Like every school year there were many new beginnings and endings for students here at Colleton County. As a freshman, students experienced their first day of high school, filled with new ambitions, dreams and hope. It was an atmosphere full of unfamiliar faces, surroundings, opportunities, and ways to get into trouble. In between settling in and finding your place you build new relationships with classmates, knowledge and foundations for the future. You learn to broaden your horizons and exceed your own expectations. As the years pass you mature throughout the experiences. Some friends that were made were also lost, some classes proved to be a little too hard, and your dreams you started high school with mold into new ones. Before you know it, it is senior year and you're finding a new outfit for your last dance on the gym floor and ordering graduation attire for that big day at the stadium. All that's left to do is keep the memories you've made and prepare to make new ones. As the final days approach you sit back and realize that through the pain, laughter, wins, and losses you gained one thing you'll keep with you forever. High school has taught you to step out of the shadows and let the real you shine to the rest of the world. Your freshman, sophomore, junior and senior years were all preparations to what's in the world after high school. Living life, taking chances, making life long memories, and forming big dreams is what it's all about. It's up to you to outshine the shadows of yesterday.

STUDENT LIFE

Summer [FASHION]

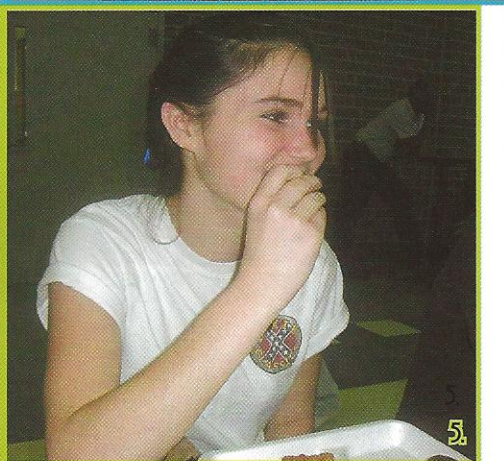

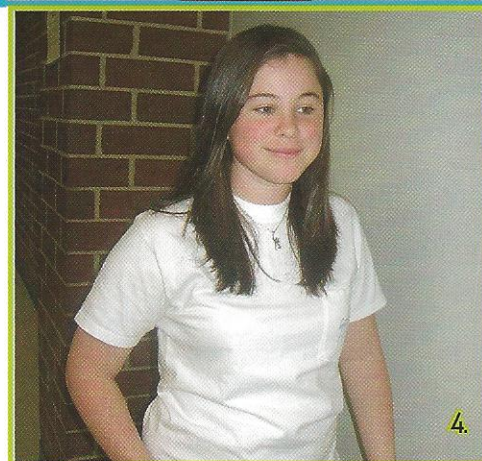

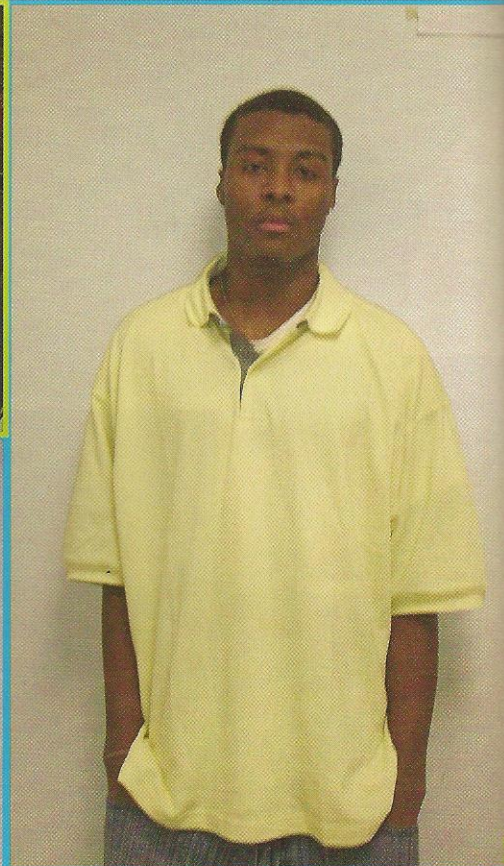

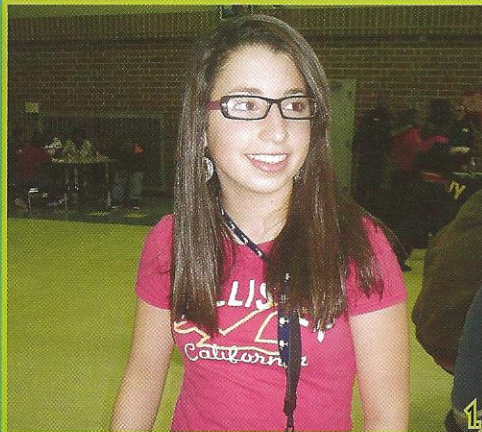

1. Freshman Anna Crosby was waiting in line at lunch. "During the summer I like to wear soffe shorts, T-shirts and flip-flops," Anna said.

2. Sophomore Shawndell Drayton was on the way back from lunch. "I mostly wear T-shirts and basketball shorts during the summer because it's comfortable," Shawndell said.

3. Junior Keneon Francis was standing in the hall waiting on a friend. "I wear American Eagle, I'm different and unique," Keneon said.

4. Senior Heather Beach was heading to lunch. "I like to wear shorts, T-shirts, and flip-flops the most during the summer," Heather said.

5. Freshman Kristie Crosby was enjoying lunch. "During the summer I mainly wear shorts and a T-shirt or anything Aeropostale," Kristie said.

Summer fashion is a big thing for girls and guys. Everybody loves to dress for the occasion. There's different styles of shorts, skirts, tanks, swimsuits and a lot more things. The main thing that everybody was thinking about was staying cool and being fashionable at the same time!

Winter [FASHION]

1. Johnathan McAlhany was waiting for the bell to ring so he could get to class. "I like winter a lot more than summer, my style is a mix between Goth and Emo," said freshman Jonathan.
2. Matthew Andrews was hanging out in the hall with his friends. "I usually wear long John sleeves so I don't have to wear a coat," said junior Matthew.
3. On the way to class Drittney Nesbit stopped to take a quick picture for the yearbook. "I really don't like those puffy coats, I always wear just a regular jacket in the winter," said freshman Drittney.
4. Senior Dillion Risher was taking to a friend. "During the winter I mainly wear a Carhart jacket and jeans with duck boots," Dillion said.
5. Freshman Christian Murdaugh was telling a friend about her most recent news. "I wear jeans, Carhart jacket and Sperrys or duckboots. My favorite brand name is American Eagle," Christian said.

Dundling up for winter is becoming more about warmth with style than just looking cute, but this winter its been pretty warm outside so the need of big puffy jackets aren't really necessary. The girls tend to wear thin long sleeve shirts with cute jeans and it's pretty much the same for the guys. As always though the flip-flops are wore year round.

We've Got Spirit! How About You?

Spirit Week

What day did you enjoy the most? Tacky day? Opposite day? Spirit Day? Whether you enjoyed it or hated it, you knew that Spirit Week would soon be approaching and each year something different would happen. This person's outfit would be tackier than the year before and that person's outfit would be more spirited than the outfit they were going to wear the following year. "I like Spirit Week. It's a way to express yourself," sophomore Della Mack said. "If there were none, it would take away from the celebration of homecoming." The commotion lasted five days but the memories will last forever.

-Amanda Pinckney

1. Freshman Hunter Mart takes a picture during lunch on opposite day. "I liked opposite day because I got extra credit for dressing up," Hunter said.
2. Seniors Richard Sadler and Deborah Dartley dressed as twins. "I thought me and my twin were really cute," Deborah said.
3. Junior Schuyler still hangs out after school on tacky day. "You can dress completely tacky, and no one can say anything about it," Schuyler said.
4. Sophomore Jarrod Riley and senior Faith Bryant were about to eat lunch. "This is the only day you will ever see us like this," Jarrod said.
5. Senior Justin Weber walks down the hall dressed like a girl. "Me and my girlfriend switched clothes. It was kind of cold that day," Justin said.
6. Sophomore Ashley Shider and sophomore Della Mack dressed up for opposite day. "I love opposite day," Ashley said.

"I think senior tailgating should be for all seniors because if it weren't then half of the senior class couldn't go," said Joseph.

1. All of the girls gathered around for a photo opp. "We all had a good time, there weren't too many adults. Everyone just kind of chilled," senior Melissa Cheshire said.

2. Seniors Drian Petit, Jacob Varn, and Miles Crosby talked and ate on the back of Jacob's car. "Basically, all I did the entire day was eat and eat some more," Jacob said.

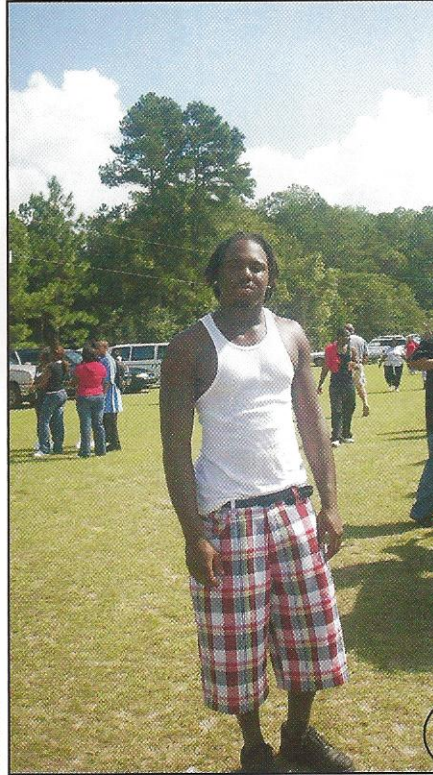

3. Seniors Brittany Allis, Kara Stephens, and Shakera Shider grouped up between events to take pictures. "My favorite thing was not having any rules and to spend time eating good food with all my friends," Shakera said.

4. Senior Zachary Singleton was caught off guard on his way to his group. "I had a great time getting out of class and having a good time with all of my friends," Zachary said.

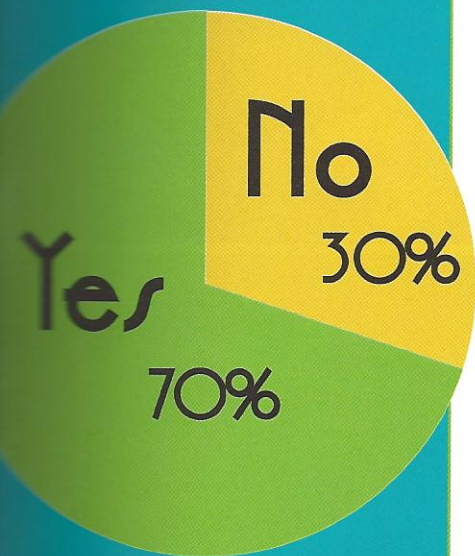

Jocelyn Grant

"I think the tailgating party should be a senior privilege because certain seniors are immature and don't deserve the privilege," said Jocelyn.

Do you think senior tailgating should be for ALL seniors?

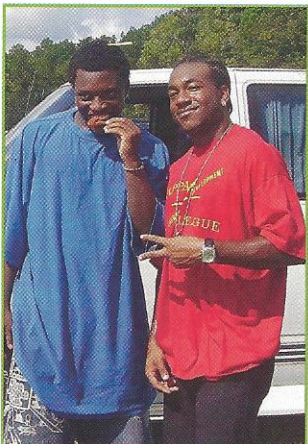

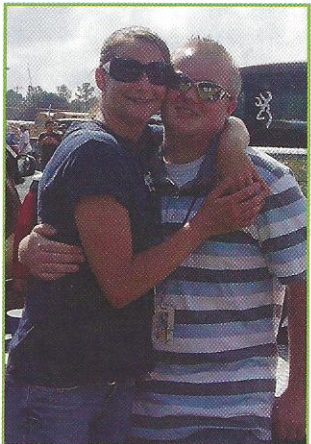

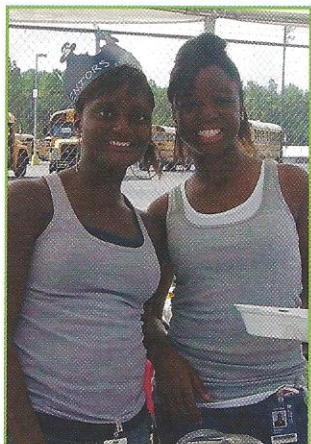

Who's Bringing What?

Senior Tailgating

Senior tailgating has been a tradition for as long as many of us have known. Every year seniors got together and cooked out for a while. Deciding on who was bringing what stirred up a lot of excitement. Seniors made hats, had shirts made, and painted faces to show senior pride. "I think it's important that the seniors have something like this because it's one of our last big parties here in high school," senior Devona Generette said. Tailgating as a class gave the seniors time to socialize with their friends, dance, grill out, and just relax. "I had fun cooking steak and fish," said Justin Whitley. It was something underclassmen look forward to their senior year. This was something all seniors would look back on as a time they spent with their fellow classmates.

-Danielle Craddock

1. Senior Tindall Pryor sat with her friends and ate while she watched people dance. "The best thing was getting to spend time with my friends and making more senior memories," Tindall said.

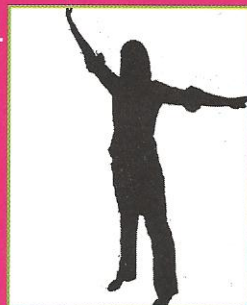

2. Senior Tiffany Fishburne and her friend ate and took pictures during the festivities. "It was a lot of fun because we did what we wanted. We danced, ate, and acted loud and crazy," Tiffany said.

3. Senior Melanie Coulter sat on senior Holden Crosby's lap while they watched others dance. "I had fun watching people Crank that Lion King. I was confused," Melanie said.

4. Seniors Lindsey Craven and Chelsea Cox watched their friends cook on the grill. "The senior tailgating is something we've all looked forward to for four years," Chelsea said.

5. Seniors Leslie Lawson and Phillip Stone hug for the camera. "It gave us a chance to spend time with all our friends before we graduate. We also got to eat some pretty good food," Leslie said.

6. Senior James Sherman and Darryl White were eating chicken. "I enjoyed the food, just being able to hang out with my friends, and making last memories in high school," James said.

Magali Soto

Did you participate in
Spirit Week?

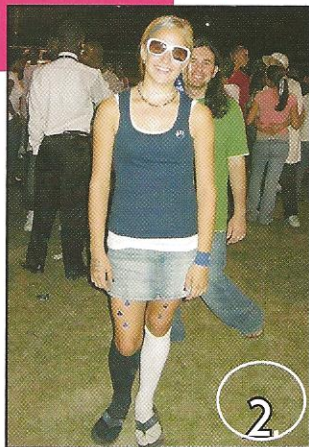

Bring on some of that true blue spirit! Noted as the week before Homecoming, Spirit Week had always been a tradition for the students of Colleton County High School for generations. The students had always enjoyed this week because it had been just about the only week the students didn't have to abide by the dress code, and dress funny, Tacky, down right wacky, and of course, showing that true Blue Cougar Pride, and even more, getting to pretend to be something or someone different every day of the week. "It's really fun getting to participate in spirit week, because I don't dress like this everyday," junior Magali Soto said.

Would you get a tattoo or piercing?

Tat It Up! Pierce It Up!

Tattoo/Piercing

Piercing & Tattoos

The ears used to be the most common place to get pierced, but in today's society many new places are being pierced such as the nose, lips, tongue, belly button, and eye brows. Some people consider piercings trashy while others think they are classy.

Whether they got them for sentimental reasons or strictly because they were cute, many people around the school have tattoos. Some people think that tattoos are not a good way to express yourself. Most people today just have them because everyone else has one.

1. Senior Morgan Houtz had his last name tattooed on his side. "I have always wanted it," Morgan said.

2. Senior Amanda Jenkins had her first tattoo put on her arm of her middle name. "Just to see how it feels," Amanda said.

3. Junior Terry Winn said she had her ear pierced "because she thought they looked cool," Terry said.

4. Sophomore Autumn Stokes had hers done because her parents passed away. "I wanted to know that they will always be right here with me," Autumn said.

5. Junior Jordan Shearous said she had her nose pierced "because not many people have one, and I want to be different," Jordan said.

6. Junior Drenna Stiefer said she had her lip done because, "I thought it is cool," Drenna said.

Friends were the best thing you could have in high school.

Everyone would worry about boyfriends and girlfriends, but when those high school relationships would end, their friends were always there. Who did you always call when you had a fight with your parents? Your friends! Even if they were your sister or relative or maybe not a relative at all, you went to them when you had a problem, that's what made them a friend. They were the shoulder you cried on and the person you called when you wanted to go to a party. You could ask them for advice when ever you couldn't talk to your parents about it. These were the people that always had your back no matter what and always knew a way to make you smile that's why we called them your Fantastic Friend.

Between Classes

Students at Colleton County High have always enjoyed breaking between each class. The students had so many options in their six minute time frame; hitting the bathroom, dashing to their next period, getting the Reader's Digest version of the latest gossip, or some daring students would brave the line at the canteen. "I go straight to class because I don't really see many of my friends in the hallway," said junior William Reese. Considering all of the options, many students did not feel they were allowed enough time between classes to do all the things they needed to do. "I think we should have more time between classes because some people that do have a locker can't go from the gym to the freshman academy and use the restroom and make it to class on time," said senior Andrew Harvey-Jones. Although many students felt this way, free time between classes could have been considered a privilege to the students at CCHS.

