TRAINING CADRE

To the training cadre and its officers is handed one of the hardest jobs of the school year, training the new rat class. The members of this cadre must be well chosen for they are the ones who give the rat class their first impression of Carlisle. How the first year men respond to orders and barracks life the whole year, depends largely on the training they receive the first six weeks. We feel that this year's cadre has lived up to the responsibility given to them.
