As the basketball players practiced for their first game of the season, they were motivated to win. When their first game came into play, they were ready to hit the courts and play ball! As the season continued, all they wanted to hear during their games was, "they shoot...they score!" During each game of the season, they gave it their all and strived to win.

"Just as in real life, being a part of our Basketball team teaches you that if you get knocked down, you have to keep working and keep trying or you will lose. If you give up, you will never succeed in basketball or in the real world."

"Even though basketball comes second to school, it was always my primary option to any other sport.