-Theresa Braecklein

1. Senior Janelle Drown went to her locker in between classes to put her first period books away. "I like where my locker is located because it is not too crowded," Janelle said.

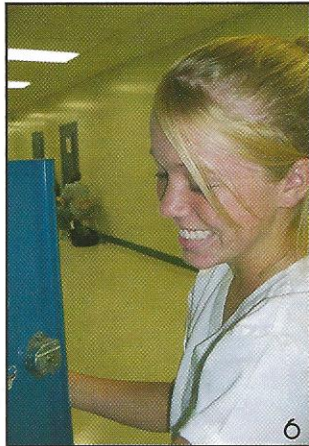

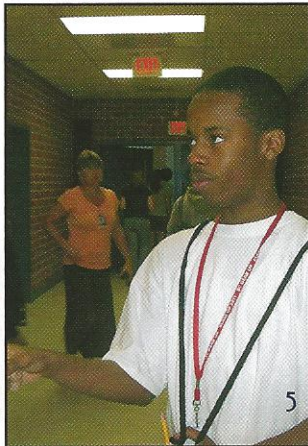

2. Senior Danielle Campell walked out of the bathroom right after she used the restroom between classes. "I talk to my friends between classes because I love to gossip," Danielle said.

3. Junior Tillotson Gadson chatted with Danielle Campell before he returned back to his third period class. "I go to my locker between classes and I like where it's located because it's next to Melanie Coulter's," Tillotson said.

4. Junior William Reese stapled his math test together before he turned it in. "I visit the drink machines between class and either get a Coke or Mt. Dew," William said.

5. Coach Adams shook freshmen Tyren Kears's hand because he had his shirt tucked in for the first time. "When I am late to class it's because my shirt tail is untucked, so teachers stop me and make me tuck it in," Tyren said.

6. Senior Melanie Coulter got her books before going to English class for Mrs. Atkinson. "Nothing embarrassing has happened to me between classes but I did hit Tillotson Gadson with my locker and gave him a black eye," Melanie said.

Cassandra Vick
Grade: 12

"To get ready for football games I paint my face and wear school colors," senior Cassie Vick said.

Zach Singleton
Grade: 12

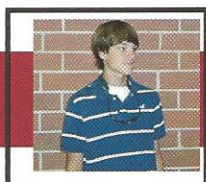

"Yes, support at games is important because it makes us play better," senior Zach Singleton said.

Ryan McGhie
Grade: 10

"After the games I go out to eat or either at home," sophomore Ryan McGhie said.

Gary Howell
Grade: 11

"I go to every home game because I'm a Drum Major in the Band of Blue," junior Gary Howell said.

1. The girls from the yearbook staff stopped to strike a pose before going off to support the football team at their homecoming game against James Island. "I had fun driving in the parade. I especially liked how I would slam on brakes and making Annstley's shoe fall off and giving Lindsey a bruise," junior Dritney Lynard said.

2. The CCHS chorus opened up the pep rally with our Alma Mater. "I love to perform, because it's what I like to do," senior Tindall Pryar said.

3. The football players ran across the gym and waited to hear the names called for the starting line up. "It was good for us to be recognized," junior Drantley Wiggins said.

4. The 2007 homecoming queen Dran/hea Drown told the audience what all was going to be done in the pep rally events. "It felt good knowing that the majority of my classmates voted for me. Also, it's a special honor that I will have forever," senior Dran/hea Drown said.

Do you attend pep rallies?

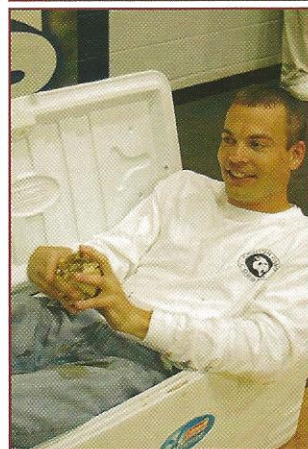

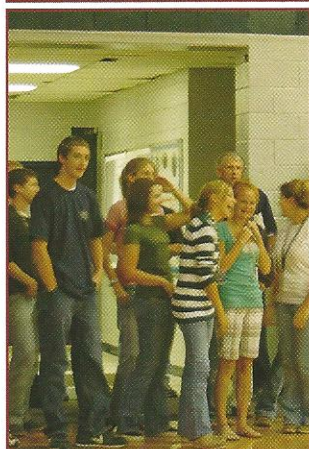

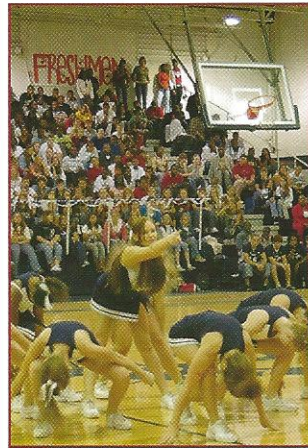

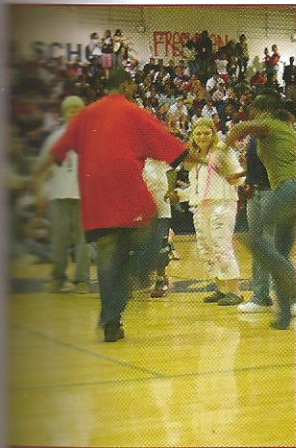

Pump It Up

Pep Rallies

There was something about the cheerleaders, football players, and those well known Friday night lights. Students showed their support for their team by attending the football games and showed their school spirit at the pep rallies. Whether they painted their faces, made signs and even just cheered at events school spirit was shown all over Colleton County High School this year. "It's a fun way to socialize with your friends and support your team," said junior Danielle Craddock. The pep rallies got our team pumped up to do their best. Plus, while students supported their team they had time to chat with friends, listen and watch the band perform, and maybe even get something to eat. How do you feel about the loved Friday nights and school spirited pep rallies?

-Chelsea Cox

1. The students go together to compete against each grade in a hula hoop contest. "I think the juniors should have won. People didn't think that I could do it because of my size but I was the fastest one," junior Arika "Juice" Williams.

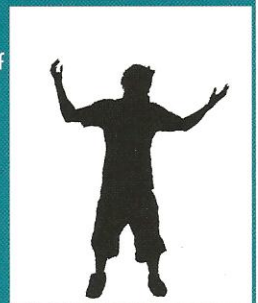

2. The cougar cheered at the pep rally.

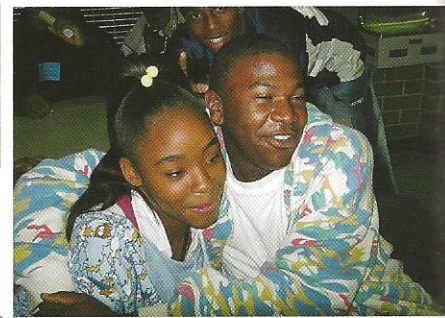

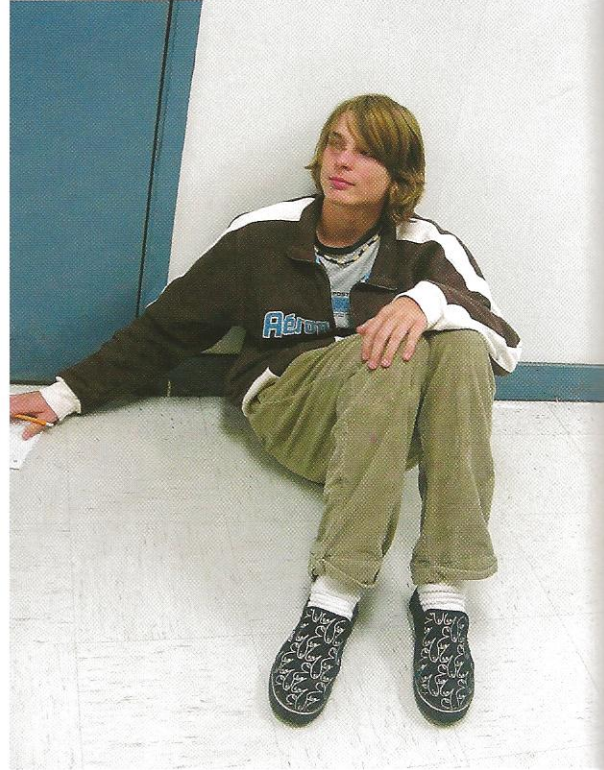

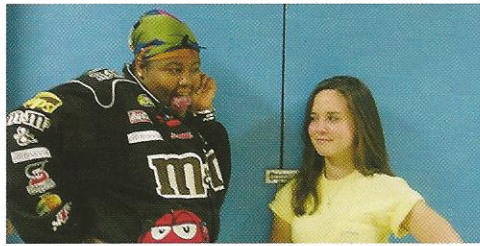

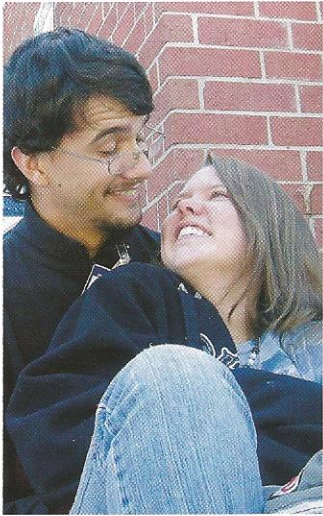

3. The cheerleaders stole the show as they did their new routine, and showed off their cheer. "I feel like we did a really good job," sophomore Ashley Dilka said.

4. The students cheered on their grade in a spirit competition. "I think the pep rally got everyone pumped up and excited about the football game. I think it made our players want to go out there and strive to do their very best," senior Lindsey Craven said.

5. The Colleton County High School track team waited patiently for their names to be recognized. "I enjoyed being in the pep rally because I got to be recognized," junior Joshua McCollum said.

6. The three coolest coaches get a treat at the pep rally. They got to sit in a chest full of ice cream and see who could eat the most ice cream. "By far it was the best pep rally, there was a lot of student involvement, ice cream was great," coach Loudenslager said.

If you could bring back any of your favorite pets which one would it be?

"My old dog Pepper, we got him when I was really little and I always played with him growing up," senior Amanda Harrison said.

"I would bring back my little puppy, Puppy, who ran away," senior Drooke Gant said.

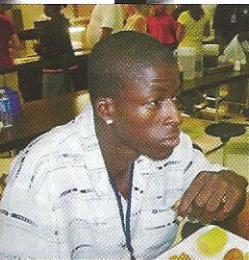

"My Chihuahua, Poochie, because he was my favorite dog, he was potty trained and listened well," senior Miguel Cortes said.

"I would bring back my dog Queen. She was one of my favorite dogs and we had her since she was born," senior Kathleen Blackmon said.

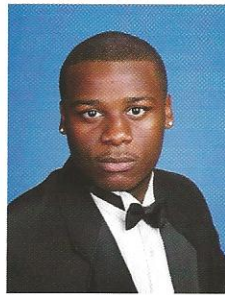

"I would bring back my German Sheperd, Princess, she was a great dog," senior Nick Dabb said.

"My white and red noisey pitbull. She listened well and was very protective," senior Jamaal Muhammad said.

How is being late considered not being responsible?

"Because you have to make everyone else wait," senior Jesse Riddle said.

"By not being responsible enough to be on time," senior Ashley Chickering said.

"It shows that you can't be on time to anything." Senior Johnathan Edwards said.

"Because you knew before time when you were expected to be there and you choose to do otherwise." Senior Amanda Jenkins said.

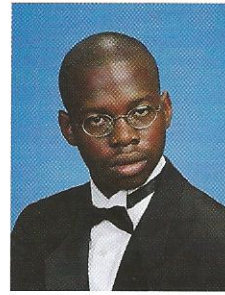

"No one can depend on you to be on time." Senior Jermar Sanders said.

"If you are late, you are not setting a good example and you can't do your job correctly," senior Christian Williams said.

What do you think about gas?

"I don't like the gas prices, they're too high, people don't go anywhere because of it," senior Nicole Middleton said.

"I spend an average of between $60-$70 a week on gas. I usually go to Kangaroo," senior Jermar Sanders said.

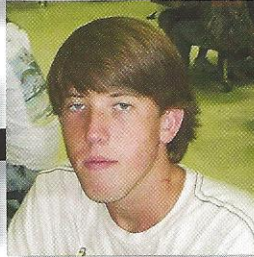

"I don't like the gas prices, there outrageous, the most I ever spent on gas was $3 a gallon and the least was $2 a gallon," senior Mary Prierter said.

"I usually go to Horizon, Wal-mart, or Kangaroo to get gas, because they have their gas prices for that low-low price," senior Garrick Sanders said.

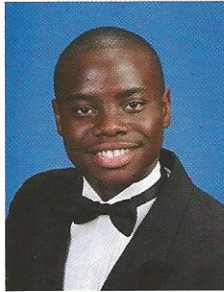

"If I don't have any gas I just ride the bus. I spent about $40 dollars on gas coming to school," senior Pierre Drisbane said.

"I think gas is too high even though both my parents and I put gas in my car," senior Jeremy Frank said.

1. Sophomore Kasanta White concentrated while painting. "Some people may think that art is just drawing but it's more than that," White said.

2. Sophomore Charity Catterton worked on an assignment in agriculture class. "We've learned about welding," Catterton said.

3. Freshman Antonio Smith eagerly painted trying to get the assignment done. "I chose this class because I wanted to learn about some famous artists and artworks that they've done," Smith said.

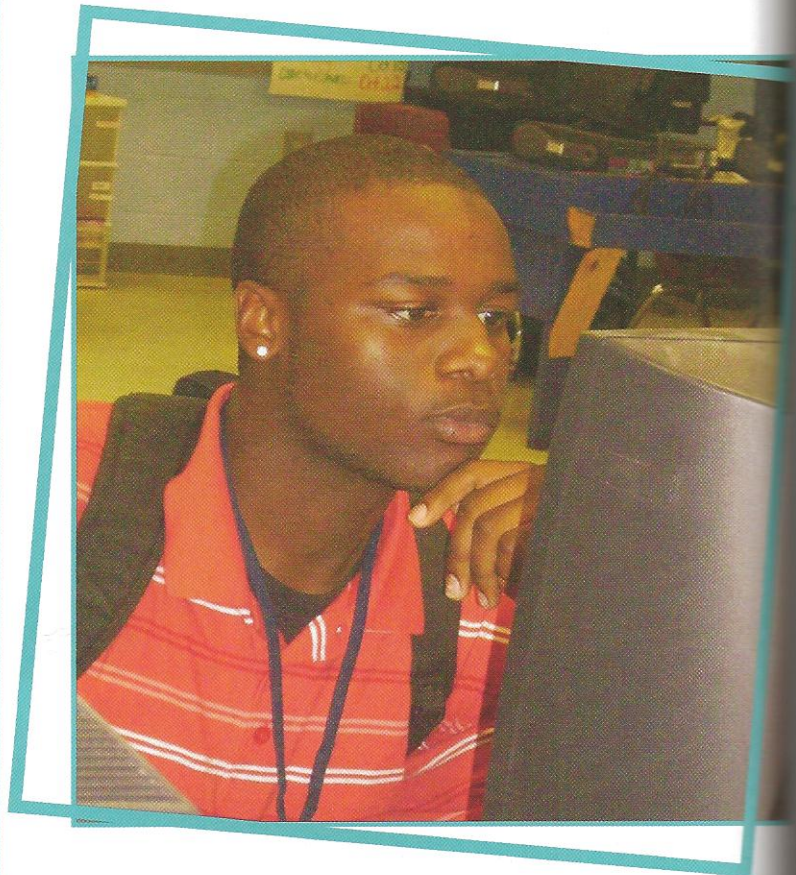

4. Sophomore Drandy Herrington looked at her chorus book to make sure she did not sing the wrong note, while in chorus class. "I love to sing and you meet a lot of talented people," Herrington said.

5. Freshmen Michelle Dundy worked to finish painting her project. "I chose this class because I wanted to learn how to draw people," Dundy said.

6. Junior Kalyn Douglas practiced her singing to make sure it was perfect. "I like to sing and there was enough room in my schedule," Douglas said.

Senior Eddie Aiken worked hard in yearbook class to make sure his spreads got done on time for the deadline. "I wanted to take this class because it's new to me, and my guidance counselor guided me here because I like taking pictures," Eddie said.

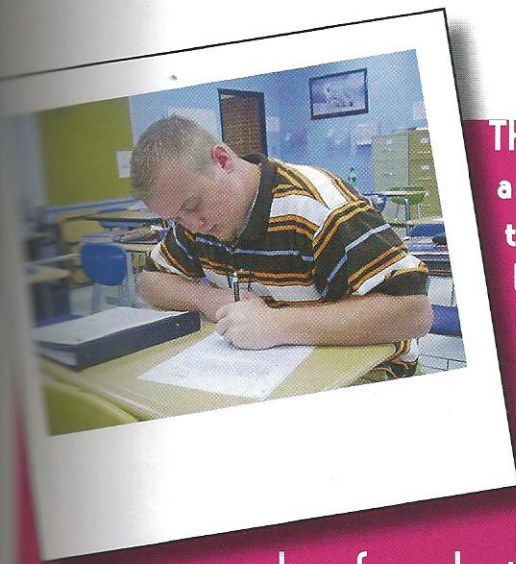

Junior Aubrey Hill sat at the piano and pointed at the verse she was about to sing. "I love to sing, I'm glad I took this course. I learned how to control my breathing and other techniques and Mrs. Drawdy is awesome," Aubrey said.

