

Setting up for the tackle, the boys concentrate on who has the ball and what the other team will do. They acted and thought quickly. "We have to keep our eyes on the ball just incase the other team tries to trick us," freshman Vincent Edwards said.

It's Show Time!

In blue, silver, and white, the football squad began to power up for a new season. "I loves playing football because it was fun, breath taking and it took effort, hard work and commitment," freshman Zakary Nadzack said.

The players realized that they had to work hard and be dedicated. "For those who never played football but wanted to play, my advice to them was to do as they were told. They have to be willing to learn," sophomore William Cannon said.
