"No matter what difficulty you may be facing, you will always have the home field advantage you are always surrounded by the vocie of victory."
Jaques Glover

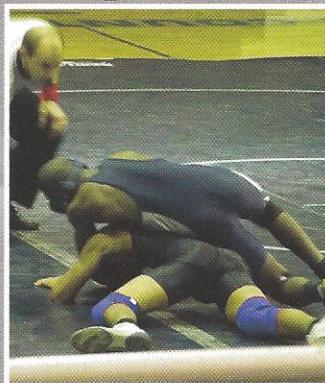

During wrestling season, the wrestlers begin to prepare to step into the ring of thunder. One lesson from months of practice, which they will always remember, is that they should never back down out of the ring. One by one, they enter the ring to begin their battle. The boys kept their mind on the prize, and didn't lose focus for anything. They didn't let anything distract them from winning. They hoped to be undefeated through any circumstance or situation.

Leadership

Tracy Braecklein

"I enjoy wrestling, and I feel accomplished because I went to lower state my senior year!"

Keion Glover

"Always get up when you're down."
