

Ciara Hilton at the Sub-Station II, 2004

Glenn Amberson stocks shelves at IGA

John Malphrus bags Fruit Loops at Food Lion, 2004

Raven Sampson takes a break from her busy work day at Reid's.

At 2:52, most students walk through the freshmen academy to head back home, leave to go to sports games or practice, or stay at school for extracurricular events. However, some students put on their other uniform to get busy at work. Students arrive at their workplaces, ranging from fast food restaurants to grocery stores. These students enjoy getting their paychecks throughout the weeks, and do their best at managing school assignments and work at the same time. Work is yet another way to connect with new friends that you didn't even know you went to school with.

Working for