What The Future Holds

TCTC/Electives

The vocational school and other electives gave many students a chance to show what they could do. They had the opportunity to do something they enjoyed and get away from the boredom of their main course such as the usual math, English or science courses. Students had the choices of many hands on opportunities such as welding, masonry, and culinary arts. Some electives were required though. An example was weight lifting for certain sports and even keyboarding. Even if students took these electives just to fill in open spots, they always seemed to have fun and enjoy themselves. A lot of students who took classes at TCTC ended up going into a job field that had to do with what they studied at the vocational school after high school. "I think that TCTC and other electives are good for students because it can help them in the long run," senior Phillip Stone said.

"I was put in computer apps, but I might be considering a career in the medical field," sophomore Keke Koth said.

"I want to pursue my music career but if it doesn't work out, I will fall back on laying bricks for a living," senior Devin Clayton said.

"I take small engines and welding. That might be something I pursue a career in," sophomore Kyle Murdaugh said.

"I will graduate with my CNA license so therefore I won't have to take that part over when I get to college. Oh Yeah, and I'll have a job (not fastfood)," senior Porsharae Jones said.

1. Junior MaTonya Ancrum did her math work. "I think that math is very interesting," MaTonya said.
 2. Freshman Caleb Hair used his calculator to help him with a problem. "Calculators are very useful," Caleb said.
 3. Freshman Ny'Aisha Way recorded the results from a lab. "I enjoy doing lab work to learn Algebra equations," Ny'Aisha said.

Freshman Trevor Pham said as he showed off some calculator tricks outside of class. "I use my textbook to do homework and to study," Trevor said.

4. Junior Gabriela Reed tried to figure out an equation on the calculator. "I think math is fun and cool," Gabriela said.
 5. Junior Nakeia Martin completed a math assignment for Coach Russell. "Math is fun and can sometimes be hard but if you have a teacher like Coach Russell you will enjoy it," Nakeia said.
 6. Freshman Reba Reed completed a group assignment in Mrs. Creel's Algebra I class. "So far the easiest part of Algebra is solving the two sided equations," Reba said.

Senior Dyron Jerideau completed a test outside of class. "My teacher's a good math teacher because he is funny. He clowns around a lot," Dyron said.

What's with the digits? Math

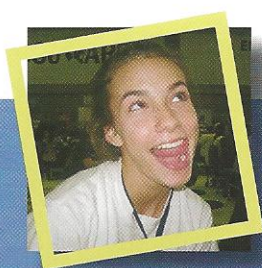

Most people thought of math as a subject that they would never use again in their lives beyond high school or college. They thought that there were too many numbers, formulas, and equations remember and way too many solutions. Senior Phillip Dreland disagreed with the usual response about math. "I will use math in the future, like in my job," Phillip said.

Some people could work a division problem out in less than a minute while others may need up to thirty minutes. Little did people know, math was everywhere. Where would we be without it?

-Amanda Pinckney

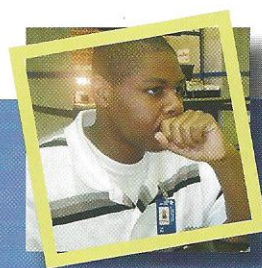

"I like math because in the future it will help me with my career in becoming a pharmacist," sophomore Monica Simmons said.

"I think you only need math for everyday life sometimes. Like when you're counting money," junior Kennedy Gibson said.

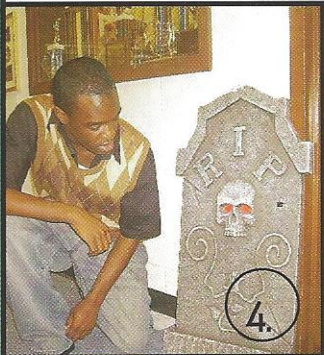

"I like math because it's a challenge," sophomore Brittany Lingard said.

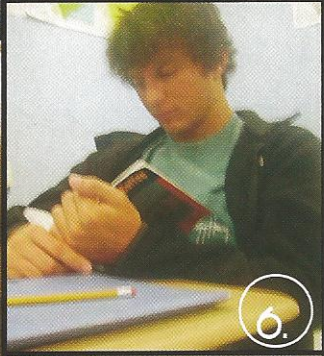

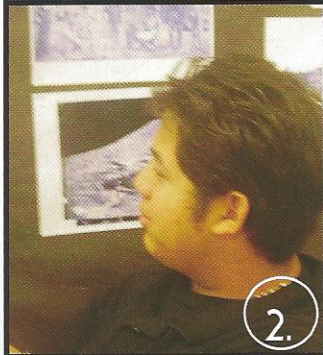

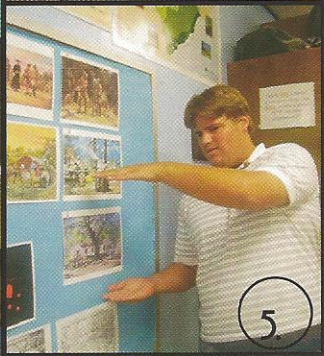

"I'm not smart with numbers. Only if I have a cash register or a calculator," sophomore Levi Blue said.

1. Wesley Murdaugh was holding a musket in class acting out some war action. "I don't think history should be a mandatory subject or any subject. They shouldn't force us to do something we don't want to do," junior Wesley said.

2. Raynoldo Sayaz was looking at the bulletin board. "The funniest thing I have ever learned in history is that they would sometimes pee-pee in dead bodies," junior Raynoldo said.

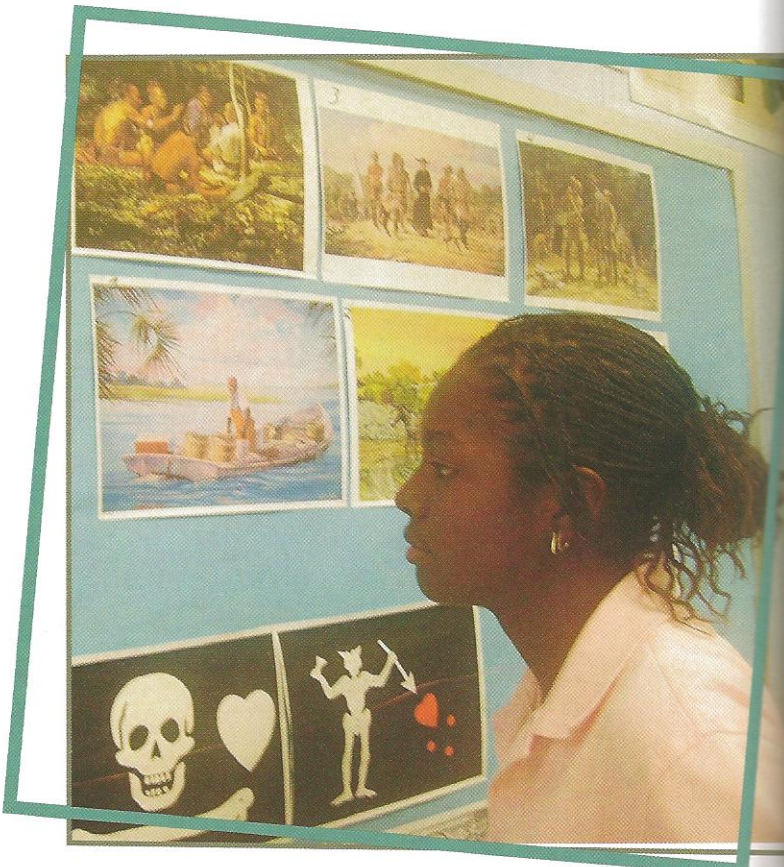

4. Malik Squire was studying the R.I.P. sign. "I think history is easy because it's stuff that's already happened," senior Malik said.

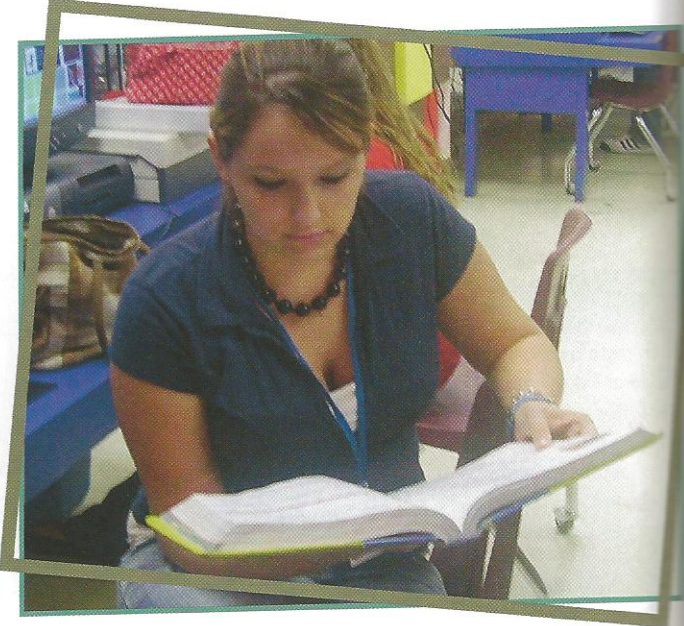

5. Chris Roberts carefully inspected the bulletin board of photos. "If I could have any teacher for history it would be Bob Dylan accompanied by Blackwell," junior Chris said.

6. Casey Rowe was reading his history book before a test. "My favorite part of history is the American Revolution," junior Casey said.

Synquetta Taylor studied the bulletin board full of pictures in her U.S. history class. "I don't always like learning about history because sometimes it gets depressing learning about the way slaves and women were treated," junior Synquetta Taylor said.

Chelsea diligently read her U.S. History book before they went over the homework from the night before. "The weirdest thing I have ever learned in history is that a long time ago you could take your wife to court to beat her," senior Chelsea Cox said.

Blast from the Past

History

Some people thought history was so boring. Others loved it and said it was their best subject. Either way it was a good thing to learn. How else would we know how we became the country we are today? Also, we learned about how crazy some of our ancestors were and some of the odd things they have done. "I will never forget learning that the way they made indigo blue was by peeing in it," junior Aubrey Hill said.

History also helped us appreciate how some things are today such as race issues or independence and our rights. We came a long way and would never know it if we didn't learn it in history.

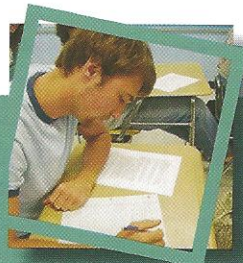

-Drittany Leonard

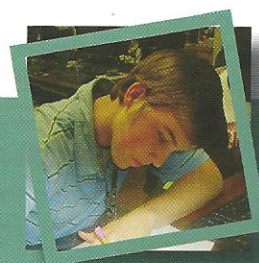

"If I could be anyone in history I would be the Goddess Aphrodite," junior Megali Soto said.

"If I could be anyone in history I would be Rosa Parks," sophomore Karanta White said.

"I like history because I can actually pass it," junior Nick Flickman said.

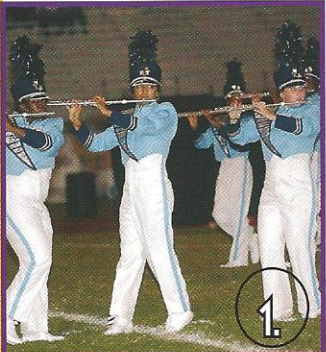

"I like the wars in history because there is a lot of action," sophomore Matthew Johnson said.

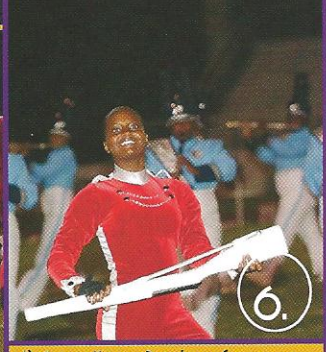

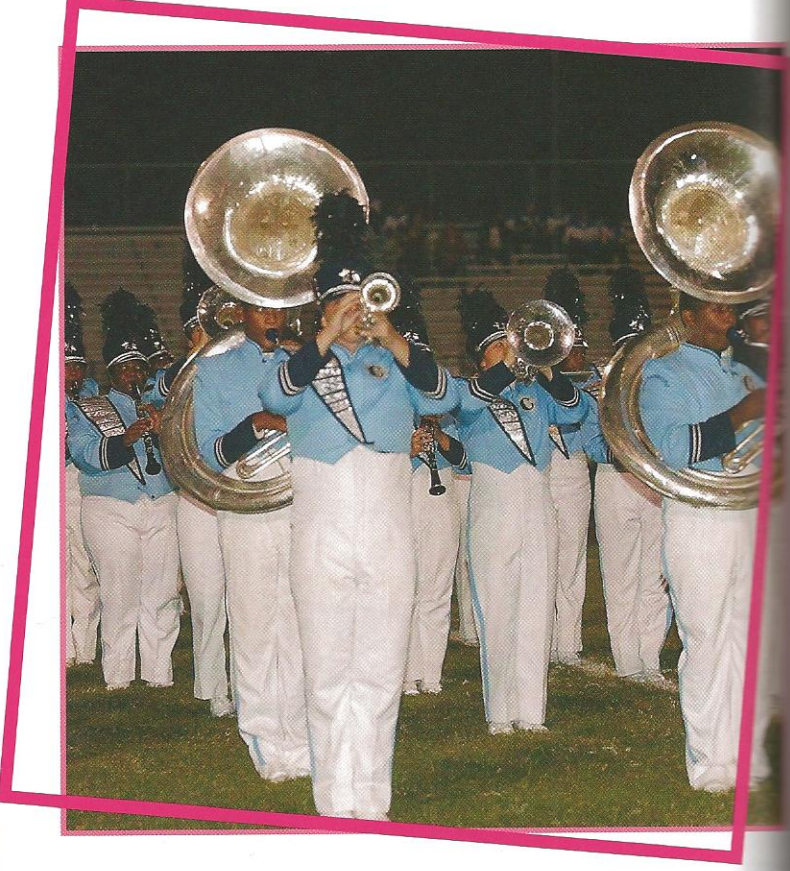

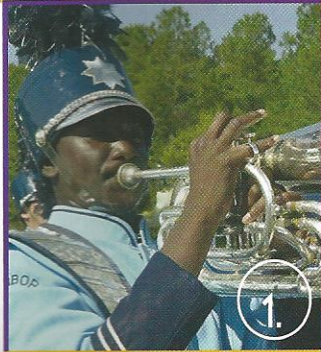

1) Junior Tyrell Hills is giving it all he's got at one of this year's competitions. "It's pretty much about being able to meet new people every year and having fun and making new friends," Tyrell said.

2) Junior Raymond Bennett was giving it his all at one of the band's competitions. "I enjoy being on the field during any performance," Raymond said.

3) Junior Richard Murry was performing at a Friday night football game. "I felt very confident even though we didn't win state," Richard said.

Junior Anthony Sherrill was tooting his horn at a Friday night football game. "This year's show had a lot of meaning and was patriotic. It was nice, but I liked it better last year," Anthony said.

4) Senior Kavita Patel was focusing on the drum majors during one of her performances. "I like seeing my family in the stands cheering for me," Kavita said.

5) Senior Cory Elliott is playing his part at one of this year's band performances. "I like the trips, and performing. I like competition period," Corey said.

6) Senior Tiffany Fishburne was smiling big for the crowd at Lower State competition. "I liked this year's show the best out of all four years I've been in band. It had the most meaning," Tiffany said.

The band's drum majors Gary Howell, Adrian Hanna and Tabatha Powell were receiving their award for Lower State, placing second overall. "Yea, I try to be a positive roll model for my band members," junior Gary said.

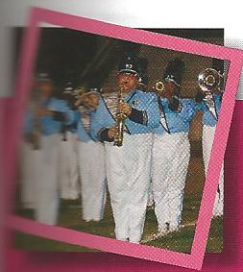

War & Peace

Dand / Colorguard

The Dand of Blue had started the year off great by winning everything in their division and winning overall at their first competition of the year. Their show was called War and Peace and it's definitely something you should have seen. The band worked really hard over the summer. Even though it's hard work "I really enjoy it. It's very fun," junior Ijima Saunders said. They were up early in the morning until the mid-afternoon doing nothing but band while everyone else was having fun at the beach. Their hard work paid off when they laid it all out on the field. Their hard work made Friday night football games worth going too!

-Annsley Moore

"It gives me a chance to spend more time with my friends," junior Carey Chubb said.

"I really enjoy band. It keeps me busy," junior Ijima Saunders said.

"I like the marching and playing my instrument. What is there not to like about it?" junior Jamaica Nix said.

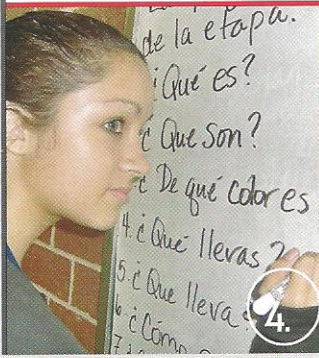

"I like the competitions. They are pretty exciting," junior Iman Rose said.

