

TOP LEFT Chorus students spent all day working in the school's new auditorium preparing their voices for the dedication performance.

TOP RIGHT The Silver Notes sang out as they performed their tune, "Under the Boardwalk". Sophomore Tina Zhou felt very proud of her fellow students and was glad they worked so hard on this performance.

BOTTOM RIGHT Freshman Tyoisha Carrington is intently working with senior Trevor Hudson on the piano. Trevor stated, "Since freshman year, I have integrated what I have learned from chorus to teach myself how to play the organ and the piano."

THE SILVER NOTES

For many of the new Chorus students, the Dedication Performance was their first. Freshman Jarred McCoy said, "I was ecstatic because this was my first performance, and we have been practicing since the second week of school."

was studying music theory and music lyrics in their computer lab. Mrs. Drawdy had encouraged many of her students to use music theory to further benefit themselves on how to read lyrics.

Senior Andrew Judy says, "I felt awesome during the performance because I never get nervous." The CCHS singers sang one of their newest songs at the Dedication Performance and used choreography as an extra.
