Colleton County High School

SeniorsStudent LifeAcademicsSports

Throughout the short years spent at Colleton County High, people were given opportunities to share their "myspaces" to create "our space". From real relationships to unrecognized ones, those were the circumstances that made "our space". People parked in the same parking lot everyday, they shared a lunch period, or they had the same teacher at different times. Unknowingly, each person became connected in some way during high school, which was the key factor to "our space".

The purpose of Myspace was to display who a person was; his friends, his thoughts, his interests-his life. Like the trendy creation from our good friend Tom, the creator of the popular website, figuratively speaking, everyone had a "myspace". Each person had their own thoughts and friends, likes and dislikes.

The years of high school were granted for the purpose of developing one's "myspace": learning about oneself through new experiences and relationships. By creating the individual spaces, through Colleton County High, the spaces emerged to make everyone's space.

After stuffing her face and climbing the rock wall senior Charity Weaver sat under her groups' tent just chilling with her friends. "I had a blast and I'm sort of sad its coming to an end. I wish I could have the whole day out here," Charity said.

We got spirit. We got food. We got a party. How bout you?

The tailgate party is a privilege that seniors have been enjoying for years and hope to enjoy for many more to come. It is a time that they spent with their fellow graduating classmates just having fun and stuffing their faces. "I thought the most fun thing about today was getting to cook and having fun with my friends," senior Gary Howel said.

- Beverly Hiott

Charity's Friends!

While putting the finishing touches on Charity's senior crown, Sarah smiles at her friends. "The most memorable thing about today will be just hanging out with my friends and having a good time," senior Sarah Smoak said.

Completely concentrated in not burning the hamburgers, Lauren Drawdy asked Kim to get the seasoning salt. "I think my food will by far be the best out here," senior Lauren said.

After many activities Lance Braye played some ball with his fellow football players. "The most memorable thing to me was the dance at our tent and throwing the football with my friends, it was just so much fun," senior Lance said.

Pointing to the big white letters 'NO SALT ADDED' on the ketchup bottle Brian complained once again about the 'nasty' ketchup. "Though the ketchup was disgusting it was ok because I could say that we were the only ones out here with saltless ketchup," senior Brian Drew said.

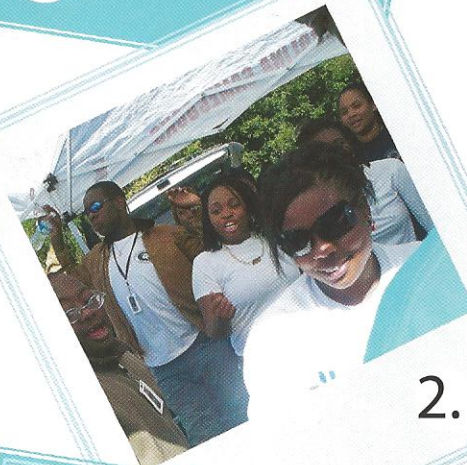

After eating plates of food Terri climbed 20 feet in the air to win a race on the rock wall with a friend. "The most fun thing about today was definitely the rock wall. It was nice doing something that you can't in your back yard," senior Terri Winn said.

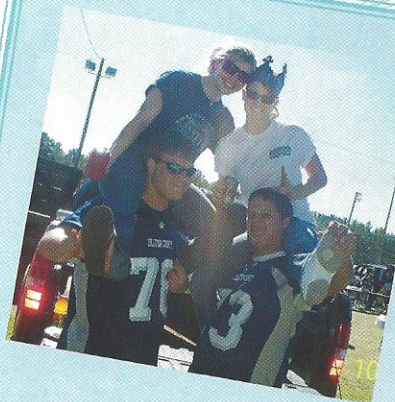

After dancing with his classmates Jabari, while wearing a mask of President Barack Obama, was asked if he had anything to say about the tailgate party, his reply, "I am Barack Obama and I approve this party," senior Jabari Holloway said.

