THE HONOR COUNCIL

The Honor Council is composed of seven cadets: the company commanders, the captain adjutant, and the Cadet Major. Major Waddy Thompson is the faculty advisor of this organization.

The duty of this group is to assign judicial punishment. In such a case the party is given a hearing by the Honor Council and all the evidence, testimonies, and witnesses are brought together. The verdict and punishment is then reached by the Honor Council and is turned over to the Headmaster for his approval.

This organization at Carlisle is the most respected of all. Great responsibility is given to this group and discipline of the corps depends upon them.
