

1. Senior Jamile Cochran watches while one of his teammates goes to pass him the ball. "I play guard and forward. The guard is the person who handles the ball, and the forward plays the outside and the inside," senior Jamile said.
2. Junior Daval Johnson runs with the ball. "I play shooting guard because I'm one of the small players," Daval said.
3. Senior Andrew McAlhany stops and looks for someone to pass the ball to. "I play forward, which means I play down low by the rim," Andrew said.
4. The team huddles for a game plan for the next play.
5. Team players Daval Johnson, Darien Campbell, and Andrew McAlhany set up to get the ball back. "I've played basketball for three years," senior Andrew McAlhany said.

Getcha Head In The Game

The Colleton County basketball boys put a lot of effort and time in practice. They made it known that playing as a team will either result in winning or losing. "I think the easiest team was Stratford," senior Devin Clayton said. Being on the team required talent, not the height you were or how big you are. Another thing that kept the team together was grades and discipline. In the end the hard work they put in practice and the games payed off.