Senior April Simmons was sitting in the Commons Area during her lunch. "During the summer I wore sandals the most because it was hot outside," April said.

Senior Clifton Brown learns how to work the Smart Board at the beginning of his math class. "I was ready to come back to school during my vacation, because I was lonely," Clifton Brown said.

Fun in The Sun

Summer was a time for fun. Of course some people loved traveling to different places during their summer vacation. Others enjoyed eating at new restaurants, shopping, having cook-outs and hanging with friends. Some of our students thought we had a long enough summer vacation, and they were ready to come back to school.

How do you make money?

Ways to make money

For some people making money is not a thing, but for others it may be stressful. To tell you the truth, it depends on what type of career or business you have and how long you've been in that field. For those who have a favorite career or business, it shouldn't be hard to get into that field to make you a couple of dollars at all.

Prom night can be romantic with a date or just a night out with the girls. You spend hours getting dolled up in hopes for a special night. "This was my first prom and I really enjoyed myself and my friends. I can't wait 'til next year. I loved dancing all night and seeing everyone all dressed up. Prom was truly a night to remember," senior Iijima Saunders said.

Iijima's Friends

At prom last year entering the door Justin and his date Kavita posed for the camera. "What I liked most about prom was me because I was the life of the party," senior Justin Sherrill said.

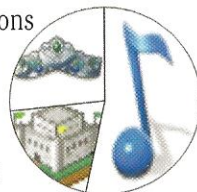

While everyone is having a good time dancing Jessica pointed out something so hilarious. "I think Lloyd Robinson was best dressed when he ripped his pants," senior Jessica Robinson said.

PROM PARADISE

Prom was the best time for you and your friends to all come together and have fun. Prom was a whole lot of dancing and picture taking. For most people prom was a night to remember. Prom was one time you can get all dressed up and spend hundreds of dollars on one night and not even think twice about it.

On the field Friday night Kennedy waited to receive her award for Miss Senior. "My best memory that night was dressing up and looking pretty," senior Kennedy Gibson.

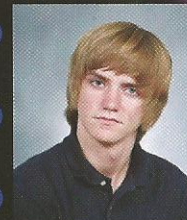

Teiara wore a black dress making her way through the ROTC men, when she won Miss Junior. "I wish the boys would be able to run in their class so we could walk together on the field," junior Teiara Kelly said.

Crown to Touchdown

It all comes down to one night when you walk on that field all dressed up and glamorous not knowing what's in store. These girls worked hard trying to convince everyone in their class why they should represent them. Though everyone worked very hard four young ladies came out on top and the most important one is the Homecoming Queen. Who wouldn't want that label?

With today's economy crisis, the price of everything is going up: such as gas prices, food, and even the electric bill. It's so hard to afford the basic necessities of life. This year, school supplies were hard to come by because of the prices. Even though students clothes are necessities for school, they don't know how much is too much!

~Surfs Up~

Teens today probably couldn't live without the internet. They spend hours a day surfing the web, interacting in chat and game rooms, and joining online communities. There are millions of websites out there, all available to anyone who has a computer and connection. Half of the school more than likely has a MySpace account, and the other half has a Facebook profile. Some even have both! It's an easy way to keep in touch with those people you don't see on a daily basis. The internet opens up a new world with amazing possibilities, and we're learning more and more about it all the time!

Think PINK

Flourished along hills of flowers
 The wind blows slightly as minutes and hours
 Pass through time but no one thinks
 About the depth and strength of the color pink.

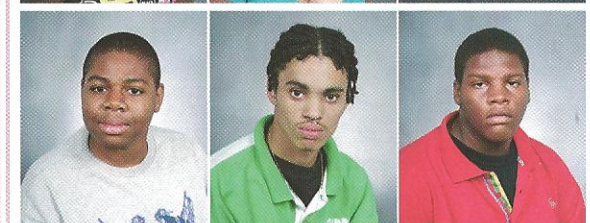

Representing those who give new life
 And respect their responsibility as a wife.
 And even if they fail the test
 They fight the cancer in their breast.

