RADIO CLUB

The Radio Club, composed of boys showing an interest or special ability in the field of electronics, is another worthwhile organization here at Carlisle.

Using their own tools, equipment, and spare time, the members of the Radio Club construct elaborate hi-fi and stereo outfits for their rooms. While doing this, they receive valuable knowledge and experience, and many of the boys will later go into this field as a career, better prepared to do their job by having engaged in this activity during their stay at Carlisle. The Radio Club is, undoubtedly, a very noteworthy organization, and we are proud to have such a group on our campus.
