

Mrs. Langston, Mrs. Waddell, & Mrs. Davis

Natarsha Bright sits and draws the head of another student for a head drawing project. For this project, students used plexi-glass to outline the student's head and then traced the head onto the paper. Finally, they design the background.

Cecil Westberry adds depth by shading the knees and feet of a portrait.

Courtney Cook drew a really lifelike self-portrait. Mrs. Waddell and many of her classmates agreed that her self-portrait is the best of their class.