Raising children as they're able,
 Working to put food on the table.
 And for men who have a softer side
 It shows that it's okay to cry.

With more strength than people see
 This color is more than we let it be.
 And regardless of what others think
 There's a depth and strength in the color pink.

MEET new people. FIND old friends

Do just that and much more at myspace.

Maria Burgos explained her feelings about how MySpace has contributed to society. "MySpace eats up your free time. It takes away your life. It makes you have no real friends and only online ones and seems to encourage ugly teens to take thirty to forty pictures of all the same poses that no one wants to see," junior Maria said.

Maria's Friends

Coming out of the closet in Video Production's equipment room, Mindy Hires went to audition for the movie that nobody was making. "Myspace provides me with Buddy Poke. I hated apps (applications) before Buddy Poke," junior Mindy said.

Realizing for the first time how special she really is, Jill Beebe proved her strength by pushing over a concrete cone in the parking lot. "Myspace helps me to keep in touch with people, make new friends, and has surveys for me when I am bored," junior Jill said.

I could contribute as a positive member to society... but I think I'll just get on myspace.

Once upon a time the only way little boys and girls could talk to the unrelated elders of society, thirty and forty years older than themselves, was to access unsafe sites designed for "chatting" meant for "adults" eighteen years of age and older. This disrupted families and made it harder for tweens and those eligible to live in never land to express their individuality. This was the third largest dilemma only to that of discovering the truth about Santa and finding out the Tooth Fairy forgot to leave the money under the pillow... again. Finally one day, the most intelligent man in all the land had an idea. He was known as Tom and he decided that everyone, no matter what their age had the right to exploit themselves and communicate to the world every bad idea they've ever had. Myspace was created and ever since there has been peace and tranquility throughout the land... for those over fourteen.

Extinguishing the flame of excitement for social networking sites, Laura Linkous attempted to show a student the error of her ways. "People spend too much time on Myspace," senior Laura said.

Admiring the beautiful arrangement welcoming students and despondent parents to the main office, freshmen John Payne took time to reflect on the technological advancements of our time. "MySpace has helped me connect with more of my friends," John said.

Implementing the standard broken by those who think red means go, sophomore Shannon Beckett stood up to the notion that MySpace stunts intellectual growth and social awareness. "MySpace lets me talk to my friends. I put pictures, videos, and songs on there," Shannon said.

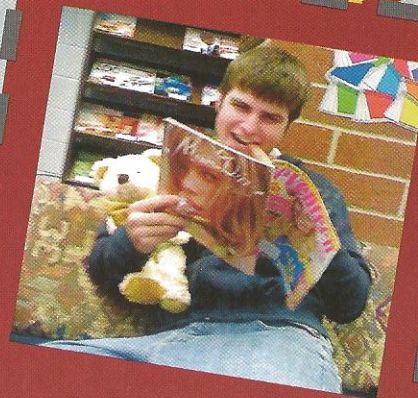

James Padget, enjoying his game of hide and seek, explains his view of Myspace. "I get on MySpace every night," sophomore James said.

What do you keep in your purse?

Senior April Simmons was in the Main Office signing out after a long day of school, "I always keep my personal items in my purse," April said.

What's inside?

Did you carry a purse or bookbag? A lot of people did simply to keep their things close by. People used bookbags to carry their books to their classes, some girls carried purses to keep their makeup, pens, cellphones, and cameras in. Purses and bookbags were a unique way to keep yourself just a bit more organized.

Music is an integrated part of everyday life. Although different genres separate us in our taste, the feelings we get from our favorite music can be the same. Music arouses feelings of joy, sadness, love, and anger, but does the genre of music you listen to and the emotions it provokes determine a person's actions? "I don't think music necessarily affects how you live, but who you are affects the type of music in which you listen," senior John Hiott said.

