLEN leaves to all his admirers of wisdom this saying. "Never let studying interfere with your social life."

AUSTIN leaves his love and understanding of physics to Clancy. AVERY endows his holey socks to Burnett who has washed them all year.

ADYLOTTE wills to Joe Kershaw the window of their beloved room with its three missing window panes.

BENDANA bestows his ability to play baseball to the next Central American boy who comes to Carlisle.

BETHEA bequeaths his love for progressive jazz, blondes, T-Birds, bourbon, New York, Bird Land, The Air Force Academy, Charleston and especially Ivy League clothes to two people who he knows love and admire them as much as he, Joan and Graham.

BRAGG bestows upon his very efficient roommate, Clancy, his ability to write out reports legibly.

BRAWLEY leaves to Johnson his ability to go to Columbia every week-end and to Reeves his good looks and ability to have parties all night and sleep all day.

BROWN, R. D., bestows upon his roommates, Dixon, J. M., and Nelson, the ability to drive a car in Bamberg without a license, and not get caught.

BYRNE leaves his ability to stay away from women to Arazie.

CALLAHAN gives the name of "Toe" to Campbell.

CLAY endows upon Hudson his ability to have long hair and not get stuck, and to Bill Ballenger and Ralph Dixon his ability to make out with the Bamberg women.

CLIFTON leaves to Harrell, W. R., the ability to play and get away.

COLLINS leaves his ability to graduate to Clancy, in hopes that he will do it some day.

CORONEAS bestows upon Charles Lassiter his ability to pull furloughs and to "shoot the bull".

DEROSE bequeaths to his brother, Charlie, his uniform and corporal stripes.

ELKS endows Herb Kinsey with his ability to stay in trouble.

FITZ bestows upon his roommate, McDevitt, his skill and technique at lovemaking and wishes him the best of luck in everything.

FORD endows Tomlinson his ability to pull extra night leave twice in one week.

FOX wills his ability to get out of trouble to Arnold Postell, who needs it.

GIBBS endows Owen Bullard his ability to drink and smoke, and still play basketball.

GOFF bestows upon Maj. M. Carson Sturgeon his dictionary.

GREENE leaves his ability to ruin perfectly good radios to anyone who cares to do so.

GUZMAN bestows upon Charlie DeRose 6 inches so he can get in the best company, B.

HAITHCOCK leaves to Storey and Hand the Skyline Club, the Web, and his hair clippers.

HALL, K. A., leaves his name of "Sackbird" to McDevitt.

HEATLEY bestows his bed upon Bagley and hopes that he sleeps much better in it than he did.

ISAACS does hereby leave all the rats in A company to clean room 182.

JONES leaves the whole "john brown works" to Iseley in hopes that he will keep a good brass and shoe shine while he is away at college having a ball.

KELLY leaves the hours of 2:00 to 4:00 P.M. quiet, so Grandma can get her sleep.

LAYTON bequeaths the job of doing away with the bugler to some underclassman.

LONG—I, Charles Long, do hereby leave my ability to stay out of trouble to Thomas Smolenski.

LUND wills his ability to try and play basketball to Lama. LUTHREN bestows his luck to be on the staff two years to any lucky boy, and leaves his typewriter to Col. Grimes and next year's staff.

LYDA leaves to his roommate, Roger D. Cole, this school for the rest of his years here.

MACHAMER wills Pope and Smith, S. D., his mystery and suspense novels.

MAGRUDER bestows upon Sammy Hand his ability to ride a motorcycle, in hopes that he won't break his neck again.

MAURICIO endows Chabot, B. W., his ability to give the shaft to a girl.

MELZER bequeaths his ability to break all rules and regulations and get caught to Carson, Myers, and Lambert, J. N.

MCDONALD bestows upon Graham (from Charleston) Tomlinson his extra glass of milk.

NEDELL wills to Lama his frozen thumb in hopes that he will never make use of it.

OAKMAN bequeaths all of his dirty socks to Hickman who has washed them all year.

OEFFINGER wills Lambert, J. N., all of his empty tubes of tooth paste.

OGDEN bestows upon Lambert, J. N., his ability to sleep during study period and not get caught.

OLSEN wills Guilds Hall to General Sherman, in hopes that he will return from the dead and finish the job he started on it.

PARKER leaves his room to Billy Strock and Jimmy Harrell with hopes that they won't have to serve restrictions in it as much as he did.

PERRY endows his M. P. hatcovers to whoever can keep track of them.

POSEY leaves to all future A Company Commanders the hard work, sorrow and heartache, but most of all the honor and privilege of being Captain of the best company at Carlisle.

RIKARD wills to Joe Brabham his ability to run the company and turn the coke machine upside down in the hall at midnight.

ROURKE leaves Room 25 to Col. Risher in hopes that someday he will remodel it and help Vincent with his still-behind the press.

SCHULZE bequeaths B Company to the next lucky commander. SEABROOK bestows upon Whittle his ability to stick it out at Carlisle.

SILVA leaves his Spanish-American translation dictionary to Captain Estes.

SIRMANS bestows upon Col. Risher the sweat from his dress uniform, produced at dress parades, and also his eminent ability to break barracks to Harrell, W. R.

SMITH, E. C., bestows upon Tomlinson his address book with all the chicks names that he hasn't had the pleasure of dating, since he is going steady with Cookie.

SMITH, H. W., wills his ability to room with a captain for two consecutive years and goof off all this time to Ivey.

STOVER bestows upon Cregg his books of Napoleon's love affairs.

STROMAN bequeaths the Supply Depot and the armory to some lucky boy, and to his Mother his hard-earned diploma.

TAYLOR leaves his ability to be restricted and still go on leave to Jack Dunham.

THARPE leaves his ability to pull furloughs to the Greenwood troupe, Leary, Pracht, and Masters.

VOORHEES wills one truck load of dry diapers, in hopes that they will be put in storage.

WALTER, CARROLL, endows his restrictions upon his roommate, Gause, hoping he has better luck than he did.

WALTER, CLAYTON, wills to Ray Harrell his bed in hopes that it will not get any harder.

WARRENFELLS bestows upon McKinnon his ability never to get away with anything.

WHITE wills to Jim McKinnon his ability to catch large moths on third section, and to keep a hotplate in his room to cook them on.

WILSON bequeaths to Captain Risher, L., his nickname of "Beak", in hopes that his daughter won't carry it on.

WINTERS—To my advisors I leave the guidance and comfort of their own advice. To the class of '57 I leave them best wishes, and the best of luck in college algebra.

WITTER bestows his ability to soldier and to be serious at all times to all future cadets.