

aspiring [uh-spahyuhr]
-to long, aim, or seek ambitiously; be eagerly desirous, especially for something great or of high value

JAG

Leadership, conduct, and student empowerment was what JAG was all about! It's curriculum was reinforced through partnerships with businesses and community leaders. The program provided opportunities for students through internships, mentoring, guest speakers, and summer employment. JAG was a drop out prevention program that focused on student development, student leadership, and the breaking of student barriers. The program enhanced the lives of those who participated in various activities and events, as well as college tours. Many people thought JAG was just a group of unruly kids who needed guidance and attention, but it was much more than that. The main goal of JAG was to mold students into confident young adults, for they are the future leaders of America.

TOP Katie Warren, junior, said "JAG is a good opportunity to get on in life and do it the right way. The program teaches me life lessons, how to properly apply for a job, and the correct way to live my life."

BOTTOM LEFT Mr. Cyrus Birch, Advisor, said "JAG is a program that extends numerous opportunities for students who are striving for perfection." Mr. Birch is very enthusiastic as he talks to a student in the hallway.

BOTTOM RIGHT Mrs. Renee Jamison, Advisor, said "JAG shows true commitment, to teachers and students on how to develop great leadership skills. JAG is a very valuable program for _____ students." Mrs. Jamison has always worked hard to upturn the JAG program.