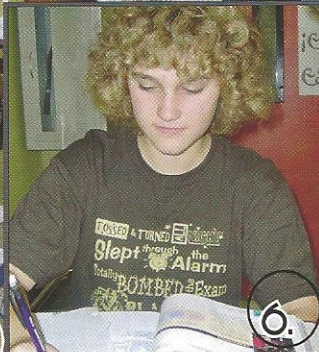

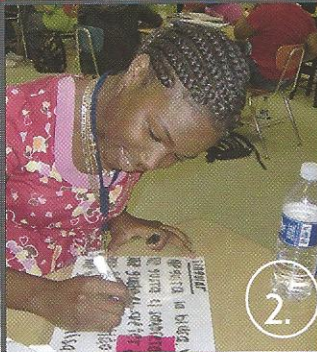

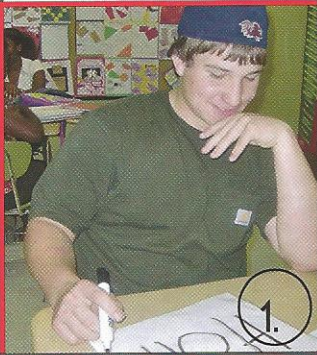

1. Sophomore Kyle Murdaugh wrote the wrong answers to Mrs. Davis' review questions. "I wanna learn Chinese," Kyle said.

2. Sophomore Della Mack wrote Spanish terms on the white board for Mrs. Davis. "I choose to take Spanish because I thought it would be easy and I wanted to know what the Mexicans were saying," Della said.

3. Freshmen Blair Doyd copied notes from the board in French class. "I would go to France if there was a travel abroad program in high school because there is a lot of stuff to do there," Blair said.

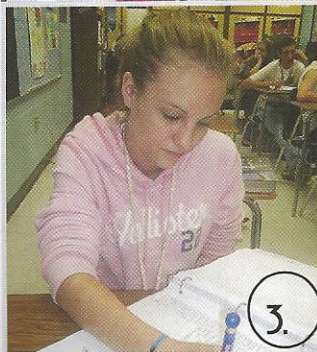

Sophomore Elizabeth Pangelangan darted through the door so she would not be late for Spanish class. "I think there should be more than just Spanish and French offered as an elective because they are missing all the Asian languages," Elizabeth said.

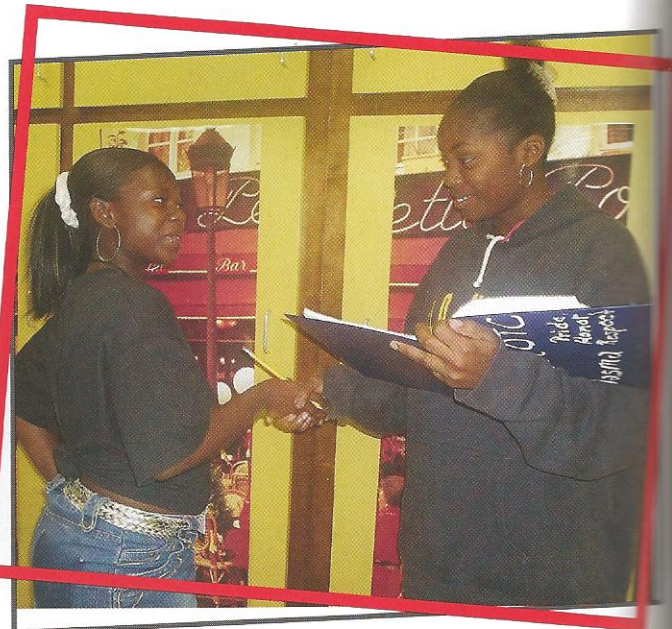

4. Sophomore Darian Greenwell was writing the answers to the Spanish questions on the board. "I don't think foreign language should be a requirement because not everyone wants to learn another language," Darian said.

5. Sophomore Jamal Parker was looking up what a Spanish term meant. "I like being able to speak another language," Jamal said.

6. Sophomore Gail Risher was finishing up the last of her homework before the late bell rang. "I've taken one foreign language, but before I graduate I want to take and pass two," Gail said.

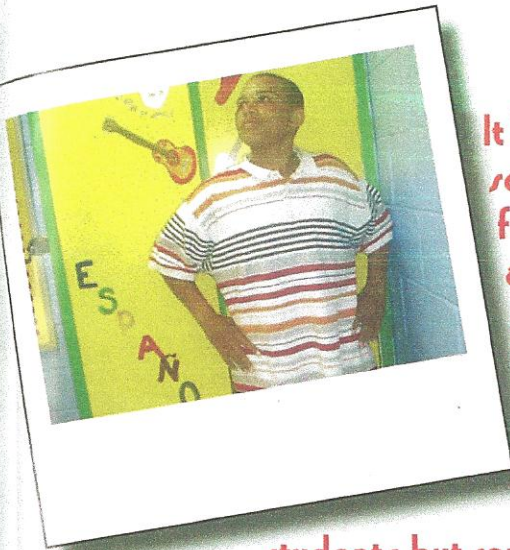

Freshmen Jasma Fryar (left) was holding a conversation with Freshmen Shaneka Hamilton (right) in French class. "I like taking a foreign language because I can tell people off without them knowing what I am saying," Shaneka said. "I don't completely understand people who speak foreign language out of class," Jasma said.

Whats up? ¿Qué arriba? Qu'en haut ?

Foreign Language

It had never been a secret here at Colleton County High that some students would have preferred not to have taken a foreign language. "I don't think foreign language should be a requirement for high school because we speak English and my future career in cosmetology doesn't require me to know another language," sophomore Ashley Fryar said. Although some careers do not require one to know a foreign language others do, like a doctor, a chef, and many other professions. CCHS has offered French and Spanish to students, but some students would have preferred to have a bigger variety of languages to have chosen from; Italian, Japanese, Chinese, and Russian. "I would have liked to take Italian because I want to go to Italy to see all the pretty women," said Junior Anthony Sherrill.

-Theresa Draecklein

"I think it would be easier to learn a foreign language in a small class because you learn better and you get more individual attention," Junior Kindrea Mcneil said.

"Foreign language should be a requirement, because foreigners are taking over the U.S. and we need to know what they are saying," senior Lance Stroble said.

"I like speaking another language because the ladies like it," senior Ontario Whitlock said.

"If there was a travel abroad program I would probably go to Europe or Spain, so that I can get a better grasp," senior Tabatha Powell said.

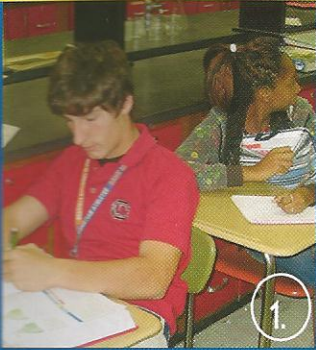

1) Junior Dakota Mitchell sits at his desk looking smart. "I like science because Mr. Reid makes it fun," Dakota said.

2) Sophomore David Green studies to pass a test. "I enjoy science class," David said

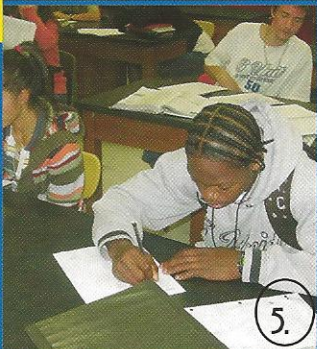

3) Junior Missouri Moultrie fuels up at lunch for science class. "My favorite teacher for science was Mr. Kearse because she's out going and nice," Missouri said.

4) Junior Shattera Evans patiently waits to get home "I learn more by watching the TV because it's more interesting," Shattera said.

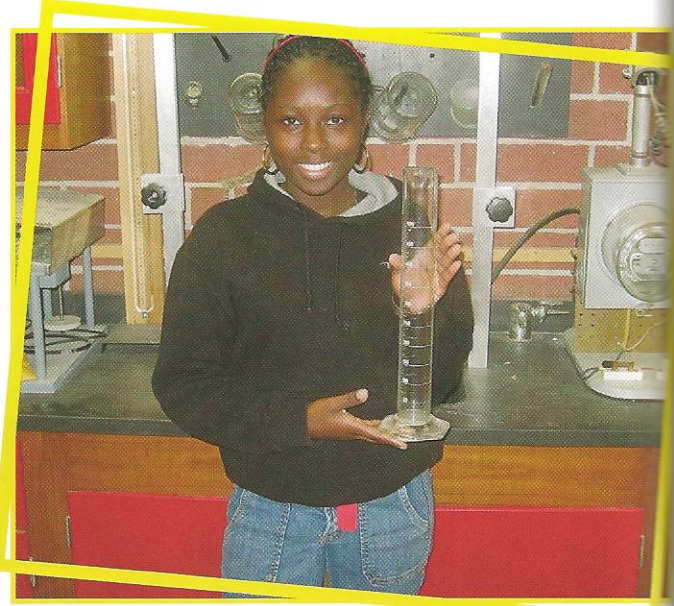

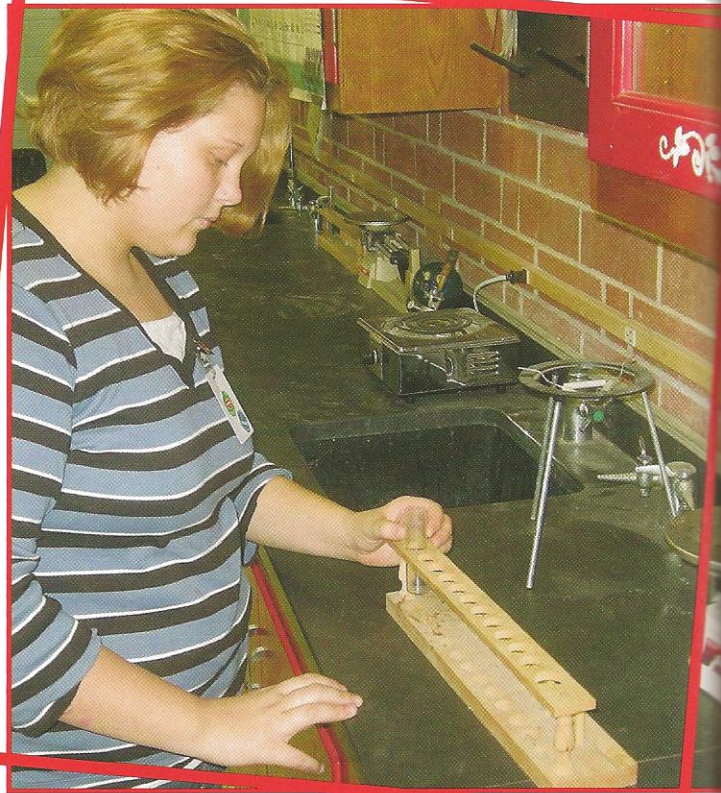

5) Junior Victor Dright studies to keep his grades up. "My favorite lab was when I got to burn things," Victor said.

6) Junior Kitty Page peacefully reads a chapter in her class. "I try hard to stay on top of my grades," Kitty said.

Junior Laura Linkous was carefully replacing a test tube. "My favorite subject for science was chemistry, because it is fun." Laura said.

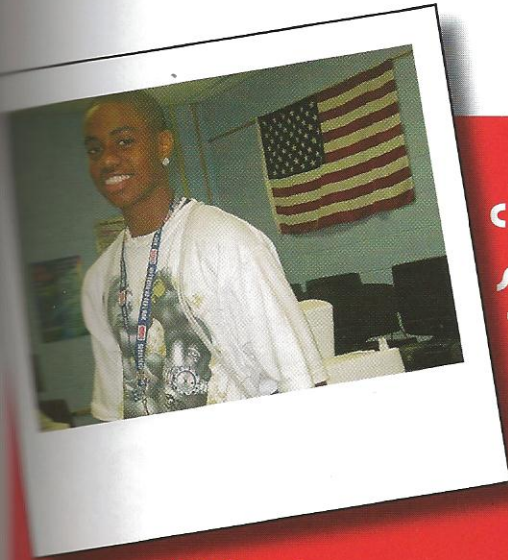

"My favorite teacher was Mr. Reid, he was fun and the class was very easy" senior Dominique Holmes said.

The

Chemistry Creation

Science

Year after year the type of science changes and hopefully you have learned something. At least you may have had fun. There are many types of sciences like marine, biology, earth, and chemistry. "Some parts of science in life are essential but most of if I don't really need," junior Kelly Varnado said.

Whether you need it or not it's a great experience to go through.

-Edward Aiken

"In science I learn better by reading books and listening to teachers," sophomore Jakeem Wright said.

"In elementary school science was a lot easier than it is in high school," junior Danielle Craddock said.

"I believe the highest average I got for science was a ninety six," senior Leslie Lawron said.

"My favorite teacher in school for science is Coach Polk because he does experiments and we watched movies," senior Lauren Sherrill said.

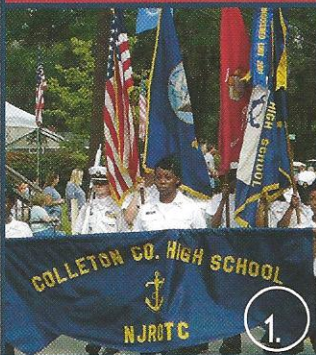

1. Members of the drill teams and also the color guard participated in the Yemassee Shrimp Festival. "Being in parade is a great way for us to show off for the community, and is also good practice for us before our competitions," senior Marion Murdaugh said.

2. Cadets went on a trip to Florida. "My favorite part of the trip was going on the boat ride and getting to see new things," freshman Janique Sanders said.

3. The color guard practiced very hard this year. "Being in color guard was a lot of practice, but we did a really good job, and got to march in parades, as well as many other events," sophomore Timothy O'Connor said.

4. Students visited Kings Bay Georgia on a field trip. "The thing I enjoyed the most about going on field trips with NJROTC is seeing all the new sights and seeing places. When I go on these trips they inspire me about what I want to do with the navy," junior Jamaica Nix said.

5. Cadets were all smiles as the jet was about to take off. "It was an overall great experience, the best part was when I got to sit in the pilot's chair, but the worst thing was the cockpit was so small you could barely move," sophomore Henry Washington said.

6. NJROTC cadets got an opportunity of a life time when they were allowed to fly on a C-17 jet. "When I was sitting in the pilot's seat I felt like I was in control and had a lot of power," freshman Samuel Ford said.

Colleton County drill team students placed third in the Strom Thurman Drill Meet. This photo was taken after athletics. "My favorite part is the athletics and my least favorite part is the waking up early," senior Justin Weber said.

Lucky members from N.J.R.O.T.C. got aboard a C-17 plane. Their pilot, Don Garbade, was a former Colleton County N.J.R.O.T.C. cadet. "The trip was at Charleston Air Force Base. We were allowed to get on the C-17 and they showed what all you can do on it. It was educational and also a lot of fun," senior Elizabeth McMillan said.

Future Leaders

N.J.R.O.T.C.

What's a leader? The N.J.R.O.T.C. (Naval Junior Reserve Officers Training Corps) program was started in 1993 by Lieutenant Commander Charles Amentrout (U.S. Navy Retired). This program proved that high school students could be put into leadership roles and be responsible. The R.O.T.C. program has been very influential to the high school. Without this program students would not be able to show as much leadership, responsibility, and integrity. Students involved in N.J.R.O.T.C. were pushed everyday to do their best and strive for success.

-Chelsea Cox

"The most important thing that I have learned from the instructor is discipline," freshman Daniel Rivers said.

"I joined R.O.T.C. because I'm thinking about going into the military after college," sophomore Latesha Taylor said.

"I stayed in R.O.T.C. for all four years because I like the discipline and the structure. I also wanted to prepare for a future in the military," senior Robert Donally said.

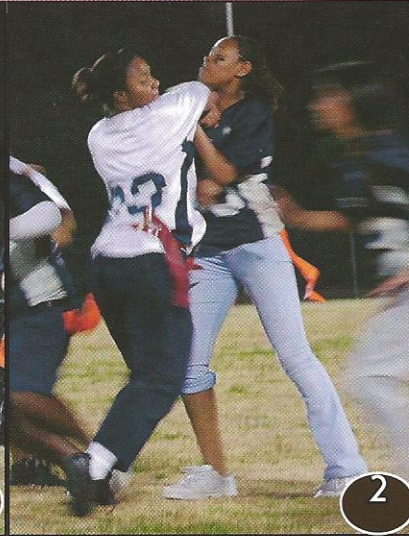

"It's a good program and helps motivate me with my grades and also my attitude," freshman Shawndrica Fields said.

1. Amanda is huddling up waiting to find out the next play. "Practice was a lot of fun, yet challenging. We were a bunch of goof balls at practice," junior Amanda Floresca said.
2. Junior Sophia Drown is throughing down some hard deffense. "I think it was fair that everyone got to play (9th - 12th), and NITUS should have played," Sophia said.
3. Freshman Tylar Douglas is giving her team so ideas for their next play.. "I had a lot of fun playing with people I never met," sophmore Tylar Douglas said.
4. Lindrey and her team are getting pumped up before the game. "I was worried I would forget all the plays and not know what to do," senior Lindsey Craven said.
5. Callie is waiting for the other team to hike the ball. "I didnt think the team that won would win, they won because they started off by playing dirty and we didn't till the second half," senior Callie O'Connor said.

Lets go girls!!!!

All the girls were allowed to play Powder Puff football. Many used that opportunity to get down and dirty. There was hair pulling, tackles, elbows in chins, and many other crazy things. By the way it was Flag football! Even though no one was playing that way by the end. That shows that girls can play football to. I understand why they started getting rough though. It is the only time in High School you could through a girl on the ground, pull her hair, or chop her in the throat with out getting in any trouble. Even with all that almost every girl who played will say it was alot of fun and they would enjoy doing it again. So the fact that they had fun is what counts.

-Drittany Leonard

Powder Puff

"I think I found a new talent by playing, I tackle like a bear!" Junior Laura Linke said.

Junior Jasmine Maigo chases after the ball carrier.