Time For A Change

Going to a new school can be really difficult. Doors of opportunity can be opened, but that does not necessarily make for a smooth transition. Students were surrounded with new people, a new environment, and new rules. This year, the school had to make sure that transfer students were able to receive credits that they already earned from their other schools and that state standards were upheld with students from other states.

3. Constance Lingard stood outside Coach Ritter's Geometry class during first period because she missed a test for him when she was out sick and the class was going over it. "Never give up," sophomore Constance said.

Leaving The Books Behind

The students all knew that math and English were important and that they needed them to help them succeed in everyday life, but after a while those classes got pretty boring! Elective classes helped the students get out of our every day routine and they got a chance to do something fun. CCHS had everything from welding classes to nursing classes offered as electives. Elective classes gave us practice at a potential jobs, a chance to learn new things, and gave a break from the “everyday” classes.

Anna Crosby was outside the Commons Area at lunch talking with some of her friends during fourth lunch. "I think study hall is pointless. They should let those students be teacher's assistances and actually give them something to do," sophomore Anna said.

Sophomore Pedro Guillen was working hard in his second period Spanish class. "I think the foreign language classes are important because you need to be able to speak different languages for certain jobs," Pedro said.

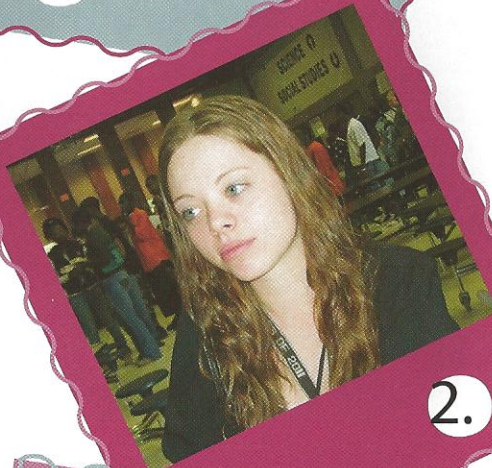

Junior Amber Garvin was talking on the phone to her friend Ashley outside after school. "I think the best elective class I've taken so far is health science," Amber said.

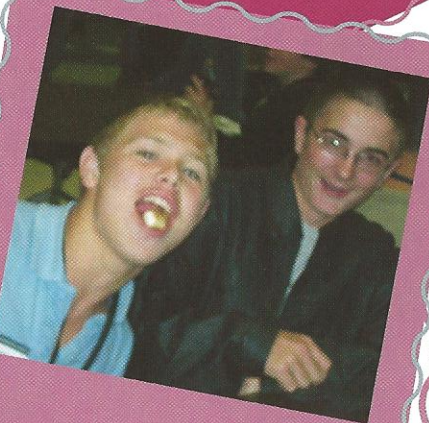

During lunch freshman Michael Travis thought about how his classes now may affect his future later. "ROTC will probably help me after I get a job because it teaches me discipline and organization," Michael said.

Shakera was eating during 4th lunch. "Maybe if Ms. Ballard wasn't so crazy I would like her class more," senior Shakera Washington said.

Larhonda was doing her math work during 2nd lunch. "I think I'll like Ms. Bordieanu class if she would let me do what I want," senior Larhonda Stephens said.

I HATE THIS CLASS!!

Dreaded classes are the classes that people hate going to or don't find as interesting as their other classes. Most of the students find it to be boring because they say the only thing that the teacher does is talk. Finally the rest wish that there was more student involvement.

All students had forgotten about it once or twice. It didn't go away though. It never goes away. It haunted them when we tried not to think about it. After eating 2nd lunch in the Common's, Renee took time away from studying for an AP Government test to tell us about her AP class. "The class is a college type class, it puts you in that sort of situation where you'll know what to expect from college and it forces you to teach yourself to be more organized," said junior Renee Brooks.

Senior Ashley Hardee was also eating 2nd lunch in the Common's when she relived her past experiences from taking AP History. "The class prepared me for college and gave me a deeper understanding of the subject," Ashley said.

College...In High School?

