

Singing, Singing, and more Singing!

The students in chorus like being there because they can sing in class without getting in trouble. Others like chorus because they get to show off their acting talent in the plays they perform at Hampton Street Auditorium. The chorus sings songs for Christmas and musicals in the spring. All year long singing is their thing!

Sophomore Khadeja Thrower was waiting in line to get her lunch. "I like being in chorus because I can sing without getting written up for it," Khadija said.

Senior Chelsea Blake was hanging with her friends. "The plays are my favorite part of chorus," Chelsea said.

Junior Campbell Wiltshire strolled down the hall. "I would really like to be in the Spring Musical," Campbell said.

Senior Rachael Durbin finished eating her lunch and hurried to class before the tardy bell rang. "I'm a first soprano," Rachael said.
