

Student Council is an excellent program that unites the students and the school. It is a great way to get involved and an even better way to boost your school spirit. Student Council teaches the importance of teamwork and helps its members utilize that skill while improving our school.

"I love to make new friends, and I enjoy the activities in Student Council. I get amusement out of being in Student Council," said Morgan Seabrook.

As president, what do you hope to accomplish this year?

"I would like to make Student Council a better organization and help the student body have a positive attitude towards every situation," states President, Morgan McCaskill.

How long have you been part of Student Council? Have you learned any life lessons as being part of this club?

"I have been in Student Council since the beginning of my 7th grade year. This extended period of time has taught me that in order to succeed in getting a task done, you must network, delegate, and learn to compromise because not everyone will agree with something all the time," said Vice President Calvin Bailey.

"Friends told me about it and it's fun helping the school," Sarah Tobin said.

Anna Davis joined Student Council because she "wanted to be involved in school activities."

What would you do to get people more involved in school activities?

Secretary Chelsea Douglas told us, "I would talk to them about what Student Council is all about and how fun the activities are."
