

honorable- [on-er-uh-buh]
-worthy of honor; and high respect

NJROTC

"Are you human? No, we are beast you have made us beast. We will not walk, we will not talk, we will not gather the night. But instead we will dress right, dress right, dress." This is the chant that the Unarmed Drill Team does before they begin their routine. Here at the high school, our NJROTC is a very well organized and successful program. The NJROTC does many activities, things such as drill meets, color guard for the football games and many other home sports. They celebrate the Navy and Marines' birthday. For this occasion they will perform special ceremonies. They will also do Annual Military Inspections and an awards night. The program has different teams, such as Armed Drill team, Unarmed Drill team, Orientairn team, Color Guard, Rifle team, Athletic team and many more. A lot of the cadets who join NJROTC either have a dream of being in the military or they just wanted to try something new. Cadet Glotavia Morris says, "I joined NJROTC to try something new, but my favorite thing about the program is the challenge. I love the challenge and the competition, I also learned how to be a better leader, and it teaches you how to be a leader in the world." So are you ready to be a leader?

TOP Senior Ebony Addison and her escort sophomore Cadet William Jackson at home coming, after Ebony was announced Miss Homecoming. William said, "I joined NJROTC because I want to join the Marines. I also learn a lot in NJROTC, I've learned discipline, respect, honor and our values which are honor, courage, and commitment."

BOTTOM LEFT Freshman Cadet Khallia Montroy is driving a boat on a Coast Guard field trip she went on with NJROTC. Khallia said, "While we were on the trip, I got to drive the boat, like just for fun. It was really awesome!"

BOTTOM RIGHT Freshman Cadet Edouard Washington "EJ" is standing at attention listening to Commander. EJ said, "My favorite things to do in NJROTC are PT, drills, and training. It's something new and it is really interesting."