

Heading toward the basket Brittney Hamilton goes for the shot. "I always get in the right state of mind and put everything in to it with a determination to win", she said.

The Love of the game

Dribbling down the court, heading towards the basket, the crowd began to yell. Preparation for the shot begins, it was up...up...and it was in!" "I love to play home games were the crowd can cheer me on to the victory shot," junior Ashley Freeman said.

With very challenging practice the girls basketball team had a lot of hard work and a variety of drills they had to do before they could prove themselves. "Before and during the game, I stay focused by just relaxing," sophomore Kia Owens said.

With an experienced coach and new players, the obstacles that the team had to overcome were difficult. However, the team played strong. "I think the basketball team is going to be a success because I feel that Coach Browning knows what she is doing," freshman Saletta Hills said.

"As J.V coach, I try to treat each girl with respect and in turn they will treat me with the same respect. All I ask is 100% effort," Mrs Browning said.
