

Go get it! After being caught in the hall sweep, sophomore T.C. Kittrel walks to room 140 to get a pass. "I give over 300 tardy passes everyday to mostly the same students. I just wish that they could get to class on time," Mrs. Ulmer said.

But Please! "I swear I was in the class before the bell rang," sophomore Kelvin Mitchell says. His tardiness occurred everyday, like many students who showed up for class with a pass everyday.

"My worst excuse ever would have to be that I didn't have anything to wear, so that's why I was late."

-Takeya Mitchell, 12th

"I would have to say I make about twenty-one excuses in a week, about a lot of things, like my homework."

-Joshua Lyons, 10th grade

Caught in the act! Aimlessly wandering the halls, freshman Justin Reeves gets stopped, but luckily his agenda saved the day. His pass kept him out of trouble, this time.
