The Carlisle Orchestra is a twelve-piece ensemble which specializes in dance music, but is known to play a few novelty tunes from time to time. The Brigadiers played for several March of Dimes Dances and received much praise from the Corps. The Brigadiers have proved that they can give an excellent performance whenever they play. The band usually has a few engagements in and around Bamberg, and they have also performed outside of the city. The Brigadiers prefer to play as a whole unit but can be broken down into "combos" when this is called for.