Though said to be difficult, it seemed as if every junior and senior at CCHS was taking at least one AP class. So what is an AP class? AP stands for Advanced Placement classes. They are classes set up to parallel college courses; students can acquire a free college credit if they pass the national exam at the end of the course and they could gain their personal satisfaction that there is hope for them when or if they enter college.

Write It; Act It; Read It

Drama, Newspaper, and Yearbook... when you think of those classes you don't know how much work and effort goes into them. Deadlines were so important in all of those classes. There were many benefits that come with the classes. You learn many new things like how to speak in front of others and how to turn things in on time. ## STEPPING OUT

The Kappa League and Distinguished Women are two step teams we have at our school. They all work hard every practice they have to get the steps right before performing at a pep rally or some where else for the public and their fellow students at school. "Kappa League is a great program for young men. We have the chance to go visit colleges, meet new people, and step. Many people see the good things but not the hard work we put in it. We have to maintain a good GPA, a clean discipline record, and be a good citizen of CCHS. We also have to do community service hours once a month. The long hours after school studying and doing extra work pay off in the long run," junior John Givins, a Kappa League member, said.

It's Great To Give Back

With the purpose of creating enthusiasm for scholarships, stimulating a desire to render service, and promoting leadership, and to develop character in the students of secondary schools, our school's National Honors Society was actively involved in our community throughout the year. Each student dedicated 40 hours of their time towards community service and NHS sponsored events and accomplished their goals in bettering the world one service at a time.

Senior Hristos Stamatopoulos punted to put the Cougars in a better position. "The only reason I started playing football is to have something to do between soccer seasons," Hristos said.

Football is The best Forget The Rest!

At every high school in the United States it is a tradition for the students to go to the football games on those cold Friday nights, here that is no different. This year our football team had some of the best up's and worse let downs like the Summerville game! "I like the home games better because the crowd is bigger," junior Caleb Blankenship said. They all tried their best and pushed themselves to the extreme not only in games but also in every practice.

Get your life on track

When most people hear of track, they think that it has a lot to do with excessive nonstop running. The thought of becoming drenched in sweat and being in the scorching heat drives people away. To play a sport you have to have dedication, determination and passion towards what you do whether it is shot put and discus or long jumping. Every individual had to work on their own weaknesses so that the track team as a whole could achieve and do all that they could. Through it all, the work that the students put into track and field paid off and they managed to have a great season. — Chelsea Mixson

Batter Up!!!

In 2007 the lady cougars had one of the youngest teams around the low country. Still being competitive, teams around the state ranked them in the top ten in the state. In 2008 they stepped on the field ready to take charge and championships. Sweating, freezing, wet and tired, the ladies went through it all to make it to where they wanted to be. After a tough start to the season they came back to capture the Region 8-AAAA Championship leading them to a number one seed position in the State Playoffs. They followed it with a complete shut down over all the teams in their District grasping that championship as well. Through tough battles the cougars went on to make it to the final six teams in the state, losing out to the reigning two time State Champs South Florence 2-1. Having the best season since they have been titled the Cougars, there is no doubt that the dedication and heart was there. Being on this team myself I can say with confidence that we gave it all on the field never giving up. The future for this team continues to shine bright, the potential and talent is steadily growing.

Billy "William" reminisced about his past matches. "The most interesting thing that happened to me was I beat this guy in like 50 seconds," freshman William

Sock it to 'em

There are a lot of sports at CCHS. One sport that is very interesting to some is wrestling. Some of these guys enjoy this sport because it gives them a chance to beat people up in a good way. They practice long and hard to achieve thier goals. They take big risks at getting hurt, but throughout it all they play to win.

Vincent sat at the lunch table as his friends talked to him about his matches. "The most memorable match was the very first because it was a new experience," freshman Vincent Shider said.

Junior Charles Brock laughed about his experience during wrestling practice. "The most memorable thing that happened to me is when I broke my nose," Charles said.

