

Would you like to make Christmas real this year? Would you like to make the meaning of Christmas come alive? Most people would. Everyone likes a celebration and about everyone wants to really celebrate this great season we call "Christmas."

This important season will come alive for you as you are filled with the joy of Christmas. In every way we try to have a good time and be real busy. Yet, the joy of Christmas must be more than "this day." When we really work ourselves as "day in the world," we are angry about the joy we have in knowing that Christ has come through about this broken and torn world where so many things have gone wrong and where we have done so many things which that he came to straighten it out and repair the damage and heal the scars of life. The joy is knowing that Christ came to reach for us and this world we are living in that He came to save it from the evil destruction. It will be in our hearts how important we are to God and what He has been willing to do for us.

Also, you can make Christmas come alive by sharing the spirit with others in your group, your family, your friends, wherever you go. We exchange gifts, attend parties, sing Christmas carols and discuss to ourselves what the spirit of hope and good will is all. Every greeting and every gift ought to speak this language, the language of peace and good will. When you feel someone " Merry Christmas," you really are saying to that person that you forgive him all the wrong he has done you and that you want to live in this light all year long.

Christmas is the celebration of Christ's birthday. St. Luke first told us of this birth in the pleasant and simple language we can read. The birth seemed to be so common and ordinary. But it is in one that was announced by the angels that night to those shepherds who, having heard, came and worshipped Him. It was attended to the wise men who had read the scriptures of that they came with their gifts in their admiration. Since that day, millions have found the true meaning of this event.

As we celebrate Christmas this year, let us remember that love came to earth that night that night that brought us our history so the could be our destiny. For the same to us on the eve of our lives on earth.

The Carlisle Bugle is, as its name implies, the mouth-piece for each and every note of campus news and nitty. Printed quarterly, the Bugle serves the dual function of keeping the cadets and faculty up-to-date on the most recent goings-on, as well as providing a testing ground for any literary fledglings who wish to "try their wings."

Through the years, Captain Watson and his staff of reporters have done a splendid job, keeping the corps of cadets posted on past, present and future events. Their service to the school is both interesting and invaluable, and they deserve the highest commendations for their efforts.
