

All participants of 2010-2011 Student Council came together to take a group photo.

What made you want to be apart of Student Council?

"I joined Student Council because my family was telling me how fun it was and how they were in it," said Freshmen Chandler Stone. "It feels good to be a part of the school besides being in sports."

Lindsey Cummings likes being in Student Council "to help with school events such as spirit week. You get to be with a lot of good people, and it looks good on college applications."

Antoinett Hamilton said the absolute best part of student council is "helping with spirit week and working with other individuals to improve our school."

OUT to make a Difference

Why do you like being apart of the Student Council at CCHS?

"Because we do a lot of decorating and other things to try to increase the school's school spirit," Senior Sherilyn Phillips said.

"I think it is important to get the students opinion out into the school, and you also get leadership skills, and you learn to function as a group and not an individual," Emily Stone said.
