

Moore's employee, junior Dahlia Desantiago checks the price on a pair of shoes. "Moore's was my favorite place to work because it was the only place I have ever worked," Dahlia said.

Junior Derek Andrutat busily bags groceries for a Bi-Lo customer. "Bagging groceries was the easiest part of my job as long as the customers were nice," Derek said.

Dominos employees, seniors Vickie Hoff and Jessica Breedlove take pizza orders over the phone. "This was the only job I could find where I got paid to talk on the phone," Vickie said.

Senior Jessica Anderson, a Foodland employee, studies her customer's coupons to make sure they pay the right amount. "It was important to be fair when dealing with customers because without them, I would not have a job," Jessica said.

Arby's employee, senior Emmanuel Memminger dashing smiles as he takes his customer's order. "I always smiled like that when I was working. I just couldn't help it," Emmanuel said.