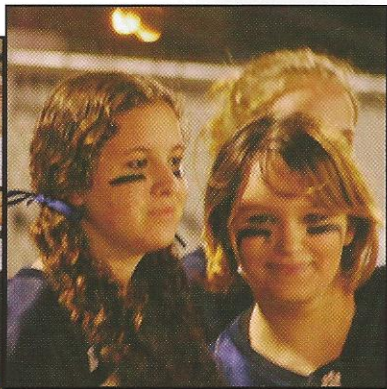

"I was so nervous, my head and my heart were racing but who wouldn't be nervous, we were playing against the seniors!" Junior Caitlin Cottingham said.

"All I was thinking was Win! Win! Win! My mind was on the game." junior Ariel Snow said.

"I knew we were going to win because we had more people," Junior Dawana Dright said.

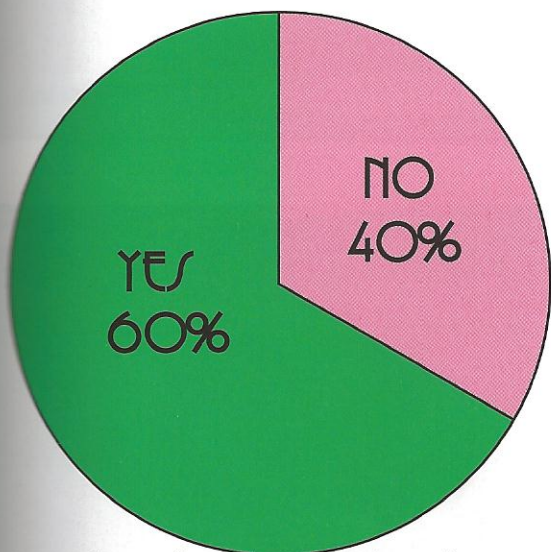

1. Synquetta Taylor was walking on the field about to play. "The last couple minutes of the game were my favorite because we knew we had won," junior Synquetta said.

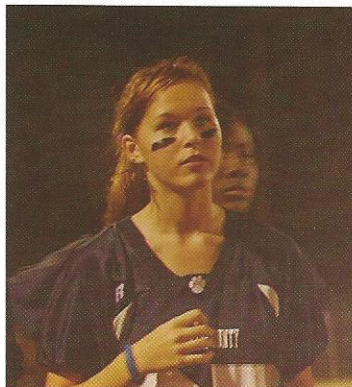

2. Chelsea Cox was waiting her turn to get on the field and play some football. "I think the other team won because they played dirty," senior Chelsea said.

3. Jessica Killian is checking out the other team before she goes out to play. "The game was a lot of fun even though it turned physical. I would love to participate next year." junior Jessica said.

Girls Play Dirty!!!

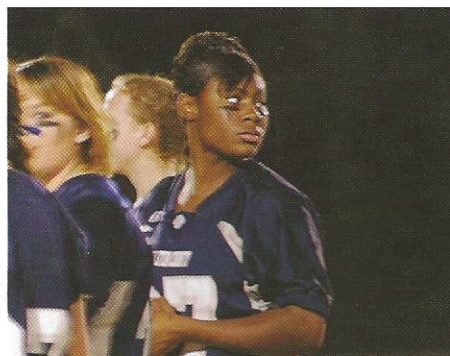

Is it fair all girls got the chance to play Powder Puff instead of just NHS?

1. Kristy Scott is asking questions about her next position. "It was pretty tough but it was a fun experience." sophomore Kristy said.

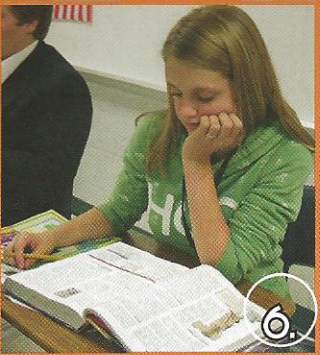

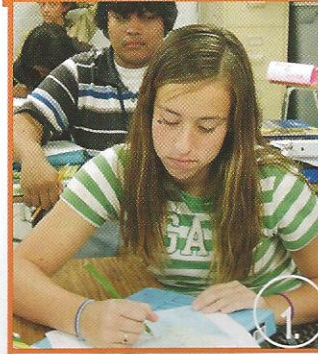

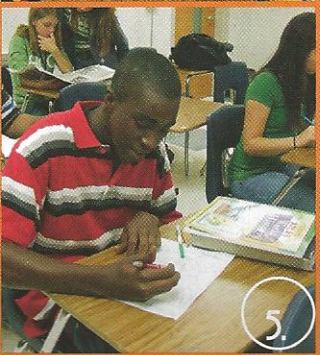

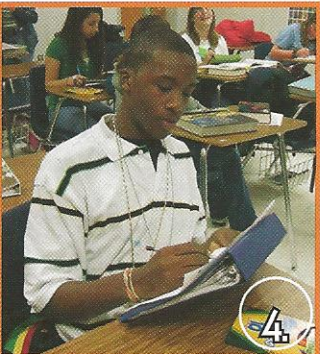

2. Shakera Shider turns around because she hears her family yelling in the stands. "Powderpuff was a great game and the girls were great athletes from both teams but seniors/freshmen still were the best" senior Shakera said.

1. Freshman Hillary Clegg rushed to get her class work done before the bell rang indicating the end of class. "I want to pursue a career in health science because I enjoy helping people who need me the most," Hillary said.

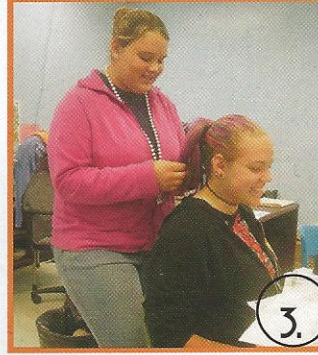

2. "We like working here because we get to meet lots of new people and it is just something to do with our spare time," seniors Brittany Thompson and Brittany Custace said as they rang up Reeses Cups for a Bi-Lo customer.

3. Sophomore Brittany Drabham styled a friend's hair during her global studies class with Mrs. Frank. "I want to go to cosmetology school because I like to be creative with hair and makeup," Brittany said.

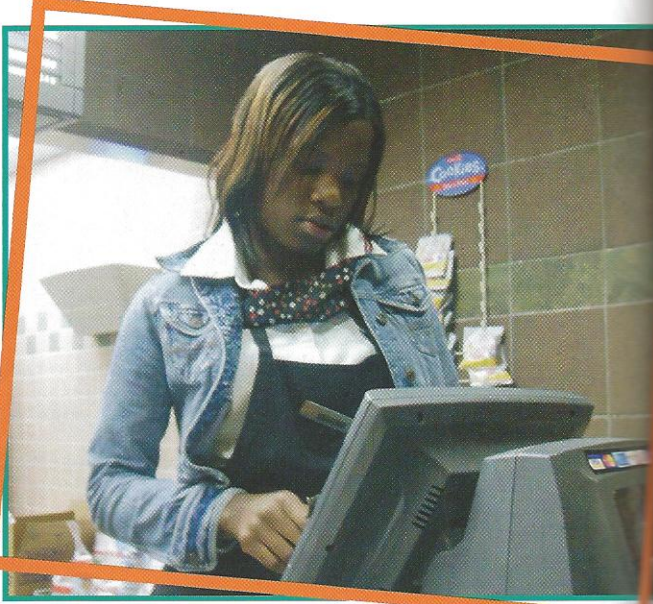

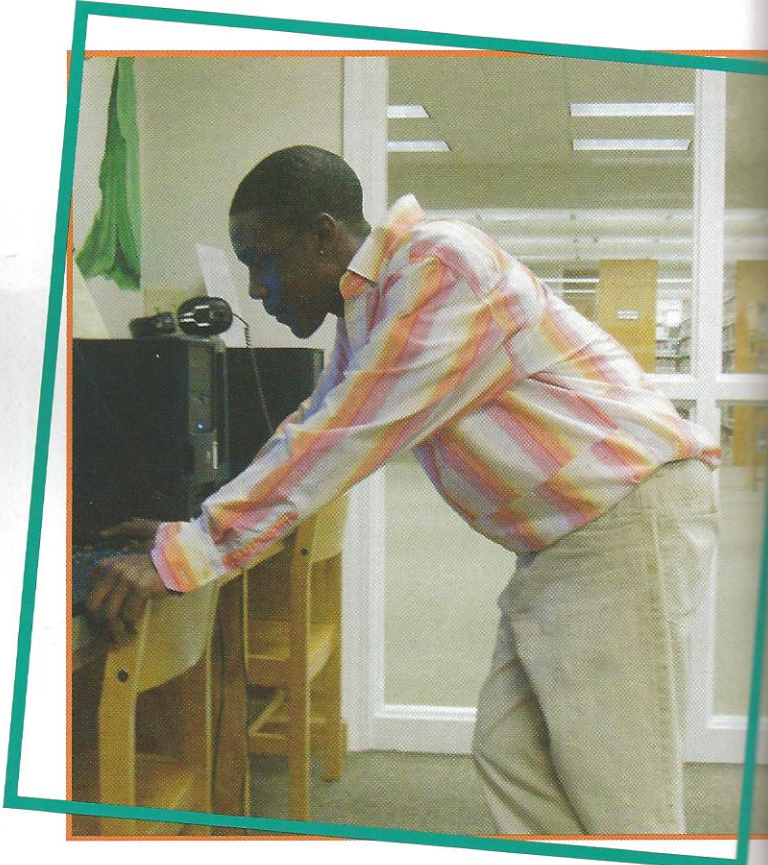

4. Freshman Robert Glover worked on a global studies assignment during his third period class. "I want to attempt to become an engineer because it is something I really enjoy doing, and I think I would have a lot of fun doing it," Robert said.

5. Freshman Andrew Bradley worked hard on a project for global studies class. "I want to go to culinary arts school to be a chef because I like preparing food for others to make them happy," Andrew said.

6. Freshman Caroline Gouge thought extremely hard about the upcoming events of her next class. "I think I would really like to be a psychiatrist because I really enjoy helping people and listening to their problems and making solutions," Caroline said.

"I like working because it teaches me self independence, and at the library there isn't any grease and dirt to deal with," senior Richard Saddle said.

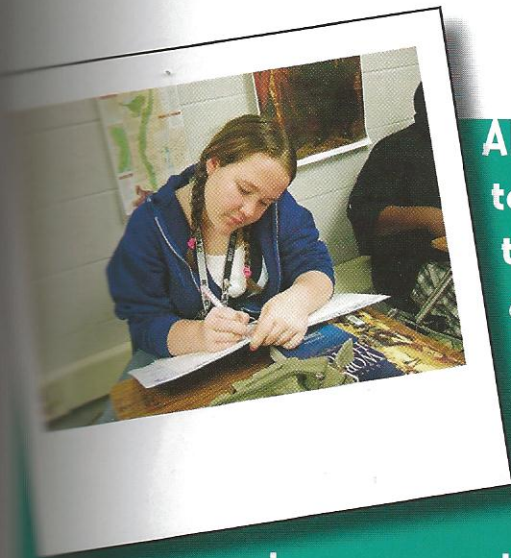

"I like working because I like being self-dependent. McDonalds gives me the opportunity to meet new people and I like making friends with the customers," junior Shyda Council said.

Occupation Concentration

Careers

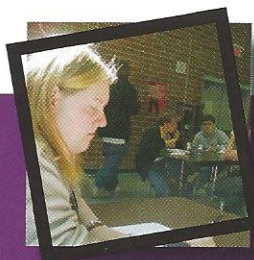

All work and no play made for a very stressful day! In today's world, the price of living was very expensive, the price had kept rising, and would continue to rise as long as today's global economy developed and emerged. In addition to attending school, joining clubs and just hanging out with friends, students had been taking on jobs and pursuing, exploring new job opportunities in order to support and survive their growing lifestyles. "My father has always told me that I can do anything I want if I put my mind to it," freshman Sierra Tippins said.

- Caitlin Cottingham

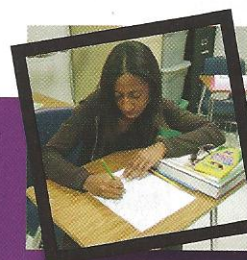

"I want to go to school to be a dancer because it helps me express myself and it takes a lot of stress off of my shoulders," freshman Madison Mauney said.

"I want to be a writer so I can open peoples minds to new things," junior Amy Ariel said.

"I want to go into a career that deals with psychology because I really enjoy helping people in need," freshmen Gabriel Price said.

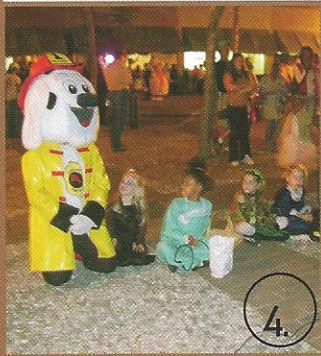

"I want to be a dancer because it soothes my soul, it's my life and I will do anything I can to make my dreams come true," freshman Tiphany Doyd said.

1. Members of the Student Council attended a workshop on trust during the 2007-2008 District Rally. "Meeting new students from other schools and making new friends was a lot of fun". Junior Caitlin Cottingham said.

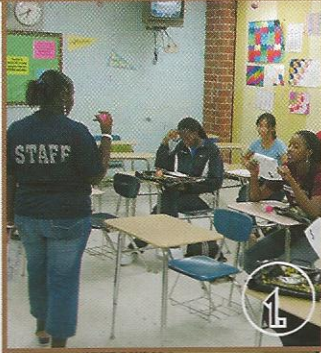

2. Students and visitors enjoyed dancing to the electric slide during the later portion of the district rally. "The District Rally was a great experience, meeting new people and learning how to become a leader is wonderful", junior Ginny Drant said.

3. Kevin Armstrong, a self motivational talker to the members of the student council and encourages them to work hard and strive for success.

In addition to interacting and making new friends with students from other schools, the students have a blast as they danced to the Soulja Boy at the 2007-2008 District Rally. "The District rally was great, every one was so enthusiastic" sophomore Melissa Cannavo said.

2. Megan Miers played hand games with the children on main street during the Halloween fall festival. "I like the MMS because it gets you involved in your community," senior Megan said.

3. Lindsey helps a couple of friends at the Northside Elementary fall festival. "It's fun being able to get involved with lots of new people and making a difference," junior Lindsey Lowery said.

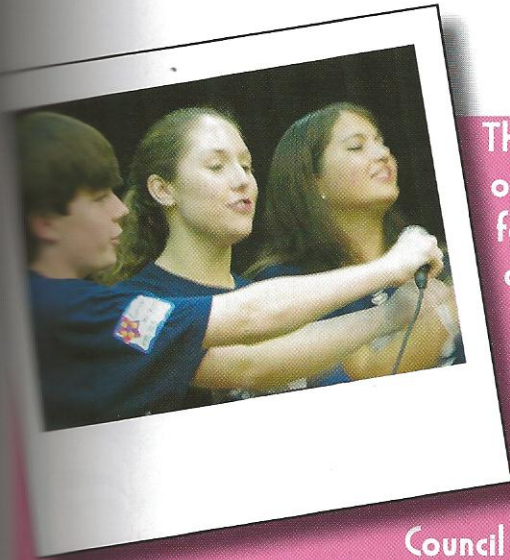

Senior Marvin Holmes, a very generous student, gave blood at the 2007-2008 blood drive sponsored by the National Honors Society "Giving blood was a great experience, it was the first time I have ever given blood," Marvin said.

Your an Honorary Member!

NHS / Student Council

The National Honor Society and the Student Council have been two of the most noted organizations at Colleton County High School for many years. They are in charge of things like homecoming district rallies and much more. They sponsor blood drives, can food drives and they have also done a lot of community service. The NHS and the student council have been much more than just organizations, they're a group of people who come together as a family to help make our school and our community a better place for us as well as little children to grow. "The Student Council and the National Honor Society are a great group of people with great leadership" sophomore Knox Martin said

- Caitlin Cottingham

"I decided to join the NHS because it gives us the chance to help out the community and, it also really good on college applications," junior Rebecca Hamilton said.

"I like being in the student council because it gives me the chance to voice my opinion," junior Kavita Patel said

"To me, being in the student council means setting a good example for the younger generation of students," Freshmen Dani Sexton said.

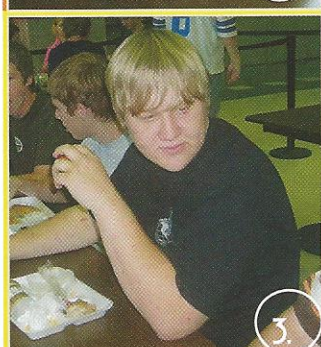

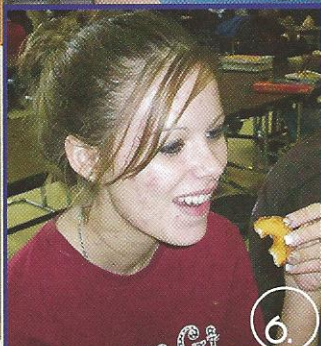

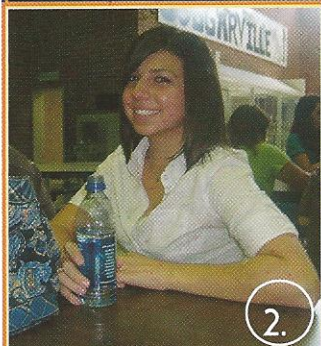

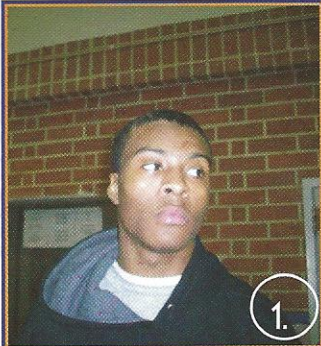

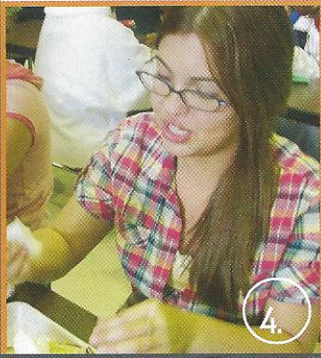

"I choose to get involved with the NHS because it recognizes students academically and it's fun getting to spend some extra time with my friends," senior Ankur Desai said.