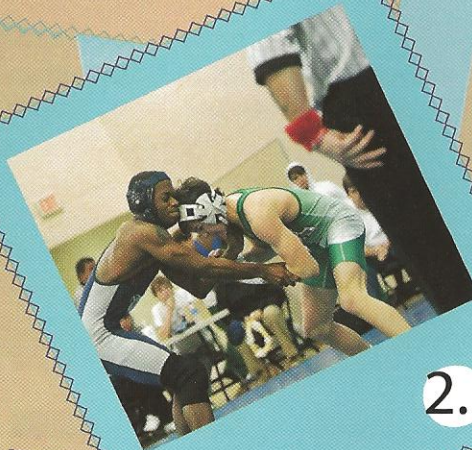

Curtis Hart listened as a guy down the hall shouted something at him. "The farthest place I traveled was to West Columbia," freshman Curtis said.

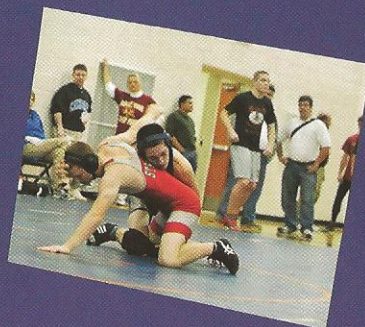

Senior Michael McQueen won his match and felt great. "[I enjoy being part of the wrestling team because] It put me in the best shape of my life, and I like leading a good group of men," Michael said.

"I like the coach because he helps us with things we're not so good at, and he inspires us to do better or do our best," freshman Douglas Bell said.

Doug's Friends!

"The only thing I don't like about soccer is when people steal the ball from me," freshman Andrew Floresca said.

"I like the coach because he's young, and he believes in everyone on the team," freshman Jarrett Ritter said.

[Kick it in The goal.]

Soccer is a very useful sport, not only to get in shape with, but to have fun too. The boys soccer team does 10 hours of practice a week, and some of the guys practice on their own as well. The coach of the boys soccer team is Kyle Coker, and Edward Fitch. Most of the guys on the team have been playing since they were little. Some of the players are thinking about pursuing a career in playing soccer, but others have their heads in the books trying to pursue their own dream.

Freshman Katelyn Ackerman chatted with a classmate while in the library. "I have been Playing Volleyball since I was in seventh grade", Katelyn said

Volleyball Stars!

Some people think that its nothing to volleyball. They think that it's a girly sport but what they fail to realize is that they work as hard as other teams. They have to remember plays and rules just like basketball and football. It takes concentration, determination, agility, guts, and confidence to play this game.

You were definitely one of the best friends I have ever had. We laughed at the stupid things that others rolled their eyes at. I miss you tremendously, and don't ever think that I'll ever forget you. I love you, Will.

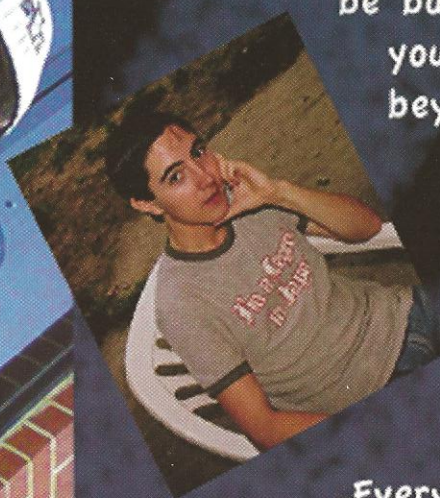

- Selah

Every day I am reminded of you. When I am talking, you're there. When I am driving, you're there. When I am out with our friends, you're there. Not a day has gone by that I haven't thought about you. I'm looking forward to one day being able to see you again, and then we can spend eternity yelling at each other about directions and which way is left. It hasn't been the same, nor will it ever be but I am so blessed to have had you in my life, and I appreciate beyond what words can describe what you did for me by being my friend. You taught me so much, whether you realized it or not, and I am so grateful. I love you Wil-i-um.

- John

Every one of us loves and misses you.
