Twins

Seeing double?

Being a twin may sound like it would be a great thing, but surprisingly many twins believe the exact opposite. As a matter of fact, you may even hear them say things like, "I hate sharing my birthday," or "I don't like looking like him or her." Being a twin is a very unique thing, and usually you don't see too many. Twins may come into the world together but many venture out and onto different paths. As a twin, even though you might not always like each other, you have to love one another!