1.) Junior Keneon Francis acknowledged a friend as he walked to lunch. "I love to eat. I get two of everything I eat," Keneon said.

2.) Senior Adrienne Nettles laughed at the lunch table with friends. "If I'm really hungry, I eat at the cougar grill," Adrienne said.

3.) Senior Joseph Anderson picked a friend during lunch. "I hate the pizza, the cheese and crust are always burnt," Joseph said.

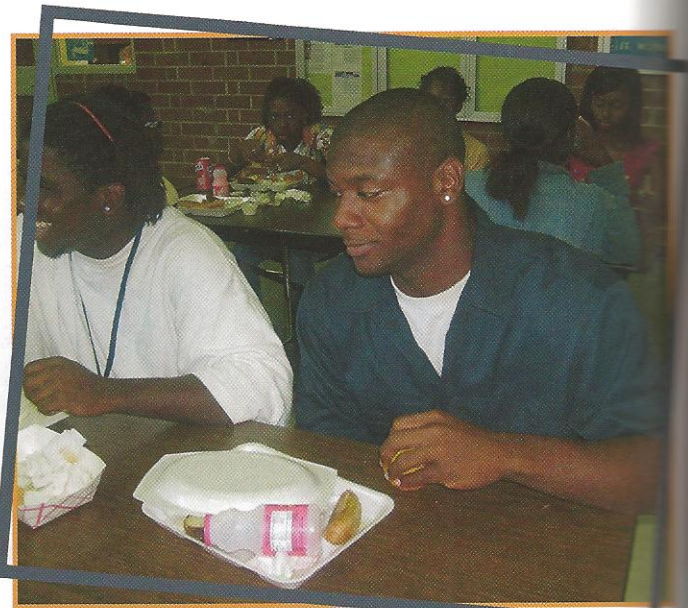

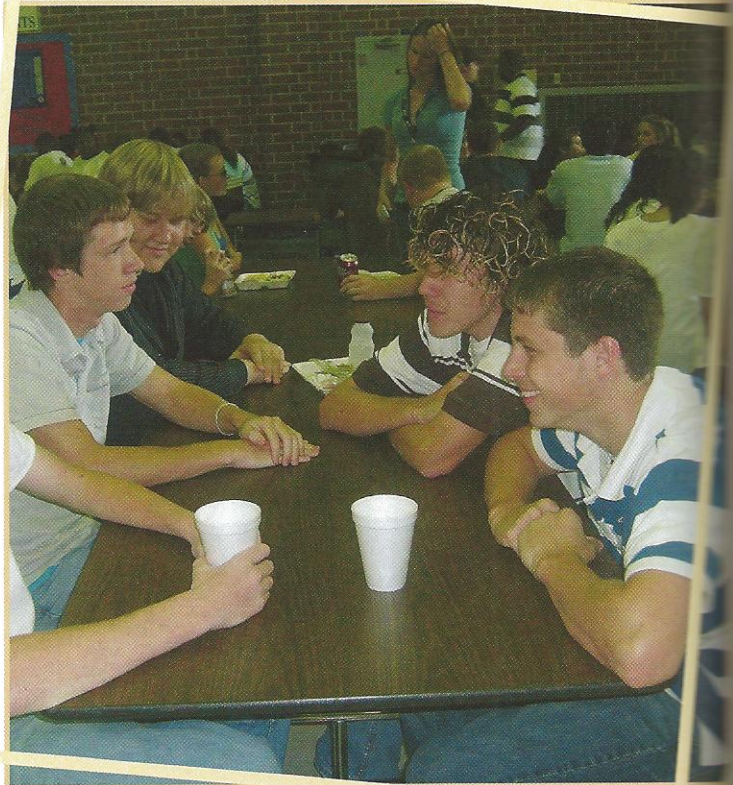

1.) Junior Stephanie Felder stuffed her face. "I really wish they had Alfredo, or Taco Dell. That would make lunch better," Stephanie said.

2.) Senior Joseph Prater laughed with his friends and tried to look cool. "The chicken wrap is probably my favortite thing to eat, everything else bites," Joseph said.

3.) Senior Drittany Lyons enjoyed her lunch. "It would be awesome if they had chinese food. I would buy lunch more often," said Drittany.

The boys sat and socialized while they drank their tea. "My favorite thing about lunch is throwing food across the table at my friends, it's just something we do," said senior Jacob Varn.

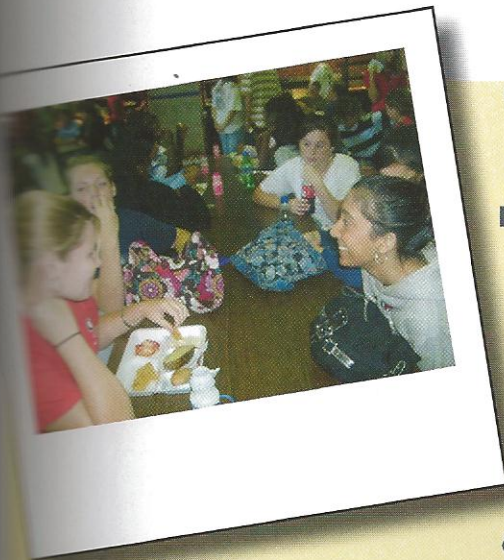

Senior Andre Collum sat with friends while he finished his lunch. "Lunch is ok. It would be a lot better if we could leave for lunch though," said Andre.

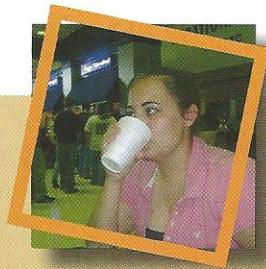

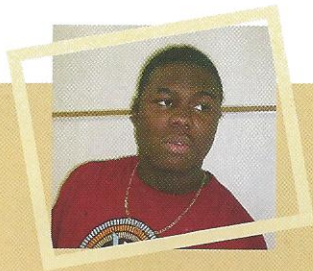

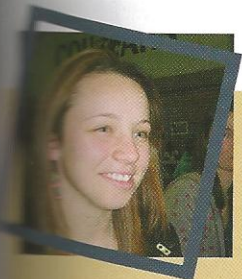

Who's Hungry?

Lunch

Eating in the cafeteria at school didn't seem like the most special thing in the world, and all of the loud noise and long lines didn't help any. A lot of students found something positive to say about lunch. "My favorite thing about lunch is just getting to go outside and eating with all my friends. Oh, and talking!" said junior Drian Petit. The new additions to the lunch room such as the new lines had made getting lunch a lot easier and offered more variety to the student body. Lunch gave students time to eat, socialize, and make new friends. How do you spend YOUR lunch?
-Danielle Craddock

"I wish the lines would go faster so I could spend more time eating and talking to my friends," sophomore Isabella Mercer said.

"I wish they served hot wings, because they are good," senior Markel Brown said.

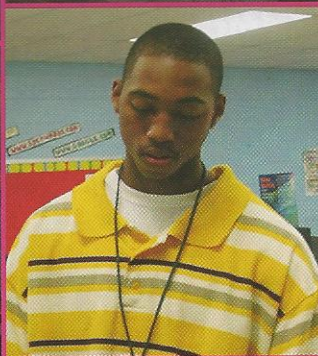

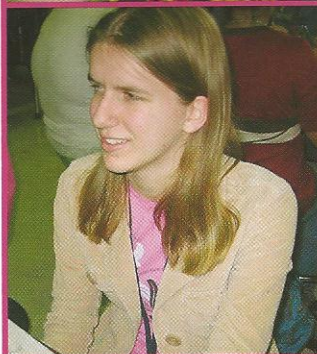

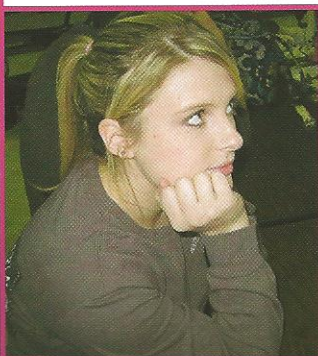

"I usually eat chicken tenders. They're the best," junior Brooke Crosby said.

"I like to eat at the sub line or the chicken line, but the subs are my favorite," senior Phillip Stone said.

1. Senior Holden Crosby hangs in the hallway after the bell. "To be in AP classes you have to be pretty dedicated cause there is a lot of work involved," Holden said.

2. Senior Rebecca Wicker sits with friends at lunch. "I like that the classes are small because you can get more attention from the teacher," Wicker said.

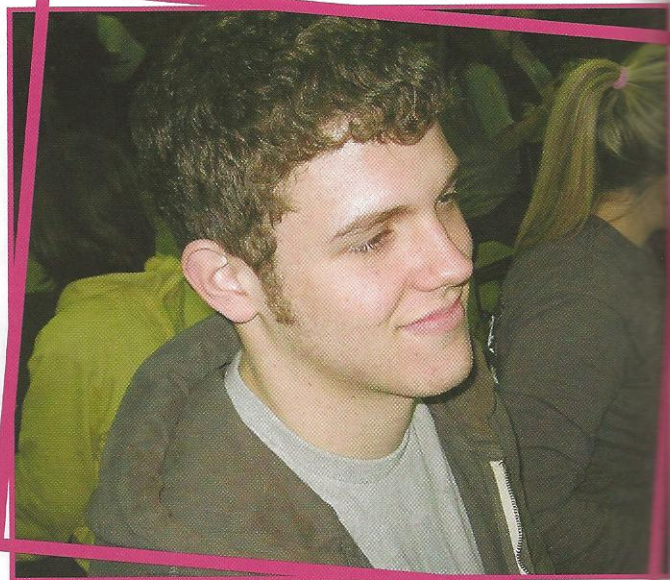

1. Senior Ashlyn Miller thinking about her studies. "You have to be pretty dedicated, but you can still do good and have a life," Miller said.

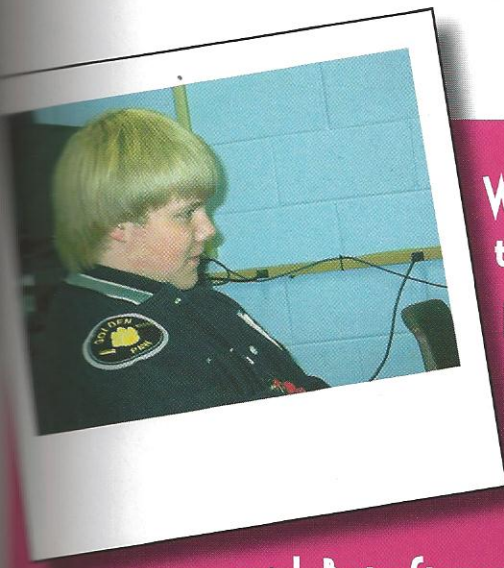

2. Senior James Varnado reads a book. "If you are lazy then you will get behind on your work, and you will never be able to catch up," Varnado said.

Senior Lehe Ruegner studies at lunch. "The hardest part about it, is trying to stay awake in class. There is a lot of studying to do, if you want to do well," Ruegner said.

Senior Sydne Youmans thinks about a math problem. You have a lot more work to do and it challenges your mind more," Youmans said.

Smarties

When most kids sat down to make their schedules, the last thing on their minds was taking an advanced placement or an AP class. Some considered honor classes but AP was out of the question. An honors class by itself was a load and at times so was CP. "An AP class is tough because it is not a sleeping class. You do advanced college work," Senior Justin Ritter said. But after realizing the benefits of taking an AP class, some students decided to take them after all.

— Amanda Pinckney

"There is more preparing for and teaching an AP class because there is more writing, and I have to go in greater detail," Mr. Smith said.

"I would recommend this to other students only if they have lots of time to devote to it," Ashley Hardee said.

"I chose to teach an AP class because it is a chance to teach kids who think more deeply," Mrs. Blocker said.

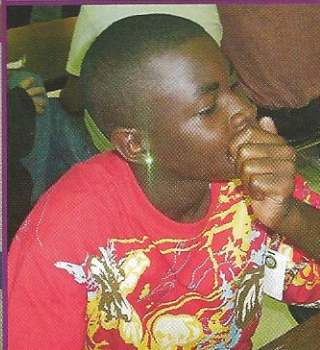

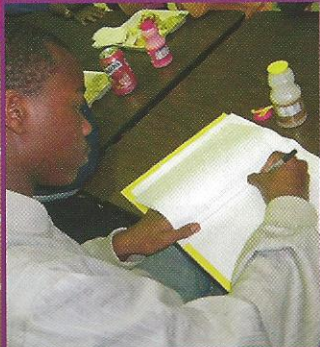

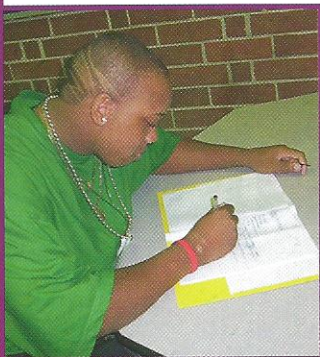

"I wanted to work with the best and brightest students that we have also the ones who like a challenge," Mrs. Crosby said.

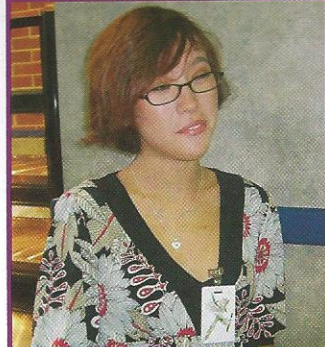

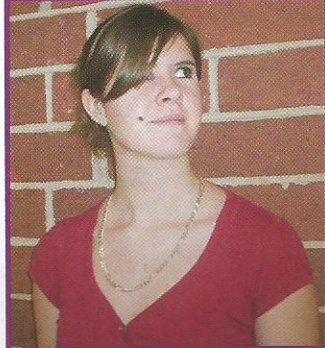

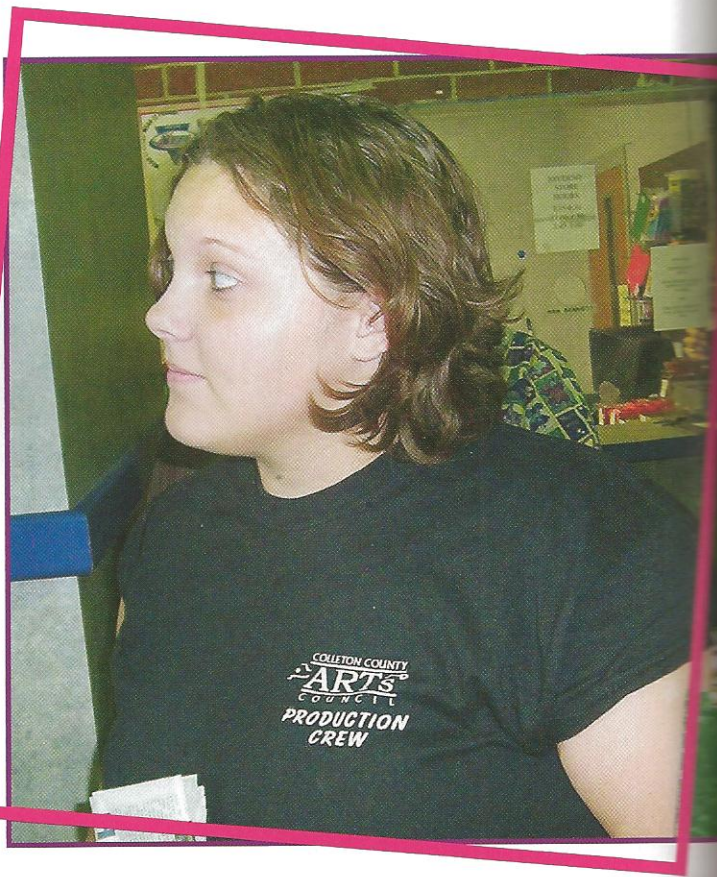

1. Junior Maley Deam hung out in the hallway between classes. "I like to write, I get to use my imagination," Maley said.

2. Junior Lian Fick waited in the lunch line. "I love to read," Lian said.

3. Sophomore Taurean Dligan dazed off while sitting at the lunch table. "I don't like reading because it is boring," Taurean said.

Junior Laura Linkous discussed an article she had read in the school newspaper. "I love writing poetry and reading. It gives my mind something to do," Laura said.

