

Senior Travis Adams prepares himself emotionally while waiting his turn to give blood. Many students donated blood at the blood drive, and it was definitely a success and a privilege for students.

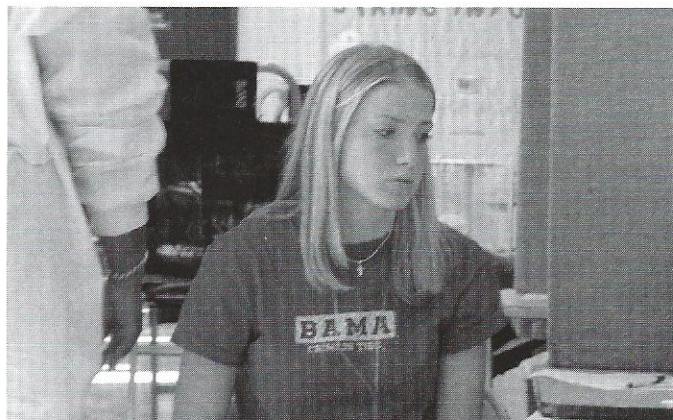

NHS members stood silently while holding their candles. These candles represented the students ability to light the world. "That evening a special event took place, and I will always remember it," junior Maegan Causey said.

COOL THOUGHT

"I WAS VERY SURPRISED WHEN I RECEIVED MY ACCEPTANCE LETTER. I LOOK FORWARD TO BEING MORE INVOLVED IN MY SCHOOL AND COMMUNITY. I AM ALSO EXCITED ABOUT BEING A PART OF THE TRADITIONAL POWDER-PUFF GAME THIS YEAR. I HAVE NEVER CONSIDERED BEING A CHEERLEADER UNTIL NOW! ALL IN ALL NHS IS AN HONOR TO BE A PART OF."

LEE STROUD, JUNIOR

These students volunteer to help during the Radio premiere at Ivanhoe Cinema movie theater. These NHS students were able to experience the movie before most of Waltherboro did.

Senior Mamie Foreman fills out a questionnaire before she gives blood. All students were required to fill out questionnaires. "Yes I like NHS. It's a great organization. I gave blood because I knew I had some to spare and someone out there needed it," Mamie said.
