As the year fades out, the seniors look forward to some fun involving everyone's favorite moment of the year, prom. Not only is this the last prom for this year's seniors, but this is also the last prom at this school building. The decorations were placed, tables and chairs brought in, the DJ's song list was made, and it was soon time to have fun. At the beginning of prom, many students walked around and talked to their friends until the majority of the people got there, and the party started. The dance floor soon filled with all of the students, and the DJ got the crowd going with the music. The 2011 Prom King and Queen were announced towards the end of the night, and after they were crowned, they began the traditional king and queen dance. Overall, the night was a hit and a great way for the seniors to create lasting memories. As always, the Class of 2011 decided to go out with a bang.
