

Spinning its way to the top, this grey '89 Cadillac, owned by senior Herbert Fennell, won the title of Most Special Features. He spent over $2500 to specialize his car and was not finished yet. "I put so much time into my car that I think it is the best car at the school," Herbert said.

Cruising on cloud nine, junior Cameron Price rides along in her 2000 Burgundy Cougar. After graduation she planned on trading her car in and getting an updated Jeep Cherokee. "I practically begged my parents for this car, and since it was not too expensive, I got it," Cameron said.

Propped up against his baby, junior Jeffrey Ament poses by his Ford F150. He spent nearly $5000 to specialize his ride, and then traded it in for another truck. "I ride by my truck at the dealership every day and feel sad, because I want it back," Jeffrey said.

Looking nice, junior Jamie Polk's 2000 ZR2 gets him around town. His truck, bought in July, has had $2200 worth of features added to it. "What can I say? I love my truck. Driving it was when I had time to myself," Jamie said.

Leaning on the scene, sophomore Elton Brown proudly sports his 1996 Red Ford Mustang. With 15 inch chrome rims, it often takes the center of attention. Past down from his mother, he always knew that it would soon be his. "I knew ever since middle school, that once I got my license it would be mine," Elton said.