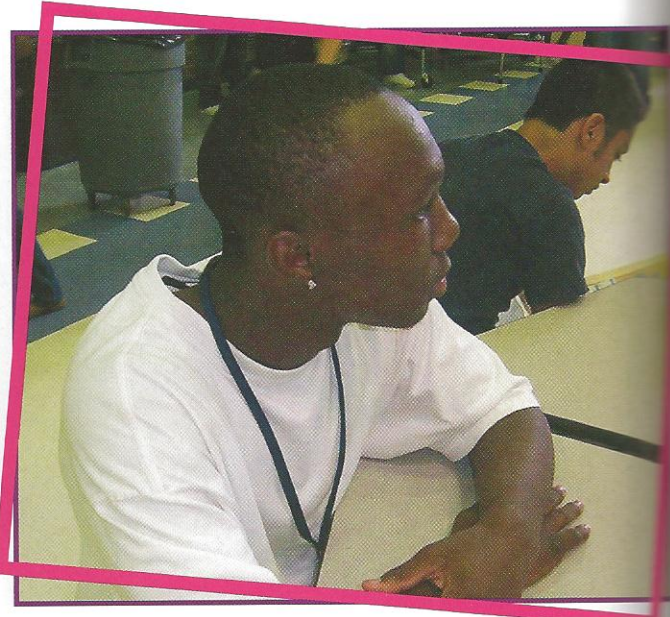

1. Junior Drandon Wesley was writing an essay at lunch. "Summer reading is a waste of time," Drandon said.

2. Freshmen Antonio Smith finishes up a homework assignment during lunch. "I don't like summer reading because you have to take time off your vacation to read," Antonio said.

3. Sophomore Henry Washington chatted with friends during lunch. "Summer is not the school's summer it is ours, and if we want to read we will, and if we don't we won't," Henry said.

Junior Chris Williams thought about what to eat for lunch. "Summer reading is not fair because it is the only time we actually get to ourselves, without having to do work," Chris said.

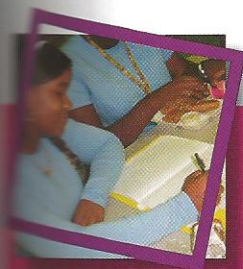

The Reading Rainbow

English

We all needed English to be able to succeed in life. English played a big role in our life from learning to read, write, and knowing proper punctuation. Learning English helped us to write good essays and to speak properly. Pronouncing a word correctly helped to spell and know the definition of that word. English was a hard subject, but staying on top of it was very helpful in the long run. "It stimulates my mind," said Sequoyah Pagan as she read the newspaper. It took good teachers to help students do well in English.

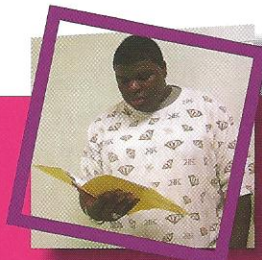

-Kitty Page

Junior Missouri Moultrie did a writing assignment for English. "Through writing, I can express my feelings,"

Junior Matthew Andrews stood at his table during lunch. Reading. "It just does not catch my interest," Matthew said.

Senior Dylon Jerideau did work in the hallway. "I like writing because it's good to get stuff off your mind," Dylon

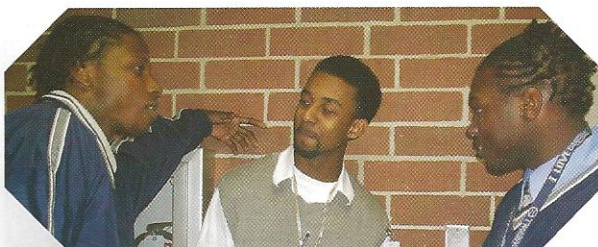

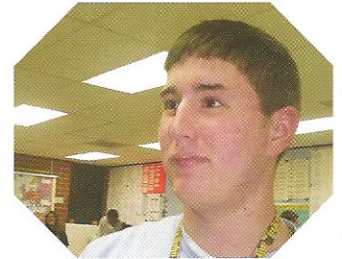

Junior Kari Harper finished up a letter to her friend at lunch. Writing: "It gives you something to do when you are bored," Kari said.

The JV girls have pushed hard and worked for everything they've achieved during this season. Day after day they ran down the court practicing and striving to improve for the next challenge that would be thrown their way. With the varsity girls having such an amazing season they know they one day will have big shoes to fill and greater boundaries to break through.

The JV boys have had there ups and downs on the court. Like most teams you begin the season with a base and continue to build off of that throughout the season.

Personal victories and the ones shared by the team gave them confidence and the losses gave them more goals to achieve in the near future. They have given the program a future to look forward to.

1. Junior Anthony Sherill #31 goes for the tackle. "I like football, because every play I get to hit someone," Anthony said.
2. Junior Logan O'Quinn #5 waits for the ball to be thrown. "Sometimes the game can go slow," Logan said.
3. James Wrice #81 catches the pass. "You can fly past someone and get a touch down," James said.
4. Wightman Smoak #16 going for a pass while team mate Kalin Johnson #8 blocks for Wightman. "I feel like zorro, because I get the ball and score a touchdown," Kalin said.
5. Sophomore Dakota Mitchell #50 and Terry McMillon #61 pursuing toward the ball carrier. "I get to release my beastiality," Dakota said.

Junior Varsity Football has put in lots of practice hours the past year to work on perfecting their season. Many students look up to the football players as role models, putting them in the spotlight throughout the year. Through their wins and loses they struggled to make a good season. JV had a good season this past year. "I play running back because I want to have an impact on the whole entire game," freshman Kalin Johnson said. The CCHS students will continue to cheer for the team and hope for continual success.

#10 Wightman Smoak backs up #8 Kelin Johnson while he runs with the ball. "I play running back because I want to have an impact on the entire game," Kelin said.

#13 Kevin Adams runs around the other team member with the ball to try and make a touchdown. "You can fly past people to make a touchdown," Kevin said.

#81 James Wrice tries to dodge by #12 on the other team to try and get a touchdown. "I play wide receiver because of Randy Moss," James said.

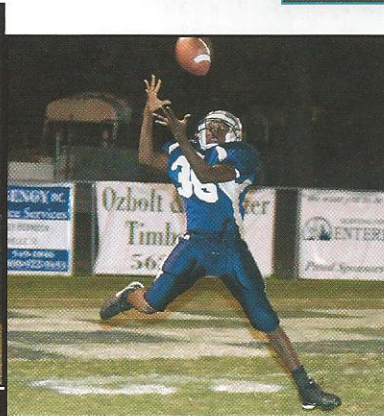

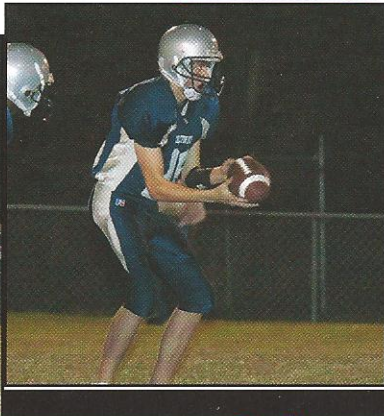

#33 Trey Bailey punts the ball. "Kicking the ball is not hard, it's just how you hit it depends on which way it goes," Trey said.

#16 Wightman Smoak throws the football to a team mate. "Playing football you have to be fast when doing anything," Wightman said.

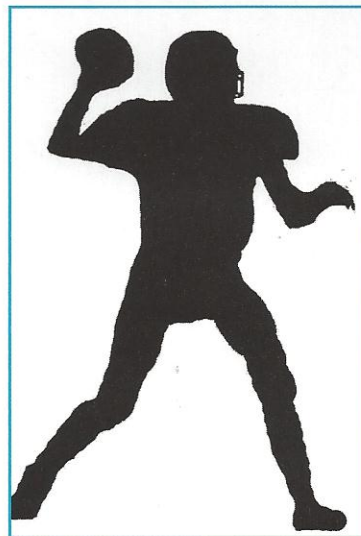

1. Nequan Brown #10 attempts to block the kick. "Football is a sport with physical contact," Nequan said.
2. Wightman Smoak #16 hands off the ball. "When playing football you want to be kind of sneaky with the ball," Wightman said.
3. Eric Kirkland #36 catches the kick. "It makes me play good because I know everyone is watching me," Eric said.

- 1) Freshmen Taylor Fox does a twist cradle coming out of her stunt. "I like stunting, because it is kind of like a roller coaster, it's a lot of fun," Taylor said.
- 2) Junior Ronniktrix Cobbs shows spirit after the cheer. "I wish we could compete because I use to do it when I was living in Atlanta Georgia," Ronniktrix said.
- 3) Senior Danielle Campbell cradles out the stunt at the football game. "I love performing for people and feeling the adrenaline rush," Danielle said.
- 4) The Cheerleaders set up in their stunts and wait for the football players to rip through the banner. "Home games are fun because you have a lot of your peeps there and it's always nice to play on your own turf," junior Courtney Ivey said.
- 5) Sophomore Ashley Dilke poses at the end of the dance during the pep rally. "I like performing dances and stunts because dances are our strongest aspect of the squad and stunting is my favorite part of cheerleading," Ashley said.

Cheerleading

A lot of people don't understand how much hard work and dedication it takes to make a good squad. Since new head coach Amanda Lucas came, things have been different. The squad has wanted to work harder to be better. They have participated in cheer camps during the summer to heighten their level of stunting and dancing. They have pushed themselves to the limit to get to where they are now. Practicing day in and day out to make sure cheers, stunts, and dance routines are perfect. They have also participated in school events more, and have had more school spirit than in the past. They worked hard to get their fellow students involved in school events, by making posters to decorate the halls and the football teams locker room. The cheerleaders put pride in every thing they do and they will continue to grow.

-Leslie Lawson

"I've always enjoyed dancing and I have watched the cheerleading competitions on TV since I was a little girl, so I guess that's what brought me to doing it," junior Courtney Ivey said.

"Yes, cheerleading is dangerous because we stunt and throw people, so it can be dangerous if you mess around," junior Lindsey Lowery said.

"I love to cheer at the pep rallies, and the energy is great," freshmen Tiphany Doyd said.

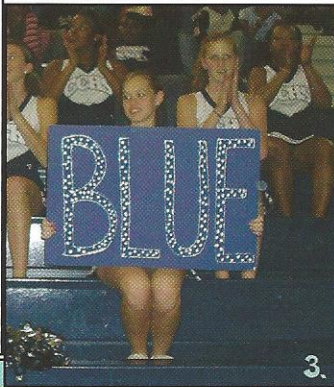

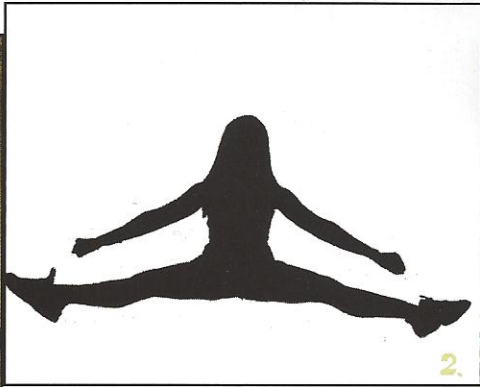

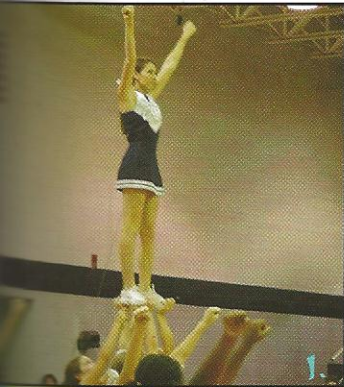

"I like performing at the basketball games because all the fans surround the team," junior Rebecca Herndon said.

"I would like to compete in competitions because I feel like it would be a fun experience against other schools," sophomore Ashley Dilka said.

1) Junior Danielle Campbell pulls a QP at the pep rally. "I honestly enjoy every part of cheerleading because I love dancing, I love cheering my team to a victory, and I love stunting cause I get thrown in the air and I'm basically the center of attention," Danielle said.
 2) "I like dancing because I'm good at it and I just love it," junior Lindsey Lowery said.
 3) Sophomore Amanda Lemacks held a sign to show school spirit during a basketball game. "Spirit wise I always try to encourage other students to attend games, pep rallies, and to support the football and basketball teams," Mandy said.

- 1) Junior Kenneth Mitchell was struggling to get away from his Goose Creek's opponent. "When I'm wrestling I don't get mad at the other opponent I get mad at the ref most of the time," Kenneth said.
- 2) Senior Cameron Lawson is using his muscles to keep the other wrestler on the floor. "I enjoy staying in shape it helps me out with wrestling," Cameron said.
- 3) Freshman Albert Longberry is trying to figure out what move he was going to throw out on the Goose Creek wrestler. "I like the colors and how it makes my muscles look good for the ladies," Albert said.
- 4) Junior Mark Regelin is shaking hands with the Goose Creek wrestlers after a good match. "I have good support group, both my family and friends come to see me," Mark said.
- 5) Sophomore Drandon Fraizer is trying to get out of one of the moves that Goose Creek has him in. "I enjoy wrestling very much!" Drandon said.

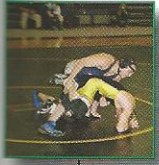

Wrestling!

This year's wrestling team has been working hard on everything. They put in long hours of practice to get the skills needed to win the upcoming wrestling matches. The coaches challenged them to do their best and to make it a great season. The wrestlers have been working out to get their muscles to take on the other competitors.

"I've hurt my shoulder before wrestling but it didn't hurt that bad," junior Mark Reglin said.

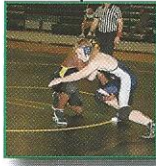

"Those are my boys. There are like my second family," junior Drian Colon said.

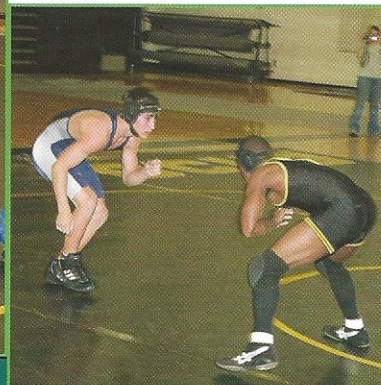

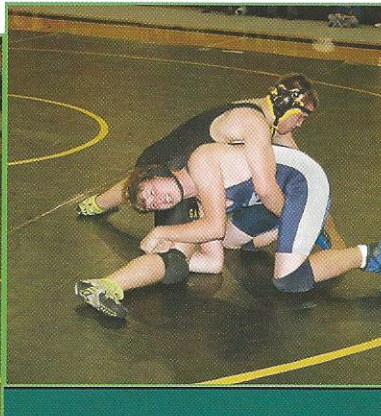

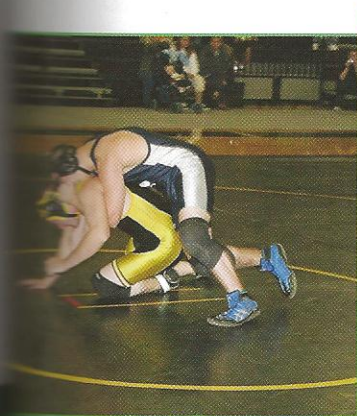

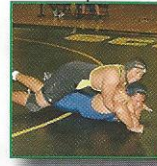

"I really like wrestling I've done it pretty much all through out high school," senior Cameron Lawron said.

"It's something I'm good at. Me and Cameron are the captains," senior Tristan Lapresta said.

"It doesn't hurt, because im trying to hurt other people," junior Mikey McQueen said.

1) Senior Tristan LaPresta has one of Goose Creek's wrestlers in one of their painful wrestling moves. "I've gotten into an arguement with one of my team members but me and him are cool now," Tristan said.

2) Drandon Fraiser is doing his best at the Goose Creek wrestling match. "I knew a few people on the team, my brother was apart of it last year that's pretty much how I knew them," sophomore Drandon said.

3) Freshman Albert Longberry is trying to figure out what the Goose Creek wrestler is about to do. "Summerville is hard, there like the number one ranked team, so I'm ready for that," Albert said.

The volleycougs in action!

1. Junior Sarah Smoak sets up to make a pass. "I think passing is essential in volleyball because you have to be able to work together and pass the ball back to the net to get it back over," Sarah said.
2. Senior Theresea Draeckline waits for the ball to cross the net. "I love the anticipation of waiting for the ball on the backline," Theresea said.
3. Sophomore Monica Simmons stretches to block a hit "Blocking is necessary in volleyball because even when you don't get a block it intimidates the other team. When I make a block it makes me feel good because I stepped up to what I had to do and accomplished it," Monica said.
4. During a time out, Coach Nick Seymour shares a few words with his players. "Timeouts are a necessary evil sometimes. They sometimes slow momentum if the other team calls them and its usually something we are not doing right when I have to call one," Coach Seymour said.
5. Freshman Anna Crosby dives to save a ball. "You don't always have to dive in volleyball. I haven't learned how to control myself, but yes, it is totally worth the bruises. Everytime I play I get more experience," Anna said.

Ace!!!

When you hear the word team, you often think of a group of people striving to do something and to do it together. In football the quarterback passes the ball to the wide receiver to get a touchdown. In basketball the point guard may pass the ball to the center to make a basket but in volleyball, it isn't that easy and isn't always that simple. When most people play volleyball, the object of the game to them is to get the ball back and forth over the net and whoever is the first to not get the ball back over loses the point but there is so much more to the game. You have to make sure the ball hits on the right part of your arms, you have to make sure that you pass to the setter so she can get it to the hitter, and you also have to make sure that you don't cross the line when you serve. Without a great deal of concentration, determination, agility, gut, and confidence volleyball would merely be your everyday walk in the park.

You Just Gotta Love It

"What keeps me motivated to play is knowing that I can spike and it's something I enjoy doing. I practice 100% all of the time," sophomore Jazzman Allis said.

"What I love most about volleyball is the game because I get really pumped up and it's really exciting. It's a big adrenaline rush," junior Sarah Smoak said.

"I enjoyed volleyball because it was fun and interesting. I was doing something new and got to meet new people," sophomore Darlen Greenwell said.

