

Patiently waiting to get in the game, the seniors watch the game from the sideline. "It was funny because one of the juniors slipped and fell," former senior Margaret Smith said.

WOMEN IN ACTION!

The crowd went wild as the Powder Puff game began. "I think the seniors are going to win, because we practiced more, have more players, and we have better skills," former senior Tommie Chisolm said. Well the game ended up as Tommie had predicted, the seniors won and deserved it. Between turnovers the students sang and danced to the latest music. The half time entertainment gave everyone a good show. Four male cheerleaders came out onto the field wearing their most elegant attire. The one with the most applause, Lee Stroud, won Homecoming Queen for the Powder Puff game.

-Faith Crosby

Making fun of the other team, former junior Leah Ellison laughs after she makes the one and only touchdown for the juniors. "It was funny because at first we thought we were going to win but instead we lost," Leah said.

Former junior Josh Lyons touches up his make-up before halftime. "It was embarrassing in the uniform, but it turned out to be lots of fun," Josh said.

