

fluent- [floo-uh'nt]

-spoken or written with ease

TOP Junior Kristin Roberts said, "A study tactic I use is flashcards to learn the new words." She learns better when she uses flashcards than when she looks over the words in her notebook.

TOP LEFT "I chose to learn a foreign language, because it will help me get into a college," said Sophomore Alexandra Avant. She isn't sure what college she wants to go to yet.

TOP RIGHT Freshman Rachel Saxon said, "My foreign language ability is a five, but it's getting better throughout the semester." She is one of many that is still learning the Spanish language.

Languages

Bonjour les amis! Hola amigos! Hello friends! Two different language classes are offered here, Spanish and French. Sophomore Katie Buckler said, "I wanted to learn a foreign language because it's interesting." Having a foreign language class will give a sense of security when in another country. If you took three classes of either language, you could get an Honor's Diploma. In Spanish and French, they experimented with the native foods and explored their culture. Learning another language was a great opportunity to exert yourself into the community and other cultures.