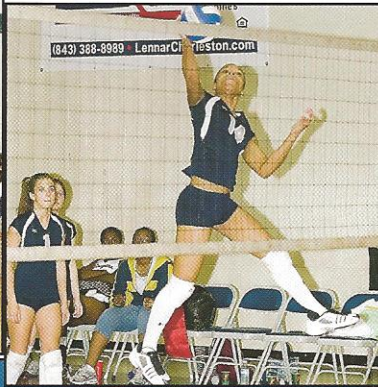

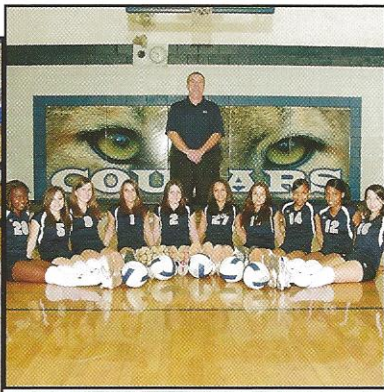

"What I love the most about volleyball is when you get a rally going with the other team and you win the point. It builds up your confidence and helps you to play better," sophomore Amanda Pinckney said.

1. The girls shake hands before starting the first match against Fort Dorchester. "I always feel excited and nervous before the game because of the aggressiveness. Some of the other teams were bigger but I never got intimidated," sophomore Kimberly Wright said.

2. "I like team pictures because everybody's in uniform and it looks so professional. Plus you have a memory of who was on your team because they may not come back next year," sophomore Amanda Pinckney said about the team's picture.

3. Sophomore Jazzman Allis goes up for a hit. "I like everything about hitting. It's not that hard once you put your mind to it. It feels good when I spike a ball and no one picks it up because I know I've played a big part in the game," Jazzman said.

Looking at her for the first time on the court, you would probably be intimidated by her height. You would have never thought that it was her first year playing volleyball. She could easily move across the floor and made plays look extremely easy. It was almost as if she was a college player instead of a high school player. "I feel motivated when my coach compliments me as a college player because it makes me like the sport even more and it makes me strive to do better."

- 1) Looking for room to run back a fumble, junior Mlakeem Williams ran like his favorite player Adam "Pac Man" Jones.
- 2) "What kept me focused was my pride and goals," senior Jeremy Crosby said.
- 3) Where everything starts, this dominate O-Line has given the offense much production this season. "What keeps me calm at the center position is knowing that everyone knows their job and that we have each others backs," senior Edward Aiken said.
- 4) After a hard win, the Cougars celebrated together. "I felt great winning the Sertoma game at the Citadel, I was so happy," senior Jamile Cochran said.
- 5) These dedicated few out of so many stand here with pride. "Sticking together through the one hundred degree weather is what help us to be a team," sophomore John Givens said.

Dedication!

In the sport of football you need dedication, pride, determination, and tough skin. Year round the team prepared physically and mentally with each other to become the best they could possibly be. Waiting on a chance to show everyone what they had, those players worked in the unforgiving sun over the entire summer. Many things kept those players dream alive to play for the team, and seeing the dream in progress is what made the team come together. "I stay dedicated to football by doing my work in class, coming to practice everyday, and doing what I can to help out," sophomore Andre Collum said.

-Edward Aiken

No Games When Cougars Attack

"What keeps me going is God, family, and friends," senior Leon Dowman Jr. said.

"The people I love to play with on the field is the right side of the O-Line," senior Corey Chapman said.

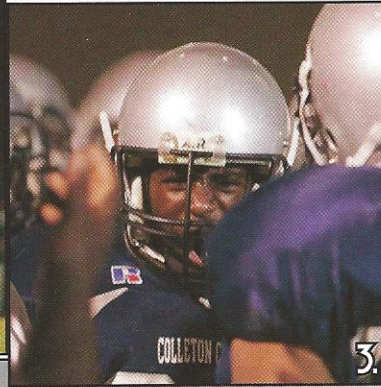

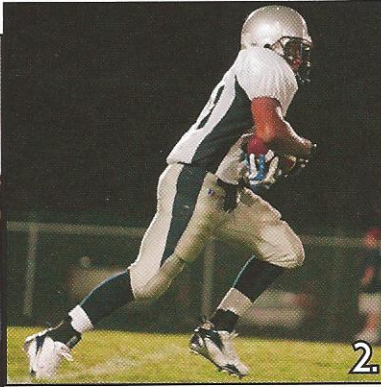

"What motivates me is knowing that I'm getting better by working out and applying myself on the field," sophomore Dakota "Waterboy" Mitchell said.

"During the game I stare into the eyes of my opponent. I love to prove that I am better than my opponent," junior Donte Drew said.

"My proudest moment was having over one hundred tackles in a season," junior Jamaal Parker said.

1) Getting ready for the game, senior Dyrone Jerideau thinks of how to dominate his opponents. "My proudest moment was when we beat Stratford on Hall of Fame night. Everyone was proud of us; our gift to past players was winning on that night," Dyrone said.
 2) James Sherman was rushing for big yards and winning games with his offense. "My proudest moment is running a 92 yard touchdown against West Ashley," senior James Sherman said.
 3) "Getting everyone motivated is why I have wanted to play this sport ever since I was a child," senior Steve Dright said.

Senior Zack Singleton is one of the most accomplished athletes of this school. He set the new passing record and was one of the top offensive performers of his starting years at quarterback. "My proudest moment was when we came back to win over Stratford," he said. It's been over ten years since our school beat them," Zack said.

1. Senior Jamile Cochran watches while one of his teammates goes to pass him the ball. "I play guard and forward. The guard is the person who handles the ball, and the forward plays the outside and the inside," senior Jamile said.
2. Junior Daval Johnson runs with the ball. "I play shooting guard because I'm one of the small players," Daval said.
3. Senior Andrew McAlhany stops and looks for someone to pass the ball to. "I play forward, which means I play down low by the rim," Andrew said.
4. The team huddles for a game plan for the next play.
5. Team players Daval Johnson, Darien Campbell, and Andrew McAlhany set up to get the ball back. "I've played basketball for three years," senior Andrew McAlhany said.

Getcha Head In The Game

The Colleton County basketball boys put a lot of effort and time in practice. They made it known that playing as a team will either result in winning or losing. "I think the easiest team was Stratford," senior Devin Clayton said. Being on the team required talent, not the height you were or how big you are. Another thing that kept the team together was grades and discipline. In the end the hard work they put in practice and the games payed off.

-Lindsey Craven

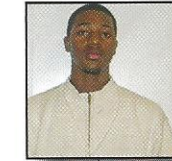

Ballin'

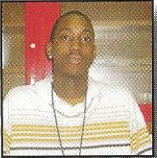

"The hardest thing about basketball is defense, because its full court press," senior Devin Clayton said.

"The easiest thing about basketball is shooting the ball," senior Dejon Murray said.

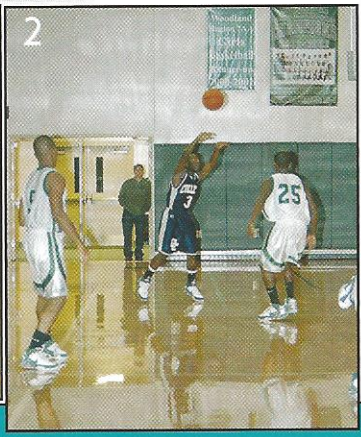

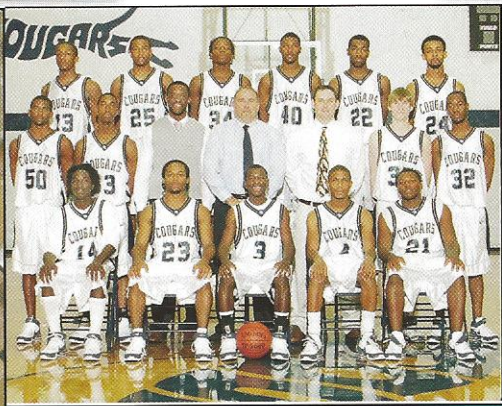

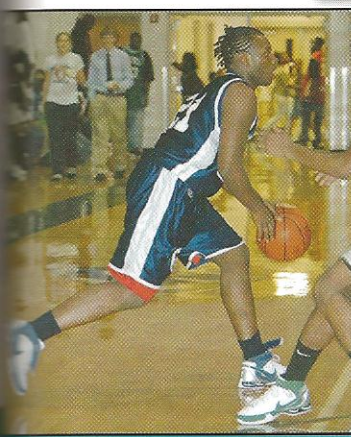

"The hardest thing about playing basketball is the conditioning, Coach Tew is trying to kill us," junior Terrill Stephens said.

"I play small forward, and I wouldn't play any other position, because I'm not that big, so I have to play on the perimeter. I'm also a good three point shooter," senior Jamer Vanardoe said.

"I like to play basketball more than any other sport because it stands out," junior Chad McMillon said.

1. Senior Darryl White tries to keep the ball away from the opponent. "I like playing defense because I'm good at it," Darryl said.

2. Senior Darien Campbell shoots the ball. "To get me pumped up before games I listen to slow music," Darien said.

1. Lady cougar's number 11, Tierra Holmes, was playing defence against woodlands' offence. "The best thing about basketball is that I am always surrounded by my friends," junior Tierra said.
2. Number 33, Dranshea Drown, blocked the Woodlands' attempt to score. "Keep trying, practice hard, never give up and believe in yourself" senior Dranshea said.
3. Shalae Edwards, number 22, rebounded the ball and scored a basket before the offensive player could stop her. "I have been playing basketball since I was seven years old, but it feels like I've been playing since I came out the womb," sophomore Shalae said.
4. Drittany Reed and Tierra Simmons set up a defensive trap to get the ball back. "We may be girls, but we are just as good as the boys," junior Tierra said.
5. The Team posed for a team photo "I love coach, He's pretty cool and we all get along with him pretty well." junior Jocelyn Washington said.

She Shoots, She Scores

Girls got game! Girls varsity basketball has been one of the many leading sports at Colleton County High School. In addition to soccer, football, volleyball, track and cross country, the sport of basketball has been around for many years. It has been admired by many people, but for some it has just been another game. For the team members, basketball has been more than just a sport, it has given them the chance to prove that girls can do anything that the boys have been able to do. It has also been a source of inspiration to other girls who have had the dream of playing basketball. "To get hyped up for the games, we beat on the lockers, sing, and just have fun," junior Shyda Council said. The Lady Cougars are living proof that any male based sport can be played by a female with just as much spirit, strength, and power as any male basketball player could have ever hoped to imagine.

-Theresa Draecklein and Caitlan Coningham

"I love being on Colleton County girls varsity basketball team because we are all close like sisters," senior Christian Williams said.

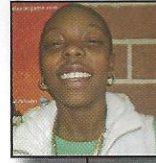

"I love playing basketball, but it is a lot of work" sophomore Loretha Chaney said.

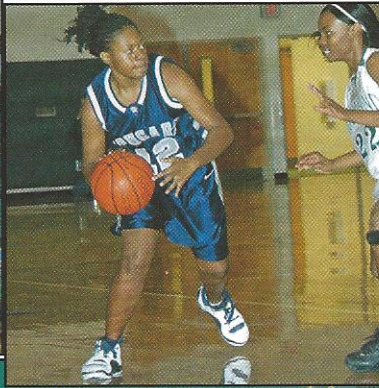

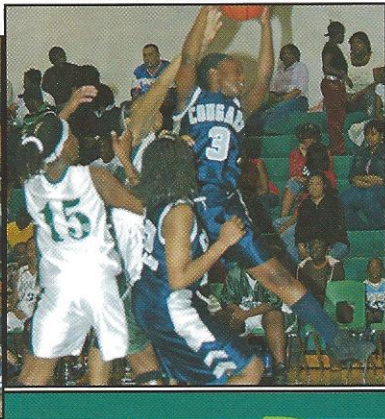

"I had a lot of fun going to Miami, Florida to play in the tournaments with other top teams," senior Brittany Reed said.

"We always have a lot of fun with basketball, but we also put our grades first before anything," junior Whitney Gates said.

"I think women sports are better than male sports," freshman Dridget Dell said.

1. Seniors Essence Jordan and Dranshea Brown battled with a Woodland player for the ball. "The whole team gets along with the coach because he keeps it real and pushes us to do well until we get it right," Essence said.
2. Freshman Jeronica Chaney jumped as high as the sky to rebound a shoot attempted by the other team. "This year is the first year Dridget Dell and I have played on the team and I like playing," Jeronica said.
3. Junior Iesha Burns confused a Woodland player because she fake dribbled to the right. "I began playing basketball in third grade and at that time my main reason for playing was my parents, but now I play because I enjoy it and it has become a part of my lifestyle," Iesha said.

Run Forest

"I prefer running in the woods rather than the track because running in circles can get old," freshman Reed Revell said.

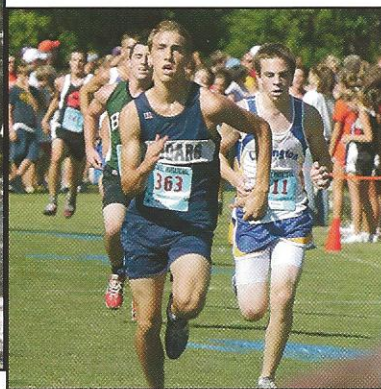

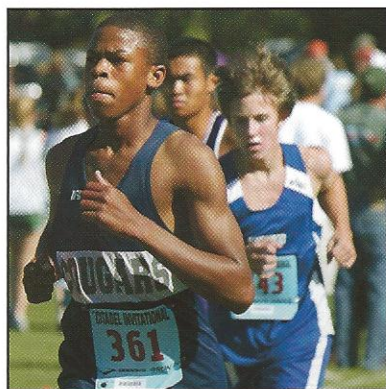

"I only drink water, milk, and tea during cross country season because soft drinks make me sick," freshman Tylar Douglas said.

"I had a shin splint before and it hurt so bad to where I couldn't run. It felt like a knife was going down my leg," sophomore Horizan Morrison said.

"I like running the distances because I know I always have a chance of catching up with someone if I am behind," sophomore Kendrea Hiers said.

"I try not to eat as many snacks during the season so I can stay healthy, and I try to eat spaghetti or pasta before each race," sophomore Katherine Schmitt said.

1. Junior Jabari Molloway was concentrating on passing the guy in front of him while running in a meet at the Citadel. "I prefer to run by myself because it helps me concentrate better than running with a partner," Jabari said.
2. Sophomore Hannah Ruegner was not only in pain, but was also ready to finish the Invitational. "I normally don't look at the scenery because it distracts me," Hannah said.
3. Senior Justin Weber passed three people while finishing up with a sprint. "I have tripped on roots before, but I would get back up and push harder to make up time," Justin said.

The past year Reed Revell, Hannah Ruegner, and Kenzie Garard were pushed hard to prepare for state. Coach Smith had them run trails, do speed work on the track, and work out. "The workouts were tough, but they prepared me a lot for state," freshman Reed Revell said. Although, they didn't bring home any trophies from state, the CCHS cross country team still had a great season. "I thought cross country season was a great experience that I had fun with, and I am planning on running again next year," sophomore Brittany Deach said.

. . . is proud to be the exclusive publisher of your school's yearbook and has been the world's leader in preserving memories for over 100 years. Now you can capture all of your own photos and memories of your specific group, team, family, youth group, etc. in a one-of-a-kind memory book.

- Upload as many of your photos as you wish and include some or all of them in your memory book.
- Choose from a variety of themes, covers, backgrounds, templates, colors, etc. to fit your personal style.
- Drag-and-drop technology makes placing and cropping your photos - and creating the book, in general - fun and easy!
- Add your own text in a variety of sizes, colors, and fonts so that you can tell your story the way it was meant to be told.
- Add digital "stickers" to embellish your page designs.
- When creating your book, "invite" family, friends, teammates, etc. to log on, view your current creation, upload their own photos for everyone's use, add to your project, and even create a memory book of their own . . . starting from yours.
- Your memory book includes a hard cover and 20 pages for just $34.99 and is even less expensive with our special access code at the bottom of this page.
- Choose from great, contemporary cover designs, including those with special applications, like embossing (with raised, 3D elements).
- You can have between 20 to 60 archival-quality pages in your memory book.
- Your finished memory book arrives to your door within 5 days of your purchase. Creating a login and password is free. Log in to www,OurHubbub.com and check out all the available options and see what all the hubbub is about!

Like every school year there were many new beginnings and endings for students here at Colleton County. As a freshman, students experienced their first day of high school, filled with new ambitions, dreams and hope. It was an atmosphere full of unfamiliar faces, surroundings, opportunities, and ways to get into trouble. In between settling in and finding your place you build new relationships with classmates, knowledge and foundations for the future. You learn to broaden your horizons and exceed your own expectations. As the year pass you mature throughout the experiences. Some friends that were made were also lost, some classes proved to be a little too hard, and your dreams you started high school with mold into new ones. Before you know it, it is senior year and you're finding a new outfit for your last dance on the gym floor and ordering graduation attire for that big day at the stadium. All that's left to do is keep the memories you've made and prepare to make new ones. As the final days approach you sit back and realize that through the pain, laughter, wins, and losses you gained one thing you'll keep with you forever. High school has taught you to step out of the shadows and let the real you shine to the rest of the world. Your freshman, sophomore, junior and senior years were all preparations to what's in the world after high school. Living life, taking chances, making life long memories, and forming big dreams is what it's all about. It's up to you to outshine the shadows of yesterday.
